RUSH BRITISH AID TO FRANCE AFTER RUMOR OF PEACE TALK

SENATORS WARN THAT WAR BLUFF MAY BE CALLED

Democrats Lead Cry to Gag Agitators.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Senator Wheeler [top] and Senator Holt.

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Half a dozen Democratic senators rose on the senate floor today and demanded a cessation of warmongering and threatening speeches by public officials, from President Roosevelt down. If it is not stopped, they warned, the bluff will be called and the United States will not be prepared for war.

[The house yesterday passed a bill appropriating 1 billion 706 million dollars for the army and navy. The vote was 401 to 1. This boosts expenditures for the armaments program at this session to more than 5 billion dollars. Details on page 11.]

The senate noninterventionists came to life, suddenly and vigorously, after remaining aloof during two weeks of almost daily war mongering harangues by Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] and Senator Josh Lee [D., Okla.]—two New Deal shock troopers. Obviously alarmed by the trend toward war, they accepted the challenge, which they attributed by implication to the Roosevelt administration.

Ready to Bolt Party.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], warning the American people to wake up, served notice that, "If it becomes necessary to break with the Democratic party, I shall break with it if it is going to be a war party." He said he would not support "any candidate for President of the United States who is going to try to get us into this war."

Senator Rush D. Holt [D., W. Va.] and Senator D. Worth Clark [D., Idaho] assailed President Roosevelt's indorsement, at his press conference yesterday, of full page war propaganda advertisments purchased in leading newspapers thruout the country by the self-styled Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. The Idaho senator called this an un-American activity, and recommended it for investigation by the house committee on un American activities, whose chairman, Representative Martin Dies [D., Tex.], was on the senate floor.

Denounces "Stab in Back" Talk.

Senator Millard E. Tydings [D., Md.], who supported the administration's arms embargo repealer last fall for the purpose of aiding the allies, joined others in denouncing President Roosevelt's speech accusing Premier Mussolini of stabbing France in the back.

Senator Tydings observed that the business of making war is not a one way street, agreeing with Senator Holt that bluffing may cause others to declare war on us.

"I believe it is unwise for us to indulge in remarks which are calculated to breed international ill will when we have not the punch to back up those remarks in the event our bluff may be called," said Senator Tydings.

Another incident which elicited expressions of amazement or incredulity during the war intervention debate was a radio broadcast last night by Edwin C. Hill, a commercial commentator.

Talk of Declaring War.

Senator Holt said Hill opened his broadcast with the statement that President Roosevelt had discussed the question of getting this country into the European war with certain in-

Fifth Column Quiz Hits 350 in Canal Zone

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PANAMA CITY, June 12.—About 350 European born aliens, mostly Germans, who have been working in the Panama Canal Zone, have been sifted out thus far in an intensive search for possible fifth column elements. Army and navy intelligence officers now are waiting a decision from Washington, D. C., on what to do with such aliens.

The officers in charge are reluctant merely to send them out of the Canal Zone, altho it is recognized that some of them may be legitimate refugees from Germany.

Hundreds on Pacific Side.

The investigation revealed that hundreds of these aliens had been employed on the Pacific side of the canal and many others on the Atlantic side. Some worked in barber shops and army post exchanges and commissaries, while others were working on the fortifications proper.

Military authorities are saying nothing as the investigation proceeds, but long lines of civilian employés are to be seen daily outside the guarded headquarters on Quarry Heights. Staff officers examine their passports and other credentials and subject them to thoro examinations.

Soldiers Won't Discuss It.

The lips of all soldiers are sealed. They won't discuss the matter at all.

All Panama continues to talk excitedly of the possibility of a fifth column movement here, asserting that blocking of the canal would be of advantage to the totalitarian powers, while the allies want it kept open. Italians are regarded critically.

Battle of France Won, Nazis Claim

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

(Maps on back page.)

BERLIN, June 12.—The "battle for France" is practically won, Germans declared tonight. With the mighty offensive rolling ever closer to Paris, the German radio uttered this warning:

"Paris must choose. We can only point to Rotterdam and Warsaw and what happened to those cities when they refused to surrender."

Tens of thousands of the German troops already could see the Eiffel tower in Paris, it was said.

Take 20,000 Prisoners.

The Seine and the Marne have been crossed by the Germans, thus threatening Paris and its garrisons with encirclement from the west and east. Other German divisions on the central front were smashing within a few miles of Paris along the Oise river.

Rouen and Rheims have been taken, the Germans announced, and at St. Valery-en-Caux, on the English channel, 20,000 allied prisoners were captured. Six generals—five French and one British—capitulated along with the 20,000 men.

The amount of war booty falling to the Germans was incalculable, the high command stated.

The German push in the Champagne district, which has advanced beyond Rheims and the Suippes river, is threatening the Maginot line from the rear.

Artillery Opens Fire.

On the upper Rhine heavy German artillery blasted away at the French, perhaps as a prelude to a new German attack in the south. The front on the upper Rhine extends from Karlsruhe to the Swiss frontier.

At Château-Thierry, where Americans helped defend French soil 22 years ago, the French were alone this time and the German steamroller roared on over the Marne northeast of Paris.

After a fierce bombardment by artillery and Stukas [dive bombers], which set Château-Thierry afire, German infantry and sappers crossed the river in rubber boats, both at Château-Thierry and farther west at Charly.

Compiegne Occupied.

The Nazis occupied Compiegne, 40 miles northeast of Paris, where on Nov. 11, 1918, German army emissaries signed the armistice ending the world war. The monument which the French erected to commemorate that day now is in German hands. It reads "Here Died the Criminal Arrogance of the German Empire."

To the southeast of Compiegne the Germans captured Villers-Cotterets, from where Marshal Ferdinand Foch launched his counterattack in the summer of 1918.

South of Rheims, which the Germans tried in vain to capture during the world war, scores of French tanks were reported to have been destroyed by Stukas. At other points German antiaircraft batteries destroyed seven tanks. German antiaircraft guns, especially those of 88 millimeter bore, have proved an accurate and highly effective weapon against tanks.

Seine River Crossed.

On the German right wing, the lower Seine was crossed at several points, the high command claimed. This German group, which is attempting to encircle Paris from the west, presumably is under the command of Gen. Georg von Kuechler, who commanded the right German wing in the offensive in Belgium.

A great part of the 60 French divisions which were massed to meet the German drive from the north are believed to be either killed, wounded, taken prisoner, or encircled.

Concerning the capture of the 20,000 men and six generals at St. Valery-en-Caux, the Germans reported this contingent tried to embark in transport ships but that its escape was foiled by German bombers. These planes are reported to have sunk seven troop transports and to have damaged 10 others, including ships up to 15,000 tons.

BRITISH TROOPS IN EAST INDIES, JAPANESE HEAR

TOKIO, June 13, Thursday (AP).—The newspaper Nichi Nichi today reported in a dispatch from Surabaya, Dutch East Indies, that 2,000 British troops had landed in the East Indies as a result of a request for protection by the islands.

Both the Netherlands legation and the British embassy here denied the report.

At the same time the Japanese foreign office received a report that a Netherlands naval plane had machine gunned a Japanese fishing boat off Gaspar Island, near the Marshall Islands in the South Pacific.

Raid Shelter for 20 Million Now Ready, Commons Told

LONDON, June 12 (AP).—Splinter and blast-proof shelters have been provided for 20,000,000 Britons, Sir John Anderson, minister of home defense, told the house of commons today. Shelters for factories and mines, he said, are nearly complete.

LONDON POURS MEN, TANKS, AND GUNS INTO FIGHT

Churchill Confers with Ally's Chiefs.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 13, Thursday.—Britain today poured guns, tanks, and men across the English channel to help hard pressed France halt the German advance.

"Every available man, rifle, gun, and tank is being sent," said the Daily Mail.

Thousands of troops were taken across the channel yesterday.

[Officials in Washington, D. C., last night interpreted Britain's pouring of men and materials into France as a move to forestall any possible surrender by that nation and to strengthen Premier Reynaud's determination to save the republic. See story in column to the right.]

Canadian Division Ready.

Among the reinforcements are British and Polish veterans of the campaign in Norway. Canada's first division was reported ready for service.

The entire British press stressed the urgency of rushing all possible help to France, even untrained and incompletely equipped divisions. The Times declared, "The defense of Paris is the defense of England; it is the defense ot civilization; it must not be allowed to fail."

Churchill Sees King.

It was disclosed that the prime minister was accompanied on his trip to France by War Minister Anthony Eden and Gen. John Dill, chief of the imperial general staff. They conferred for two days with Reynaud, Gen. Maxime Weygand, allied commander in chief, and Marshal Henri Petain.

One result of the conferences among the British and French leaders was said to have been a decision for unrestricted pooling of all army, naval, aerial, economic, and financial resources of the two nations for the fight against the Germans and the Italians.

French Plead for Aid.

Prior to Churchill's trip to France Gen. Charles de Gaulle, French undersecretary of war, visited London. During De Gaulle's visit a broadcast over the British radio by leading French personalities said that immediate aid was essential if France were to be saved.

De Gaulle at the time said France had to have more tanks and fighter aircraft.

REPORT REYNAUD BLOCKS PROPOSAL TO QUIT FIGHTING

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ambassador Bullitt.

Washington, D. C., June 12.—William C. Bullitt, American ambassador to France, has advised the state department that the conclusion of a separate peace with Adolf Hitler has been under consideration by France, it was authoritatively learned tonight.

It was not known exactly when President Roosevelt received Bullitt's message, but it was before the Italian declaration of war, and the information has been in the President's hands for several days.

Bullitt was said to have reported that only one man stood in the way of French surrender—surrender on the ground that further resistance against Nazi mechanized death was hopeless.

Reynaud Stands Alone.

He was Paul Reynaud, premier of France, who replaced Edouard Daladier in the office last March.

At a recent meeting of his cabinet as the Germans neared Paris, Bullitt reported, Reynaud found that he alone favored continuance of the struggle. His colleagues, it was reported, voted to abandon their ally, Great Britain, and make the best peace possible.

Further resistance, the army general staff was said to have agreed, was without hope of success, because of France's inability to manufacture the defensive arms she needed or get them from Britain or the United States in time to make a defensive stand.

Withhold Attack on Italy.

This fact, military experts said, explained France's failure to launch an immediate attack against Italy on the latter's entrance into the war.

The information from France also explained, it was said, the Washington administration's drive to extend aid to the allies in surplus planes and arms, as well as those on order, and indications that it soon will make credits available.

Bullitt's report on the state of affairs in France was being closely guarded by the state department in the hope that a miracle might yet save France.

King Leopold's Letter.

At the same time it was reliably reported that President Roosevelt is holding secret the contents of the letter he received from King Leopold of Belgium explaining the latter's surrender to Germany because publication of the document might have an adverse effect on the allied armies.

The letter is reported to be a factual record of what the Belgian leader termed failure of France and Britain to give Belgium proper support. Leopold is said to have listed dates of his demands on the allies.

King Leopold on May 28 gave the order to Belgian soldiers to cease fighting and yield to the Germans.

FRENCH BATTLE 3 BIG THRUSTS OF HITLER ARMY

Battle Rages Near Chateau-Thierry.

BULLETIN.

BASEL, Switzerland, June 13, Thursday (A. P.).—The French shelled German forts on the Rhine, north of Basel, thru the early morning at half hour intervals today, using flares and machine gun tracer bullets to light up their objectives across the river.

(Maps on back page.)

TOURS, France, June 12 (A. P.).—German troops crossed the Marne at Chateau-Thierry in a storm of fire tonight, and other forces struck down from the north to within 20 miles of the heart of Paris.

They pushed forward on the capital in three main thrusts and completed almost half of the ring about it, swinging from the Seine on the west, to Persan-Beaumont and Senlis on the north, and, on the east, down to Chateau-Thierry—the field where American marines helped break another German advance of 22 years ago.

Heavy Battle at Rheims.

Into a mighty battle to take Rheims, above the Marne, the Nazis threw a whole mechanized army corps numbering 80,000 men or more and about 3,000 tanks, armored cars, and motorcycles armed with machine guns.

The French did not acknowledge the loss of Rheims, which the Germans claim, but they did concede that some Nazi forces had swept past it and across the Marne at Chateau-Thierry.

German efforts along the Seine likewise were spectacular. They put on all possible pressure from Rouen to Vernon in an effort to enlarge a bridgehead they had established on the south side of the river.

Claim Invader Is Held.

In that area the French high command declared the invaders were being held in the region of Pacy sur Eure and Evreux.

German scouting parties, however, were acknowledged to have struck off from the main body northwest toward Caudebec, which is only about 30 miles from the vital French port of Le Havre.

Between the Oise and Ourcq rivers Nazi advance units attacked violently around Crepy-en-Valois and Betz—a town some 30 miles northeast of Paris.

Planes Speed Attacks.

French aviation was declared to have returned five times to the battle area during the day.

The region between the Aisne and Meuse rivers was reported quiet.

The Germans had taken Rouen, the port of Paris on the Seine, and by their own claims had cut off and captured 20,000 French troops at St. Valery, 20 miles down the English channel coast from Dieppe.

French Fight New Battle of Chateau-Thierry.

As the guns roared along the Paris front word came up from the south that the Italians, with 60 or 70 divisions [perhaps 900,000 or 1,000,000 men] mobilized, had blown up a bridge at Vinti Mille on the French border in the Alps.

Raids by Day and Night.

A French air ministry communique tonight said:

"Our heavy and lighter bomber squadrons have operated day and night on the back areas of the enemy, considerably embarrassing his maneuvers. Numerous convoys, freight yards and places of troop concentrations have notably been attacked by bombs. A great quantity of explosives was dropped in these attacks.

"One of our heavy bombers, attacked by a strong formation of German fighters, succeeded in bringing down in flames two Messerschmitt 110s and in heavily damaging a third.

"In addition, our heavy bomber squadrons penetrated deeply into enemy territory and carried out numerous bombardments of military objectives, factories, and railways."

A solitary enemy plane was shot down by antiaircraft guns today in the region of Toulon, French naval base on the Mediterranean coast, after it had caused an air raid alarm.

As the German army advanced, trying to complete a vast circling movement around Paris, the military governor ordered all employés of the public services in the Seine-et-Oise and Seine-et-Marne departments to remain at their posts. These are areas immediately west and east of Paris.

Raid Cologne Objectives.

LONDON, June 12 (AP).—The British air force bombed military objectives at Cologne and elsewhere in western Germany yesterday, the air ministry announced tonight.

Also, the air force in a 10 minute action, supporting the allies' armies resisting the right wing of the German thrust, dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs at the rate of over 100 a minute.

The raid, executed yesterday, was one of a series against German concentrations southeast of Rouen. The air ministry said convoys were wrecked, mechanized columns scattered, and road junctions blocked.

The announcement said 20 German armored vehicles received a full salvo of bombs and that 10 big tanks were enveloped in smoke and debris when heavy bombs fell around them.

The announcement said that other targets "successfully attacked" included an antiaircraft battery near Les Andelys and a mechanized column at Racheville.

Italian Air Liner Arrives in Lisbon Despite War

LISBON, Portugal, June 12 (AP).—Italy's commercial air line plane arrived at Lisbon on schedule from Rome this afternoon with two passengers in spite of the war in the Mediterranean. One passenger was Henry Fainsilber, secretary of the American legation in Berlin, who is en route to the United States.

FRANCE ORDERS POLICE TO LIST ITALIANS, 17 TO 60

Must Declare Loyalty or Be Interned.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOURS, France, June 12.—All male Italians in France between the ages of 17 and 60 years—the age of military service—today were ordered to report to the police before June 14. Unless they make a declaration of loyalty to France they are liable to internment.

Many/Italian organizations hostile to Premier Mussolini already have proclaimed loyalty to France.

There were reports today of new hostile demonstrations against Italian consulates in various places. Some Italian grocery stores in Paris were stoned.

Property Sequestered.

It was announced that all Italian property in France will be sequestered, in accordance with a decree law of last September.

Many members of the diplomatic corps in Paris are retiring to Tours. The Spanish and several South American envoys arrived here today. They passed points last night which were bombarded by the Germans.

Territorial [national guard] forces composed of men over 60 years and of youths 16 and 17 who are under the military age are being organized for civilian defense. They will guard against parachutists. All along the roads leading to the south are posted "minute men" with old rifles—which, despite their age are accurate to 200 yards.

Refugees Stream to South.

Refugees streamed to the south all thru the day. There were many in cars and many on bicycles. Among them were many public service employés, tho they had been ordered to remain on duty in Paris.

Meanwhile, in Paris, work still is being carried on in the munitions factories and other plants, altho many workmen have left. There has been no general evacuation order for Paris. It was reported that the feverishness with accompanied the departure of the government on Monday and many civilians on Tuesday has ended. Restrictions which used to make Wednesday a meatless day were forgotten.

HINT REDS TO BOOST FORCES IN LITHUANIA UNDER SECRET DEAL

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 12 (AP).—Swedish correspondents at Kaunas, Lithuania, reported today that Lithuanian Prime Minister Merkys returned from Moscow amid strong indications the country has concluded a secret agreement by which Soviet Russia will vastly increase her military force in that Baltic state.

The soviet thereby would seem to be strengthening her outposts against rapidly expanding Germany. Russia already had large garrisons in Lithuania, established there after negotiating a mutual assistance pact with the little Baltic states last autumn. The soviet garrisons in Lithuania, Estonia, and Latvia are approximately equal to the armed forces of the three countries themselves.

ENVOY BULLITT LOSES HIS FRENCH CHATEAU TO WAR

PARIS, June 12 (AP).—American Ambassador William C. Bullitt lost his white marble Chantilly chateau to the war today when the spacious gardens of the estate became a battleground.

Bullitt was in Paris at the time the fighting engulfed the Chantilly region, just north of Paris, and he announced that he would remain here, for the time being at least.

The fate of Bullitt's place was the same that befell the villa of Ambassador Anthony J. Drexel Biddle near Warsaw last September.

NONBELLIGERENT IS A TERM NEW TO FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Nonbelligerency — the term by which Italy described its position in the European war until a few days ago—is new to international law. Kenneth W. Colegrove, professor of international law at Northwestern university, said last night it was a "totalitarian invention" designed to let a country that was not fighting carry out acts not recognized as proper for neutrals.

"The international jurists have held there are only three states for countries to be in—war, peace, or neutrality," he explained. "The duties of neutrals are clearly defined. Nonbelligerency is a convenient method of circumventing neutrality."

He added that the United States had never adopted the idea it was a nonbelligerent, but has held it is still within the bounds of neutrality. The rigidity of these bounds, he said, was considered relaxed because Germany had violated so many pacts to which the United States was signatory.

JUNIOR CITIZENS REVEAL IDEALS AND ASPIRATIONS

Honor Students Parade Before W-G-N 'Mike.'

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

A column of Citizens of Tomorrow marched past a W-G-N microphone last night and told a nation-wide radio audience of their hopes, ambitions, and ideals.

In the column were 44 of the most promising students of Chicagoland—boys and girls from 35 communities in the five surrounding states who had been named to the Citizens of Tomorrow program's roll of honor because of their notable accomplishments—selected by their high school principals in coöperation with local correspondents of THE TRIBUNE.

They were special guests on a Flag day broadcast of Citizens of Tomorrow, the last of the spring series of programs presented by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE as a salute to the nation's high school students. The broadcast was carried over the coast to coast network of the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Tell Desire to Serve.

Several hundred students from Wright Junior college and their leader, Dean William H. Conley, and 25 students from the Alpha, Mich., High school graduating class also were studio guests. Wright was the subject of the special salute last night.

An exuberant yet earnest group, the honor students disclosed a will to lead lives of usefulness and service to their fellow men. Many told of aspirations to become physicians, nurses, teachers, and others emphasized a desire to become good citizens.

Richard Anderson of Kenosha, Wis., highest ranking Boy Scout in the state and already a reporter on a daily newspaper, announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1960. He will be 38 then. Richard Walker of Watseka, Ill., said he expects to be the Democratic standard bearer.

The honor roll students were introduced by Philip Maxwell, master of ceremonies, with the aid of Announcer Pierre Andre.

Col. McCormick Speaks.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, spoke during the broadcast. [The text of Col. McCormick's speech is elsewhere on this page.]

Rousing cheers and songs were provided by the Wright students. Led by Erhardt Bergstrasser, the college mixed chorus sang. Ed Sprague, as "Charley Jones," told the story of Wright's accomplishments and Dorothy Gregory, who plays the rôle of Jerry, read Wilbur Nesbitt's inspiring poem, "Your Flag and My Flag." The broadcast concluded with the singing of the national anthem.

School Officials Introduced.

Afterwards, Mr. Maxwell introduced Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools; Miss Helen Howe, supervisor of music, and Harold Kent, director of the Radio council of the board of education.

Attilio Baggiore, W-G-N-Mutual operatic tenor, sang, and then the students witnessed the movie "Trees to Tribunes." Finally the honor students and selected Wright students toured Tribune tower.

The students had arrived in Chicago early in the day and were welcomed at La Salle hotel headquarters by Avery Brundage, head of the American Olympics committee. They were luncheon guests of the Junior Association of Commerce.

After posing for a group picture at Tribune tower, they were taken on a sightseeing tour in a Chicago Motor coach double-decker bus under auspices of the Grey Lines Sight Seeing tours. They were to have been taken on a sightseeing trip in T. W. A. planes, but these flights were canceled because of the weather. The trips will be made this morning for those students who stayed over. The Chicago Woman's club gave a supper tea for the students before last night's broadcast.

VARGAS' SPEECH CALLED BID FOR HOME SUPPORT

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 12 (AP).—The speech yesterday by President Getulio Vargas of Brazil, in which he praised "vigorous new regimes"—ostensibly Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy—was interpreted by informed quarters today as an attempt to propitiate both democratic Pan-Americanism and the absolutist Brazilian army.

"Vargas, dictator of Brazil for 10 years, is playing the rôle of a man walking a tight rope with democracy on one end and dictatorship a vague promise on the other," said one well-informed observer.

Two South American countries meanwhile took precautions against possible fifth columnists. Guatemala strengthened an existing ban on political activities and propaganda among foreigners by prohibiting naturalized Guatemalans from maintaining foreign political affiliations. Authorities at Parana, Argentina, began registration and identification of all Germans.

Col. McCormick Speaks to Citizens of Tomorrow.

A message of hope was given to the youth of America last night by Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. He spoke on a Flag day broadcast of the Citizens of Tomorrow over W-G-N and the nationwide network of the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Col. McCormick asserted that despite the war in Europe, the new generation of Americans may face the future with greater assurance than their forebears.

"Those who would subordinate American to foreign interests," he said, "are more noisy than numerous."

Text of His Address.

The text of Col. McCormick's address follows:

"How one good idea leads to other and better ideas is exemplified by our relationship to the public schools. Our first idea, conceived many years ago, was to introduce the R. O. T. C. into the public schools. Long after that, came the idea to give medals to outstanding cadets. This brought us into direct contact with the R. O. T. C. members, and led to the thought that we might be of service to the entire public school system of Chicagoland by means of radio broadcasts.

"I have attended, or listened to, every broadcast that Phil Maxwell has conducted. Looking on and listening with increasing interest and profit, I have been impressed by a variety of observations.

"I am very sure that the high school pupils of my time could not have staged the shows which every one of your high schools has performed so creditably.

Tells Spread of Spirit.

"You appear to have developed college maturity. Your cheers, your cheer leaders, your songs, your enthusiasm, coöperation, and mutual assistance within the school, and friendly, healthy rivalry with other schools, are like the Yale spirit of my college days.

"All these virtues originated at Yale in the 1880's, and were brought to the other colleges by innumerable football coaches some 40 years ago, and have passed into the high schools. I think, Dean Conley, we may say that this is what sold education to the students.

"You are told that you are going into a troubled world; that your future is less assured than was the future of your forebears. Do not believe that for an instant. From the revolutionary war, each generation was born into an increasingly ominous cloud of discord until the one upon which fell the calamity of the civil war.

"For many years after that disastrous episode, the country was divided by bitter memories which have, thank God, entirely disappeared before your generation.

Nation Now Nearly United.

"Until 20 years ago, each generation had to absorb floods of immigrants, who could not understand our institutions, and who often did not know our language. We were, to a large extent, an aggregation of polyglot races. Now we have an almost united nation. Those who would subordinate American to foreign interests are far more noisy than numerous.

"You come into a world that has overcome the plagues that decimated your ancestors. You come into a country that has overcome hunger; that has overcome suffering from cold; that is beginning to overcome suffering from heat; that has supplanted darkness with light; that has given mechanical transportation to the many; that has solved, or is solving, all scientific problems.

Sacrifices in Vain, He Says.

"Twenty-three years ago two million Americans went to the war in Europe. Thousands of my division were killed; I am in constant contact with the maimed, who are dragging out painful lives, broken by wars, and they are more than half of us.

"Our sacrifices were utterly in vain. That is why I am so determined that this fate shall not come to you. The bawlers for war have not been to war, and do not intend to go to the war they are trying to incite.

"You come into an age which has experienced the false doctrines of communism and Fascism, which have engulfed Europe in utter ruin, so you will be able to resist the dangerous teachings, acceptance of which enfeebled England and France.

"The generations that preceded you have triumphed in science and in economics. In politics and government they have not done so well. They have let the crackpots rule. The problem you must solve is an administration of government that does not destroy civilization."

CITY'S RED CROSS GIFTS RISE PAST TOTAL OF $750,000

Chicago contributions to the American Red Cross war relief fund crossed the $750,000 mark yesterday coincident with an appeal from Nelson Jay, head of the Red Cross committee in France, for help for surgeons of the French armies.

American surgeons, it was announced, are to be flown overseas later this week aboard one of the Clipper planes.

James B. Forgan, head of the Chicago Red Cross chapter, announced receipt of a contribution of $14,546 from Montgomery Ward & Co., its executives, and employés.

COURT CANCELS CITIZENSHIP OF RED SECRETARY

San Francisco, Cal., June 12 (AP).—Federal Judge Michael J. Roche today ordered cancellation of the citizenship of William Schneiderman, 34 years old, California secretary of the communist party.

Judge Roche held Schneiderman belonged to an organization which "taught and advocated the overthrow of the government by force and violence" and that he had obtained his citizenship illegally. Schneiderman was naturalized in Los Angeles in 1927.

Frank Hennessy, United States district attorney, said previously that if the government obtained cancellation of the citizenship he would seek to deport Schneiderman to his native Russia.

ON the occasion of Mother's Day we ventured to pay homage to the many wonderful mothers it has been our privilege to serve . . . and to remind "our listners" of the precious opportunity offered by Mother's Day for tangible expressions of gratitude . . . and love.

A similar plea seems now in order for Father's Day . . . perhaps it could most appropriately be voiced by some insurance company whose experience with thousands of hard-working, self-sacrificing fathers would testify that a father's love is something rather special . . . too.

So . . . if you have a Father you want to remember . . . and honor . . . next Sunday . . . let his gift be something truly worth-while.

If you buy it here . . . you can be pretty sure it will be welcomed . . . because the respect in which this store is held . . . by men like your father . . . will help to convey the respect . . . and affection . . . you want to show him.

BRITISH ROUND UP SUSPECTS IN '5TH COLUMN' SCARE

Lords Demand Further Stringent Measures.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 12.—As a result of the spy and "fifth column" fears prevalent in Great Britain, a number of men and women are daily being arrested and sentenced to imprisonment for various offenses.

James Bedeker, a South African, was arrested while sitting on a roadside near Birmingham because he looked like an Italian. He was found to possess ammunition, maps, and newspaper clippings dealing with espionage. Bedeker will be tried in the next two weeks.

Photograph Airport; Fined.

Two young men, one of them an employé of the airport, were fined at Bristol for taking photographs of the Bristol airport. Flying Officer Frost was questioned by police because his son photographed the barometer outside a building.

A woman named Yates was held by Bath police on the denunciation of her neighbor, who heard the woman say that she didn't care whether Adolf Hitler came to Britain or not. It was alleged that the woman in 1938 sent a letter to Hitler.

Egidio Offredi, a British born Italian, was sentenced at Canterbury to a month is jail because he questioned an aircraft factory employé about his work.

An American student, Mark Hornstein, arrested in London because he was out after the curfew hour, explained that he had been playing bridge and hadn't noticed the time. The court accepted his excuse and discharged him.

Demand Further Action.

Demands for further suppression of the "fifth column" in Britain were made in the house of lords. Viscount Elibank, opening the debate, urged the government to purge the British Broadcasting corporation and charged that Prof. Frederick Ogilvie, director general of the corporation, is a pacifist. The BBC personnel, according to Elibank, includes aliens, Britishers with German wives, pacifists, communists, and even conscientious objectors. He advocated that all of these should be dismissed immediately.

His charges against Ogilvie brought a rebuke from Lord Salisbury, who announced that he had consulted the BBC chief and had his authority to issue a denial. The Duke of Devonshire, government spokesman, assured that all precautions were being taken to weed out undesirables from the BBC. The debate wound up with Elibank publicly withdrawing his charges against Ogilvie.

It was announced that starting Sunday church bells in Britain would not be rung except as an emergency alarm to signal an invasion by parachute troops.

VERDICT IS MURDER, SUICIDE.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder and suicide yesterday in the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Uhring. Uhring, an unemployed carpenter, shot his wife and himself May 14 in their home at 2046 North Keeler avenue. Mrs. Uhring died Tuesday night in St. Anne's hospital.

SPAIN SAYS IT'S NONBELLIGERENT IN EUROPE'S WAR

Paper Asks More African Colonies.

BY MAURICE ENGLISH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, June 13, Thursday.—Spain tonight declared itself a nonbelligerent in the European war, reiterating previous official declarations by the Franco government.

The government published the following decree:

"It is made kown to all the following decision:

"War having been extended to the Mediterranean by Italy's entry into the war against England and France, the government has declared nonbelligerency in the conflict."

The word "neutrality" was not used in the decree. This was in line with the attitude taken by the Spanish press of the last few days.

Demand Million Miles.

A demand for possession of 3,100,000 square kilometers [about 1,196,910 square miles] of African territory, was made by the newspaper Alcazar in an article entitled: "New Spain and Colonial Problems."

"Whatever may be the end of the present conflict, the great powers should do us justice," it was asserted. "If we are not insignificant as enemies, neither are we isolated as formerly."

The Alcazar article was accompanied by maps showing French and British holdings in Africa compared with Spanish possessions which, it is asserted, are largely desert. The article was the last in a series which surveyed the history of Spanish colonies in Africa and argued that they should be larger. It concluded with the phrase: "The hour is approaching for those who have a right to speak and demand."

Press Quotes Lloyd George.

Newspapers quoted a statement by David Lloyd George, Welsh Liberal, in which he blamed former French Premier Edouard Daladier of France and former British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Britain for not helping the Spanish Loyalists to victory in the Spanish civil war. Most comments echoed the tone of Arriba, the Falangist [Fascist] organ, which quoted Lloyd George as saying there are now "a million Falangist soldiers at the entry of the Mediterranean" and commented: "The English have confessed their preferences. We also intend to demonstrate ours."

QUISLING, NORWEGIAN FASCIST, IS EJECTED FROM BRITISH ORDER

LONDON, June 12 (AP).—R. A. Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, announced in the house of commons today that Maj. Vidkun Quisling, Norwegian Fascist, has been removed from the Order of the British Empire.

Quisling, whose name in England has become a synonym for fifth columnist, was the chief Norwegian to welcome the German invaders of his homeland.

Butler explained to the commons that Quisling had been named an honorary commander of the order on Nov. 22, 1929, in recognition of services rendered the British government in Russia while Quisling was serving in Moscow on the Norwegian legation staff.

SWISS PREPARE TO PROTEST AIR RAID TO LONDON

Assert Bombs Were British Made.

BERNE, Switzerland, June 12 (AP).—Switzerland prepared a protest to Britain tonight over bombings of the Geneva and Lausanne region in which four Swiss were killed and 20 injured and serious damage was done to railroads and private property.

The government earlier announced that a check of bomb fragments showed them to be of British origin. Swiss generally took the bombing calmly.

A protest already had been made to France against a recent bombing in the Kreuzlingen area near Lake Constance and to Germany against frequent flights of battle planes over neutral Swiss soil. Ten German planes have been shot down or forced to land by the Swiss, while three Swiss died fighting the Germans.

This morning's bombardment of exclusive residential sections of Geneva and of a village near Lausanne apparently was due to a miscalculation by the aviators.

BRITAIN REACHES TIENTSIN ACCORD WITH JAPANESE

Settle Currency, Silver and Blockade Issues.

Agreement was reached between Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, the British ambassador, and Masayuki Tani, vice minister for Japanese foreign affairs, on the prolonged silver question at Tientsin, North China.

The accord also covers the question of the 11 months' Japanese blockade of the allied concessions in Tientsin, and the matter of circulation of Chinese currency.

Domei, Japanese news agency, said the French and Japanese also had reached a basic understanding on silver, but that settlement of minor details would take some time.

$12,000,000 in Storage.

The silver question revolves around silver to the extent of 12,000,000 United States dollars stored in the British and French concessions of Japanese occupied Tientsin for the central Chinese government.

Details of the prospective settlement were not announced, but it is believed it provides for the use of some $400,000 of the silver from the British concession for the purchase of Canadian and Australian wheat, to be distributed to North China flood sufferers thru a committee composed of British, Japanese, and French. The rest will be sealed in the British consulate.

Policing Issue Settled.

LONDON, June 12 (AP).—Official British circles today said an agreement had been reached between Britain and Japan on the "outstanding points relating to local issues at Tientsin, China."

Reuters, British news agency, stated the accord covered policing and silver and currency questions, according to a Japanese spokesman.

ONTARIO PREMIER HIT FOR WARNING OF NAZI ATTACK

OTTAWA, June 12 (AP).—C. G. Power, acting minister of national defense, said today that Ontario Premier Mitchell Hepburn's warning that Ontario might be attacked by Nazis from the United States could only cause confusion and turmoil among the people of the province when their energies are needed elsewhere.

The premier said in a statement at his home last night that provincial police had information that Nazi and Fascist sympathizers in the United States were ready to strike at Canada and awaited orders from "across the Atlantic."

Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe commented in the house of commons that the statement "is a sample of the kind of coöperation we are receiving in certain quarters."

Britain Confers with U. S. on Taking Refugees, Aliens

LONDON, June 12 (AP).—The duke of Devonshire, parliamentary secretary for the India office, told the house of lords today that the British are "in touch" with America on the question of taking refugees and enemy aliens as well as "other problems." "Shipping questions are involved," he said, "and events may take such a course that shipping may be wanted for other purposes than conveying refugees to America."

Miss Nonnie Bloomquist being greeted by parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Bloomquist of Peoria.

The Arthur Bloomquists of 11 Eastern avenue, Joliet, had a happy reunion in the Union station yesterday with their daughter, Miss Nonnie Bloomquist. Miss Bloomquist was one of the 700 Americans aboard the steamship Manhattan, which docked in New York Monday night. A handsome, blonde girl, 23 years old, she has been in Stockholm, Sweden, for the last two years, studying voice at the Upsala university. She was to have made her debut in concert at the Swedish capital in the fall. These are dark days for Sweden, Miss Bloomquist said. The country lives in hourly fear of invasion. At the Stockholm station, she related, she was apprehended as a German spy, but was freed after establishing her identity.

BRITISH TIGHTEN DEFENSES; BAN 'ALARMING' NEWS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 12.—Two orders in council issued tonight increase the military and police powers in this country. Any person found guilty of publishing a "report or statement relating to matters connected with the war which is likely to cause alarm or despondency" will be liable to a one month jail term and a fine of 50 pounds [about $187].

Under the second order, police and members of the fighting forces of all grades are given permission to search any premises, vehicles, vessel, aircraft, or unauthorized person in "protected areas." Until now the power of search was limited to police officers not lower than an inspector or commissioned officers in the forces. The order also extends to nine days the period in which any suspect may be detained in jail pending inquiries.

It also was announced tonight that the coast of England to a depth of 20 miles from the northern boundary of the East Riding district of Yorkshire to Land's End, a distance of about 1,000 miles, will become a new protected area. All aliens other than French must get special permission to enter or remain there.

To guard against German planes descending in Britain, farmers have been urged to build haystacks in the middle instead of in the corners of their fields to make landings dangerous, if not impossible.

JEWS HUNT WAY TO FIGHT NAZIS, LEADER CLAIMS

New York, June 12 (AP).—The majority of 100,000 American Jews of military age was described today as ready and willing to fight for the allies. They already are negotiating to do so with authorities in London, Paris, Ottawa and Washington, it was added.

Vladimir Jabotinsky, president, of the World New Zionist organization, made this statement at a press conference and said he believed the only barrier in the United States to a Jewish army—the neutrality act—soon will be changed.

"I believe American public opinion favors a change in the law which would facilitate enlistment of Americans with the allies," he declared.

Jabotinsky, who founded the Jewish battalions which fought with the British army in the last war, was seconded by Col. J. H. Patterson, retired British army officer who commanded the Jewish legion.

Jews would make good airmen, Col. Patterson said, adding: "The Germans can't think fast. If I were a Jew, I'd like nothing better than to see a Jewish air squadron over Berlin."

HUNT MISSING SCHOOLGIRL.

124 JAP PLANES DEAL CHUNGKING ITS WORST RAID

Cause 1,500 Casualties in 23 Minutes.

CHUNGKING, China, June 12 (AP).—In a 23 minute raid this afternoon 124 Japanese planes destroyed two-thirds of old Chungking city, provisional capital of China, and caused casualties probably numbering 1,500.

American missionaries said the havoc was the worst single devastation caused by Japanese bombers since the start of hostilities nearly three years ago, and probably was one of the worst ravages of a city in history. Between 800 and 900 demolition bombs were dropped.

Columns of black smoke poured from the stricken district after this second big raid in two days. A raid yesterday by 117 planes caused at least 50 casualties. One bomb fell within 30 yards of the American embassy.

New Offices Destroyed.

Offices of the German Trans-Ocean News agency were destroyed by fire, the building housing the Havas [French] and Tass [Soviet] news agencies was destroyed, and the Associated Press building was near collapse.

One bomb scored a direct hit on the air raid shelter in which Dr. Oliver Lockhart, director of the salt administration, was refuged. He was unhurt.

The total area bombed probably was about a mile square but because of the density of the population about 150,000, were left homeless.

First Aid to Victims.

Foreigners escaped. At the Methodist Union hospital center, W. A. McCurdy of Glens Falls, N. Y.; F. O. Stockwell of Dewey, Okla., and John Mathieson of Winnipeg, Canada, left dugouts to give first aid to victims.

It was emphasized that the old city housed no military objectives. Some expressed belief that Japan's sole aim was systematic destruction of the Chinese wartime capital.

The cathedral of the French Catholic mission was destroyed by bombs. The Methodist institutional church was bombed, and the Seventh Day Adventist church and the building occupied by the American British Union Bible society also were hit.

ITALY CUTS TIES WITH 4 NATIONS HELD BY HITLER

ROME, June 12.—Italy has severed diplomatic relations with Holland, Belgium, Norway, and Poland, it was learned today. Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, has informed the respective ministers and ambassadors of those countries of the irrevocable decision of the Italian government. So far as known, the reason advanced was that the governments of these countries are enemies of Germany, and Italy is Germany's ally.

This is not a declaration of war, it was stated, since Germany occupies the countries involved, and there is no question of waging war against them. The measure applies to Queen Wilhelmina's government and that of King Haakon in Great Britain, to the Belgian government of Hubert Pierlot and the Polish government of Gen. Wladislaw Sikorski in France.

Count Ciano is understood to have promised the envoys that their nationals will not be molested or put in concentration camps if they stay. Denmark is not included in this measure, since she has no government outside of Copenhagen. Luxemburg has the same status as Belgium.

NAZI AIR TACTICS TEACH VALUE OF GROUND STRAFING

U. S. Observers See Dive Bombing Strategy.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

New information concerning German air strategists' use of the Junkers Stuka dive bombers has become available as a result of observation of these craft in action by air attachés of the United States. These have been stationed with all the forces involved in the European conflict.

This new information indicates, according to air corps officers, that the American army's proposals to abandon the special ground-strafing technique and the special types of planes developed during the last 20 years under the designation of "attack" aviation, are premature. Lessons from the war in Europe show that the dive bombers and low-flying craft are important parts of any offensive.

Plane Carries Five Bombs.

The Stuka is a low-wing all metal monoplane with a 1,200 horse power V-12 engine. The airplane carries a pilot and a gunner, one 550 or 1,000 pound bomb beneath the fuselage and four lighter bombs near the wingtips. The pilot controls two fixed machine guns that fire outside the arc of the propeller. The gunner has one flexible gun that fires backward over the tail.

Reports have been that the pilots of these craft obtain accurate results because they are able to aim their bombs in a dive. It also was reported that the bombers usually came over at heights above 7,000 feet until they reached their targets. Then they rolled into vertical dives. These were held until within 1,000 feet or so of the ground when the bombs were released and the airplane pulled out of the dive.

Diving Tactics Changed.

But in France, Belgium and Holland the tactics were different, according to observers. The Stukas were hedge-hopped. They reached their objectives by a circuitous route, taking advantage of hills, forests, and the lay of the terrain to hide their approach.

Then as they came within a quarter mile of the target they zoomed up to 2,000 feet or more. There the ship was dipped into a steep dive and the bomb released when the target was in the sights. After the bomb was released the plane returned to hedge-hopping and proceeded to shoot up troops, material, or road traffic.

This description of the Stuka tactics, the air corps reports, is almost identically that of attack aviation. The American attack technique called for a stealthy approach, flight over the target at heights of not more than 50 feet, the dropping of bombs as the plane swept overhead and the use of from four to six machine guns thereafter on ground targets.

Find Heavy Bombs Needed.

The only difference is that American attack aviation confined its bombs to 100 pounders, or less. The Germans say that the heavy bombs are required to achieve results, and insist that the dive bombers are much more accurate than even low-altitude horizontal bombers.

The American attack ships were single-motored planes much like the Stukas in general lines. They were, however, not equipped with air brakes to check their speed in dives and consequently were never used as dive bombers. The Stukas have flaps and special brakes on the leading edges of their wings to limit their diving speed to 242 miles an hour.

ANNE EADIE.

More than 1,000 guests attended the 16th annual Cathedral ball for the benefit of Episcopal charity work last night in the Congress hotel. Miss Anne Eadie, selected as queen, was crowned by the Rt. Rev. Edwin J. Randall, suffragan bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago.

REPORT ITALIAN KING DELAYING ALPINE BOMBING

NICE, France, June 12 (AP).—The failure of Italy to bombard the French Alpine frontier gave credence tonight to a report that King Vittorio Emmanuel had insisted on a 48 hour period for civilians to be removed. The grace period expires at midnight tonight.

The Italian monarch insisted on this stipulation when he signed the declaration of war against Britain and France, unconfirmed reports here said. A continuous but orderly exodus of moderate size is under way along the Riviera between Nice and the Italian frontier. Shops are closing in Nice and some families have left. Towns closer to the frontier have been vacated altogether. Nice police were reported to have rounded up 600 Italians.

STUDENT FINED $6.

Rea Allison, 18 years old, 5700 Drexel avenue, a freshman at the University of Chicago, arraigned in Traffic court yesterday, paid $3 for failure to stop at a thru street, $2 for making an improper turn, and $1 for driving without lights. Allison was driving a friend's car when arrested near his home May 12.

44 MORE QUALIFY FROM THIS AREA FOR AIR TRAINING

Lieut. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commander of the 6th corps area, was notified from Washington yesterday that 44 more young men from Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin have been qualified as flying cadets and have been ordered to report June 26 at the Spartan School of Aeronautics in Tulsa, Okla., for three months of preliminary training.

Upon completion of their elementary courses, they will be sent to Randolph field in Texas, for three more months of training, thence to Kelly field in Texas, for a final three months. Then they will be commissioned as lieutenants in the air corps and transferred to regular duty.

SUSPEND BUDAPEST PAPER FOR ATTACKS AGAINST U. S. PEOPLE

BUDAPEST, June 12 (AP).—The Hungarian Nazi newspaper Magyarsag, which had declared that Americans would reëlect President Roosevelt to a third term because "they have the minds of children," was suspended today for one week by government action.

This action followed representations made to the foreign office by the American legation. Magyarsag also had asserted that Americans "believe in riches; therefore they believe in democracy."

BRITISH BOMBERS ATTACK ENEMY: AFRICA—NORWAY

Raid Military Objectives in Italian Cities.

LONDON, June 13, Thursday (AP)—Britain's air force struck at Germany and Italy last night on a front ranging from Africa to Norway.

It bombed the German front in France, points in Germany, military objectives in Turin and Genoa, Italy, and troops, ships, and airdromes in Africa.

10 Minutes: 1,000 Bombs.

A thousand bombs were dropped in 10 minutes on the German right wing in France. A bomber was shot down off England. In Africa planes attacked in Eritrea, the Red sea, Libya, and Ethiopia. The British claimed they hit a warship and two submarines at Tobruk, on the Libyan coast, and warships at Trondheim, Norway.

Malta Raided Again.

Enemy planes raided Malta, in the Mediterranean, for the ninth and tenth times this morning. In their eighth attack last night 30 civilians were killed and 30 wounded. Seven soldiers also were wounded.

Britain announced that Thialand [Siam] had signed separate treaties with Britain, France, and Japan, establishing a new safeguard for Britain's Singapore naval base.

ENVOYS OF THREE NATIONS ARRIVE IN SOVIET RUSSIA

MOSCOW, June 12 (AP).—The ambassadors of three belligerents arrived in Moscow this afternoon to strengthen relations with the soviet.

Sir Stafford Cripps and Erik Labonne, new envoys from Britain and France, arrived in the same plane. Italian Ambassador Dr. Augusto Rosso, former envoy to the United States, came by train.

Rosso, technically, had only been away "on leave." His departure, however, had coincided with the sudden leave taking of Nicolai Gorelchin, soviet ambassador-designate, from Rome last December when the Finnish war touched off antisoviet demonstrations in Rome. Gorelchin returned to Rome today.

She said she married McClung last January while he was making a personal appearance in Indianapolis. Police said they thought the actor was in Mexico.

BRITAIN DECIDES TO SEIZE ALL OF ITALY'S EXPORTS

LONDON, June 12.—The British government announced tonight its decision to seize immediately all Italian exports. This decision was taken by the privy council as an act of retaliation for Premier Mussolini's support of the German methods of warfare.

In a supplement to the London Gazette, which also contained a list of articles to be treated as contraband, it was stated the government had the "unquestionable right" to eize all Italian exports because "Italy by her actions has associated herself with Germany in the present war and thereby made herself a party to the method of waging war adopted by Germany."

The allies hesitated more than two months before deciding to seize German exports at the start of the war.

Fourth-fifths of Italy's prewar gasoline imports, much of its coal, iron, and steel and large quantities of food and other essential war materials came from beyond the Mediterranean.

EGYPT CUTS OFF DIPLOMATIC TIES WITH MUSSOLINI

CAIRO, Egypt, June 13, Thursday, (AP).—The Italian minister to Egypt, Serafino Mazzolini, and the legation staff were handed their passports today after Egypt severed diplomatic relations with Italy.

Mazzolini was asked to nominate a country to take charge of Italian interests here. It was understood that the Egyptian minister in Rome must leave Italy before the Italian diplomats are permitted to leave Egypt.

Parliament had approved the government's policy of severing relations with Italy in conformity with the British-Egyptian treaty of friendship and alliance of Aug. 26, 1936. Similar action was taken against Germany last September, but the presence of British forces in Egypt and the concentration of Italian troops in neighboring Libya made today's decision vital.

Refugees in Spain Report Paris' Situation Desperate

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, June 12 (AP).—Dozens of refugees from France, many of them Americans, crossed into Spain today and all called the situation in Paris "desperate." Some asserted the great Citroen automotive factories on the outskirts of the city had been burned.

TURKEY DECIDES TO DELAY ACTION AGAINST ITALY

Country Will Concentrate on Home Defenses.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ISTANBUL, Turkey, June 12.—Turkey has decided not to take any immediate action because of Italy's entry into the war, but will concentrate on her defenses.

After a cabinet meeting tonight a communique said "the situation was discussed," but officials declared the decision against any warlike move had been reached.

Turkey's mutual assistance pacts with France and Britain do not oblige her to fight Russia. The soviets are still the unknown quantity in the situation and the Turks, it is declared, will not go into the war until they are assured they will not have a hostile Russia at their backs. Moreover, they say, Britain and France have not pressed them to declare war.

Istanbul Still Lighted.

Not even a blackout has been ordered in Istanbul.

The newspapers have been forbidden to comment on Italy's declaration of war or on Turkey's position. Extra editions with war news are barred.

The American consulate, on instructions from Washington, today warned Americans not to attempt to return home by way of Europe or the Mediterranean. It recommended travel across Russia or down the Persian gulf to India, thence around the world.

Shipping Is Hit.

The effect of the war's spread to the Mediterranean is seen in shipping here. Except for two Hungarian, one Russian, and one Panamanian ship, foreign vessels have disappeared from the harbor.

The American freighter Exchange steamed thru the Bosporus this morning without a scheduled halt for a cargo of tobacco. Two American freighters with evacuated Americans as passengers still are in the south Turkey port of Mersina loading cargoes, while two others are in the Russian Black seaport of Poti, loading manganese.

The question is raised here whether the Italians will molest any of these American ships. Shipping men believe American shipping may not continue.

Rumania Halts Sea Traffic.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, June 12 (AP).—All Rumanian maritime traffic in the Black and Mediterranean seas has been suspended by government order. Ships were barred from leaving ports and vessels on the seas were ordered to return immediately. "War conditions in the Mediterranean" were given as the reason for the order.

ITALY LAYS MINE FIELD TO CIRCLE ISLAND OF MALTA

Acts to Control Ship Lanes in Mediterranean.

ROME, June 12 (AP).—Italy moved to cut the Mediterranean in half tonight with a wide new mine belt intended to box in completely the British fortified island of Malta—the Fascists' first announced objective of war.

The country's other activity against the allies in the third day of its participation on the side of Germany was not announced, however.

Apparently the Italian mines are intended to prevent the transfer of allied naval forces and sea borne supplies from the western Mediterranean to the allied land and sea forces now in the middle east.

Ships Must Use Straits.

Nonenemy ships passing from one end of the Mediterranean to the other now must go thru the narrow straits of Messina, between Corsica and the toe of Italy proper. It was asserted that "measures have been taken to hurry their passage."

Control stations were set up at Rasocolmo and Capo delle Armi, on either side of Messina, to expedite passage of neutral ships.

The mine zone extends on the western side from the French Tunisian coast of Africa north to a point off the Sardinian coast, thence southeast to the Sicilian coast.

On the other side, the mines were laid from the Sicilian coast to a point southeast of Malta, thence to Anglo, southwest of Rasagedir.

Allies Bomb Industrial Cities.

The allies early today brought the war to Italy with bombing raids on the great industrial cities of Milan and Turin and other points in the north. There was other enemy action of unspecified nature along the Ligurian coast, in which Genoa is located.

The Ligurian coast lies between Leghorn and the French-Italian frontier, south of Turin and Milan. The report did not explain whether the action was naval or aerial and details were withheld pending official announcement.

It was known that Italy has massed a great army on the French frontier, apparently for a drive thru the Maritime Alps, where the French are strongly entrenched.

[At Tours, new seat of the French government, a military commentator declared the only action of 60 to 70 Italian divisions, completely mobilized on the frontier, had been to blow up a bridge at Vinti Mille on the French border in the Alps. Estimating 15,000 men to a division, this would mean the Italians had between 900,000 and 1,050,000 men massed along the southern frontier of France.]

Humbert Praises Army.

Crown Prince Humbert, inspector of infantry, sent a message of encouragement to his troops.

"March with unshakeable faith and heroic vision of past triumphs toward new and certain destinies of imperial Italy," Humbert said. "The fatherland is expecting still more splendid glories from you who are as brave and tenacious as ever."

CANCEL COURSES FOR 892 REGULAR ARMY OFFICERS

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP).—The war department announced today that courses for regular army officers at the army war college in Washington and at the command and general staff school in Fort Leavenworth, Kas., will be suspended for the school year 1940-'41 in order to retain 892 regular army officers on staff and troop training duty.

These officers had been under orders to attend the two schools.

Officials said that special courses scheduled at the command and general staff school for National Guard and reserve officers had not been changed.

GREEK STEAMER SUNK BY MINE IN MEDITERRANEAN

ATHENS, June 12 (AP).—The 2,947 ton Greek steamer Zinavia struck a mine today and sank near the Island of Pantelleria, between Sicily and Tunisia. Two of the crew of 30 are missing.

Italians Scuttle Liner.

SYDNEY, Australia, June 12 (AP).—The Italian liner Romolo, 9,780 tons, was fired and scuttled today by its crew, the navy minister announced, when it was intercepted by an Australian merchant cruiser in mid-Pacific. All of the crew were saved. The Romolo left Brisbane, Australia, on June 5. It carried 5,000 bales of wool.

Time Bomb on Ship; 1 Dead.

BUENOS AIRES, June 12 (AP).—A time bomb on the British royal mail freighter Gascony blasted the center hold of the vessel while at dock tonight, killing an Argentine stevedore and injuring five others. Fearing time bombs might have been placed on other British ships, Argentine authorities suspended loadings pending a search of the vessels.

India Seizes Italian Ship.

Ships Flee to Spanish Ports.

MADRID, Spain, June 12 (AP).—The French war transport Gouverneur General Lepine, carrying 700 Senegalese soldiers and civilian passengers, fled to Alicante harbor yesterday when a submarine pursued her in the Mediterranean, it was reported today. The ship was ordered to leave within 24 hours or face internment, and it left.

The French merchantman Montaigne, sailing from Marseilles to Casablanca, Morocco, put in at Malaga, and the Italian freighters Antonieta Lauro and Dea Mazzeim anchored in Alicante harbor.

The French liner Lamoriciere dropped anchor at Palma. So did the Italian ship Gimma. Another Italian tanker and a freighter went into Huelva harbor.

Swedish Steamer Sunk.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 12 (AP).—The 1,828 ton Swedish steamer Sonja was sunk Monday off Floroe, about 90 miles north of Bergen, it was reported today. Twelve of the crew of 21 were lost.

BUILDING OF 22 NEW WARSHIPS GETS UNDER WAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Work was officially begun today on 22 new warships, including two 45,000 ton battleships, with the award of contracts by the navy department for the vessels.

At the same time the administration pressed forward on four other fronts in compliance with President Roosevelt's orders for full speed ahead to aid the allies and rearm America.

1. The President made plans to place all navy yards and arsenals on a 24 hour day to step up production.

2. The war department released 80 7 year old Northup attack planes to private aircraft companies for resale to the allies. These planes are a year older than the 93 Northrup planes en route to Halifax for reshipment to Europe.

Buy Rifles and Guns.

3. The allies were disclosed to have bought 600,000 of the army's surplus stock of world war Enfield rifles and 800 world war 75 mm. guns.

4. Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring announced artillery, engineers, and infantry will be sent to Anchorage, Alaska, to protect new army air bases at Anchorage, Unalaska, Kodiak, and Fairbanks.

The navy's contract awards were the largest in the history of the department, contemplating an expenditure of more than 327 million dollars. The two battleships, largest to be built in this country, will take 48 months to complete.

Thirteen of the vessels will be built in government navy yards and nine in private yards. The contracts and allocations, announced by Acting Secretary of the Navy Lewis Compton, are as follows:

GOVERNMENT NAVY YARDS.

1 Battleship, No. 63	New York
1 Battleship, No. 64	Philadelphia
2 Destroyers	Boston
2 Destroyers	Charleston
3 Submarines	Portsmouth
1 Submarine tender	Mare Island
2 Seaplane tenders	Boston
1 Mine sweeper	Norfolk

The estimated cost of construction of these vessels at government yards is $262,909,000, which includes the cost of armor and armament and in the case of submarines, also includes government supplied machinery. The figures for private yard vessels do not include these items, which are supplied by the government.

PRIVATE YARDS.

Two light cruisers, N. Y. Shipbuilding corporation, $17,580,000 each.

Two destroyers, Bath Iron Works, $4,898,000 each.

Two destroyers, Federal Shipbuilding corporation, $5,277,000 each.

Three submarines, Electric Boat company, $2,938,000 each.

President Roosevelt discussed the placing of navy yards and arsenals on a full time basis with Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.] and Representative Carl Vinson [D., Ga.], chairmen of the senate and house naval affairs and committees.

They reported that the government plants could go on a three shift basis as soon as enough men could be obtained. It was reported that Mr. Soosevelt was insistent that overtime be limited to indispensable employés and that as many workers be added as possible.

In releasing the attack planes for re-sale to the allies, the army was following the example of the navy which last week turned over 50 dive bombers and earmarked another 40 for eventual resale to the allies.

Musicians Give Life Job at $20,000 to J. N. Weber

Indianapolis, Ind., June 12 (AP).—The American Federation of Musicians [A. F. of L.], in convention here, created today a new $20,000 a year job of technical adviser and gave it to Joseph N. Weber of New York, outgoing president, for life. Weber, 40 years president of the 45 year old union, announced his retirement Monday. His successor will be elected Friday.

First American Warplane Is Delivered to Allies

Former United States navy bombing plane being towed behind truck along road leading into Canada near Houlton, Me. It was the first of 50 planes of its type delivered to the allies. Neutrality law prohibits flying planes across border.

U. S. SHIP HALTED BY NAZI U-BOAT REACHES IRELAND

GALWAY, Ireland, June 12 (AP).—The United States steamer Washington, carrying 1,020 refugees from Europe to America, dropped anchor in Galway bay at 6:35 p. m. tonight.

The anchorage of the Washington, which was stopped on its way from Lisbon to Galway by a German submarine, was about seven miles from Galway city.

Mistaken for Greek Steamer.

BERLIN, June 12 (AP).—The United States liner Washington was stopped by a German U-boat yesterday because the submarine commander mistook the vessel at first for a Greek steamer, DNB, the official news agency, said today.

It added that the Washington was allowed to continue "after the usual greetings" when the U-boat commander was correctly advised. The German government was said to have been advised that the ship was going to Bordeaux, France, and other ports and that Germany had not been told until later in the day that she would call at Ireland.

Information to Nazis.

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP).—State department officials said today that information about the exact course of the liner Washington from Lisbon to Galway, Ireland, was sent to the German government Monday afternoon and may not have been delivered until after the American ship's encounter with a submarine.

'I'm British and Monkey's Indian,' Organ Man Says

LEEDS, England, June 12 (AP).—An organ grinder of Italian descent posted this sign on his hurdy-gurdy today: "I'm British and the monkey is from India."

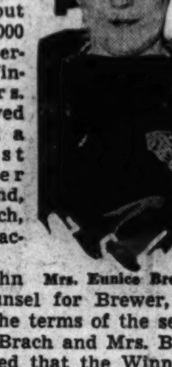
UNITE IN SUPPORT OF ALLIES, URGES JUSTICE ROBERTS

Verona, N. J., June 12 (AP).—Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts of the United States Supreme court called tonight for "united support of the allies in the European war and warned against "callow cynicism when democracies are in the balance the world over." He addressed New Jersey alumni of the University of Pennsylvania.

"I am shocked and disappointed," he said, "by the so-called intelligensia all about us and its cynicism that what is going on over there does not concern us. I am shocked at their attitude that one form of government is as good as another. Their attitude has been, 'shall I fight the battle of England and France? Shall I be cannon fodder for them?'

"Perhaps not, but I hope that the attitude of you sons of Pennsylvania and all the other young men of America will not be one of callow cynicism. Think of what we have; think of the fact that no man can dictate to you."

SUES WEALTHY WIFE TO LET HIM IN HER MANSION



Mrs. Eunice Brewer.

Attorneys for Robert C. Brewer, a marine engineer, went before Judge Robert J. Dunne in Circuit court yesterday seeking an injunction to restrain his wife, Mrs. Eunice Brewer, from keeping him out of her $150,000 home at 175 Sheridan road, Winnetka. Mrs. Brewer received the home and a $1,000,000 trust fund from her former husband, Frank Brach, candy manufacturer.

Attorney John T. Conlon, counsel for Brewer, put into evidence the terms of the settlement between Brach and Mrs. Brewer. This showed that the Winnetka home is now entirely her property. Conlon then cited an 1861 Illinois Supreme court decision holding that a husband is entitled to occupation and joint possession of his wife's property.

Brewer, who is now 40 years old, and Mrs. Brewer, 45, met on a Caribbean cruise in 1937. He moved into the Winnetka home on Sept. 4, 1939, while she was in Europe, but on her return she had him barred from there. Mrs. Brewer has a divorce suit pending, charging desertion. Judge Dunne ordered that Mrs. Brewer be present for questioning Monday.

CATTLE BUYER MISSING.

The Fillmore street police were asked yesterday to conduct a search for Isadore Feldman, 50 years old, 3552 Grenshaw street, a cattle buyer, who has been missing.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HOUSE BOOSTS DEFENSE FUNDS OVER 5 BILLIONS

Votes 1,706 Millions for Army and Navy.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—All speed records for spending legislation were broken by the house today in passing within six hours by a 401 to 1 vote a bill carrying 1 billion 706 million dollars for the army and navy.

The measure, sent to the senate, boosts the total of appropriations for national defense at this session above 5 billion dollars.

Debate was curtailed to four hours. Several minor amendments offered by members were defeated quickly. On the final roll call on passage only Representative Vito Marcantonio, American Labor party member from New York City who was elected with communist party support, voted in the negative.

Adds 95,000 to Army.

The bill provides $322,000,000 to enlist, equip, and train 95,000 additional men in the regular army. This will bring the strength of the army to 375,000. Of the new troops, 40,000 will be attached to the air corps and 55,000 to ground forces.

Three thousand new warplanes for the air corps also are provided for in the measure. The navy is given funds to start work on 68 new warships, making a total of 160 combat vessels under construction in the near future.

Funds for training 87,000 civilian airplane pilots, for purchase of $47,500,000 worth of strategic war minerals and materials, and for antiaircraft artillery, mounted guns, tanks, and ammunition costing more than $150,000,000 also are carried in the bill. Another $200,000,000 solely for expediting manufacture of munitions was approved. A system of new naval air bases, costing $60,300,000, was indorsed.

CCC Military Training Rejected.

Meanwhile, the senate rejected, 47 to 35, a proposal by Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], to authorize voluntary military training in the CCC camps. The suggestion was offered as an amendment to the $1,073,584,000 relief bill. As the bill stands, it permits the training of CCC workers in such "noncombatant" service as baking, photography, and mechanics.

Appropriations totaling 3 billion 315 million dollars already had been allotted to the war and navy departments when President Roosevelt on May 31 demanded a still further enlargement of the military program. Revelations concerning the use of aviation and mechanized equipment in the European conflict forced him to ask for another large appropriation, he told congress.

Committee Boosts Total.

The appropriations committee granted not only the 1 billion 281 millions requested by the President but added approximately 425 millions to make a total of $1,706,053,908.

The 5 billion dollars granted the army and navy will carry the defense program forward as rapidly as possible under existing industrial conditions, the committee reported. Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], told the house that as far as he knew no more funds would be requested at this session.

However, there is no reason for congress thinking its job is near completion, Woodrum declared. He noted that the Virginia delegation of nine Democrats had voted unanimously to join with house Republicans in the movement to remain in session.

"The legislative branch of government, including both majority and minority, has played ball with the President on all his defense spending requests," Woodrum asserted. "There is every reason for us to stay here on the job.

"In this period, when we are going through the greatest crisis in the history of civilized government, a crisis in which matters break overnight without warning which would call for legislative action, we would be running out on the American people if we pulled down the curtains, nailed up the shutters, and adjourned sine die, returning home to tell our people that we have quit during the greatest crisis in the world."

The Virginian said he hoped the Democratic leadership would arrange for congress, by a series of recesses, to stand by, ready to coöperate in case any great problem should arise.

Raps Present Inadequacy.

Speaking in the debate, Representative John Taber [R., N. Y.], ranking minority member of the appropriations committee, summed up the attitude of doubtful members when he said that army and navy members termed the additional fund necessary and he was not going to place his judgment against theirs.

Taber declared the President, congress, and the army and navy are all to blame for the inadequate defense situation in which the country finds itself.

"The army intelligence and the navy intelligence service have not been abreast of what has been going on in Germany, and we have allowed development work to lag," he commented. "However, it is not going to help the situation to talk about who is to blame. The only thing we can do is to provide the funds necessary for correcting these difficulties, and that is being done in so far as it is possible for us to tell."

Hopes for Cabinet Changes.

Taber said that congress had a right to expect the President to clean up his cabinet in return for the acquiescence in Mr. Roosevelt's spending requests. He asked the President to appoint a competent secretary of war and secretary of the navy and to replace Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

"We hear that Hopkins and William H. McReynolds are to be the key men in the defense program of the administration," he told the house. "Hopkins has a record of total failure in every administrative position that he has held. McReynolds, a budget officer of the treasury department, has been repeatedly characterized as the most incompetent man ever to appear before congressional committees representing a government department.

"Why does the President not place these key positions in the hands of people in whom the country can have confidence? Congress and the Republican minority have gone a long way. It is time for the President to show some spirit of coöperation by cleaning up his own house."

DERAILMENT DELAYS "L."

20,000 SALUTE OLD GLORY AT PARK CEREMONY

Pageant Shows Growth of Nation's Flag.

A great audience at the Grant park band shell thrilled to the story of "Old Glory" last night in ceremonies to celebrate Flag day, June 14. Music, pageantry, speaking, and prayer signalized the event. The crowd was estimated at 20,000.

The most popular feature was a performance by David Rubinoff and his violin. Also applauded with enthusiasm were the singing of Sonia Sharnova of the Chicago City Opera company, joined by the audience in "God Bless America," and the choirs of the Wabash avenue Y. M. C. A. and the B'nai B'rith. But the flag drew the most cheers.

Distinguished service medal winners of the world war presented replicas of all of the flags used by this nation in a pageant showing the evolution of the Stars and Stripes. Ald. J. M. Avery [24th] explained the banners.

Pledge Allegiance to Flag.

After an invocation by the Rev. Michael Miller, O. S. M., representing Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch, the colors were presented by the Illinois chapter of the Army and Navy Legion of Valor. Then the audience, led by Angela Tricomi, sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

A pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Kenneth Anderson, winner of the state oratorical contest conducted by the American Legion.

Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], most vocal war interventionist in the senate, delivered the only speech. Several leaders of world war veterans, especially members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, had protested against Pepper being given this prominent rôle.

War on Our Institutions.

Recalling that he had been accused of "extravagant hysteria" Pepper invited his audience to conclude whether he was correct in saying that Hitler had long ago declared war on our American institutions.

If two of the world's mightiest empires are conquered the United States would face a gloomy future, and this nation would face a hostile world without a first class power for a friend, he said.

"The doors of world trade would be slammed shut in our faces by totalitarian masters," Pepper contended.

In closing Pepper called for "all means short of war" to help Great Britain and France. Earlier the Florida senator had told reporters that "nobody is trying to get us into the war."

Stera-Kleen Prevents False Teeth Odor—Cleans Without Brushing

"False teeth odor" is the curse of denture wearers. Ordinary brushing or antiseptics often will not remove scum and food particles that collect on your plate or bridge. This uncleanliness gives off the most offensive of breath odors — you do not know if you have it — but others do.

Prevent this odor by using STERA-KLEEN and make sure of absolute cleanliness. STERA-KLEEN dissolves scum and food particles from the tiny crevices of your plate that brushing does not reach. It is safe—economical—easy to use.

Place your bridge or plate in water, add a little STERA-KLEEN, leave for a few minutes or overnight—can't harm. Rinse, and it is purified and clean, ready for use without brushing. Daily use prevents "false teeth odor." Get STERA-KLEEN today Only 30¢ a package at any drug store.

SENATORS WARN THAT WAR BLUFF MAY BE CALLED

Democrats Lead Fight to Gag Official Threats.

dividuals who called at the White House.

Senator Wheeler said he, too, had been informed that Hill "made a statement over the radio to the effect that the President of the United States called in some people last evening and questioned them as to whether we should have a declaration of war at the present time."

"It seems to me that a statement of that kind, given out by a radio commentator, if untrue, should be sufficient reason for not permitting him to speak further over the radio as a commentator in this country," Senator Wheeler declared.

Holt Leads the Attack.

Senator Holt touched off the senate debate by denouncing the hypocrisy and subterfuge of the administration's policy of trading in so-called surplus or obsolete airplanes and other war supplies for resale to the allies. He read an article from the rabidly interventionist New York Herald-Tribune saying that Floyd Bennett field at New York had been stripped of every naval reserve plane except a few that are four or five years old and that the scout bombers or "hell divers" taken to Buffalo, N. Y., for resale to the allies are only a few months old and the finest dive bombers in the world.

"According to this article, we will get replacements as soon as navy blue prints are accepted and they can be built by the Curtiss plant, or whatever plant is going to build them," Holt said.

Needed for Training Duty.

"America needs pilots for duty in America and we do not have enough planes to train them. Yet it is pretended that these planes are surplus, obsolete planes.

"We have seen our country led away from neutrality to nonbelligerency and if certain individuals in the government have their way, we will strike out the word 'non' and become a belligerent before the snow flies. That is why I am trying, in my humble way, to tell the American people that unless they awaken to the danger, American boys will be sent over there to man the obsolete planes and the obsolete guns."

Noting that Mr. Roosevelt had indorsed the advertisments of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, Holt submitted data as to its background and origin.

Set Up by Bankers, Says Holt.

"Of course they have a front, a stuffed shirt, William Allen White, but let us see where that committee started," Holt said. "Eighteen prominent bankers and others met secretly on the 29th day of April in New York to set up this committee. They were called by Frederick R. Coudert.

"Do senators know who he is? He was the legal advisor of the British embassy who helped lead us into the last world war. Frederick Coudert was the man who helped generate the propaganda that took the American boys to their death in 1917 and 1918, while he was on the pay roll of the British government.

"Who else was there? Henry L. Stimson. I need say no more about him.

Names Lamont and Conant.

"Thomas W. Lamont—one of the forgotten men, probably, of the administration, partner of J. Pierpont Morgan, who has interests in England and international investments thruout the world, and who always has been interested in the involvement of the United States in Europe. Thomas W. Lamont was there."

Assailed as 'Stop Hitler' Sponsors

William Allen White (left), Emporia, Kas., editor; Henry L. Stimson (center), former secretary of state, and Frederic R. Coudert, New York lawyer, who were assailed in senate yesterday as "front men" and secret sponsors of Committee to Defend America by Aiding Allies.

Holt named various others who attended the meeting, at which, he said, they secretly "adopted the letter which Grenville Clark put in the New York Times and which was repeated by President Conant of Harvard university. Speaking of President Conant, let me say that Harvard has many investments in British bonds."

Holt also listed 30 prominent individuals who recently signed a manifesto urging that the United States declare war on Germany immediately.

Urges Agitators Enlist.

Holt noted that many of them are young enough to fight, including Walter Millis, author of "The Road to War," who now is writing interventionist editorials for the New York Herald-Tribune. Millis, Holt said, is 41.

"These are the men who are telling the American boys they should go over and stop Hitler," Holt declared. "Like the senator from Florida [Pepper], if these individuals are interested in stopping Hitler, I do not think there will be any objection to them volunteering. But I wish to say that a man who advocates sending American boys to the battlefields of Europe and who does not enlist himself is a cowardly traitor to his country.

"If I had enough feeling about this, and believed the situation is as the administration says it is, and the danger is what they say it is, I would have enough guts to supply my body for the same thing for which I would send another American boy to his death."

Move to Destroy Country.

Holt said it was the policy of the administration to call everyone who "might stand in the way of our getting into war a member of the fifth column."

"I wish to say," he continued, "that the danger to America is not the 'fifth column' of which they speak—those former bedfellows of theirs. The danger lies in the propagandists, financiers, financially interested newspapers and the politicians who would destroy our country by involving it in war.

"It was not so terrible to be a communist in 1936, when communist support was the difference between defeat and victory for Herbert Lehman, governor of New York, and certain other individuals in my party. When some of us started after communism on the floor of the senate in 1936, we were called red baiters."

Senator Wheeler interjected that the administration did not object when the communists denounced every member of the senate who fought President Roosevelt's proposal to pack the Supreme court in 1937.

"They were glad to have their support at that time," Wheeler said.

Referring to the propaganda advertisments indorsed by President Roosevelt, Wheeler asked Holt what had become of the resolution by Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] calling for a special senate investigation of foreign war propaganda.

"I do not think it has the approval of Lord Lothian, the British ambassador," Holt replied.

"Whether it has the approval of Lord Lothian or anybody else," Wheeler declared, "it seems to me that here is an advertisment published in the great newspapers of the country at great cost. Every member of this body knows that somebody is paying for it. We ought to know who is paying for it, and where the money comes from. If there is money being put out for Nazi propaganda in this country, we ought to know that, too.

Majority Opposed to War.

"I think the overwhelming majority of the members of this body is opposed to getting into this war and I may say that no matter what the English press and the English newspaper writers thought about the speech made by the President, we ought to serve notice that the great majority of the members of the senate are not going to vote for war and we are not going to get into it and we do not want to fool Great Britain or France into thinking that we are going to send American boys across the water again to be shot to pieces on the battlefields of Europe. We are not going to see them come back here and fill our insane asylums and our hospitals, with their legs off and their arms off, blind and deaf.

"America ought to wake up! American mothers ought to wake up; American youth ought to wake up; the American working men ought to wake up, because anybody who has any sense at all knows what is happening. We know the propaganda that is going on and we know and every member of the senate knows that every move is being made to lead us, if you please, down the road to war.

SENATORS WARN THAT WAR BLUFF MAY BE CALLED

Democrats Lead Fight to Gag Official Threats.

"I wish to say, so far as I am concerned—and in saying this, I repeal what I heretofore have said—that I do not want to have a break with the administration; I do not want to have to oppose the Democratic party; but if it becomes necessary to break with the Democratic party, I shall break with it if it is going to be a war party. I want every one who is interested in the matter to know that I am not going to support any candidate for President of the United States of America, no matter who he may be, who is going to try to get us into this war."

"If our party gets the name of being a war party, we are thru," Holt said.

"We not only would be thru, but we ought to be thru if we are going to be a war party," Wheeler replied.

Renewing his demand for a senate investigation of foreign war propaganda—Nazi, communist, and British—Holt said it was well known that here in Washington "the social lobby controled by the dictates of the British embassy has enlisted for the duration of the war."

Recalls World War Outlay.

Senator Ernest Lundeen [F.-L., Minn.] said it had been disclosed in the British house of commons that the British government spent $150,000,000 for propaganda in the United States during the world war.

After Senator Tydings and Senator Clark of Missouri, both world war veterans with distinguished combat records, had spoken about America's lack of preparedness for that war and the time that would be required to prepare for another, Senator Holt said it was interesting to compare their views "with those of two senators who served either in the student army training corps or in charge of prisoners."

This remark referred to Senator Pepper and Senator Lee, the New Deal interventionists.

Senator Pepper, who was a student at the University of Alabama, became 18 years of age on Sept. 9, 1918. On Sept. 12, 1918, men 18 years of age were registered for the draft. On Oct. 9, 1918, after the draft registration, Pepper joined the student army training corps at the university, of which he was a member until Dec. 1.

Nine Days in France.

Senator Lee went to France. He arrived on Nov. 2, 1918, nine days before the armistice, during which time he was assigned to duty guarding enemy prisoners behind the lines.

After Holt had relinquished the floor, Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] rose to denounce the Pepper-Lee proposal that President Roosevelt be given authority to suspend the Johnson act and the neutrality law in order to make credits available to the allies. Supported intermittently by Senator Clark of Missouri and Senator Homer T. Bone [D., Wash.] Nye served notice that the Pepper-Lee offensive would not be tolerated.

"The introduction of that resolution constitutes a challenge which cannot be ignored and I hope the congress is aware of its significance," Nye declared.

"Here is a proposal that was prophesied would be forthcoming if congress consented last fall to repeal the arms embargo. Senator after senator rose in his place in this body and solemnly declared that he never would move, that he never would vote another step beyond the repeal of the arms embargo. Yet in this chamber today are senators who, thus avowing their determination then, are ready today to support the proposal to repeal the cash and carry provision and to repeal the Johnson act."

FOX RIVER TOWNS BACK CHICAGO'S SUPERROAD PLAN

Call Speed Arteries Vital to National Defense.

BY HAL FOUST.

Cities of the Fox river valley, 40 miles from the loop, pledged their support yesterday to a campaign for superhighway construction within Chicago. A committee headed by State Representative Leon M. Schuler [D., Aurora] was appointed at a meeting of civic representatives and public officials in St. Charles. It was directed to draft a letter soliciting promises to aid the superhighway plans from Dwight H. Green and Harry B. Hershey, Republican and Democratic nominees for governor, respectively.

This committee also was directed to get the army's opinion on whether the proposed superhighway construction in Chicago might be financed in part with federal funds as a national defense move. Two years ago the United States bureau of public roads in a report to congress recommending superhighways said it had the cooperation of the army in its study.

War Now One of Movement.

"Recent developments in Europe," said Schuler, "have demonstrated that a modern war is a war of movement. Motorized troops and guns cannot move any faster than the capacities of the streets and highways.

"The war abroad also has demonstrated that modern war is a competition of industries in the production of war materials. The efficiency of the Chicago industrial area is directly related to the efficiency of its automotive transportation system."

Col. Charles H. Green, police chief of Aurora, and Jay N. Helm of Elgin, Kane county commander of the American Legion, both told of personal experiences in driving on New York's superhighways. By way of contrast they both described the automobile entrances into Chicago as "nightmares."

James E. Bulger, a director of the Chicago Motor club which sponsored the meeting, said that a west side elevated highway would save 18 lives and 800 personal injuries annually by removing fast thru travel from business streets and surface boulevards.

Cite High Boulevard Toll.

He said these figures were actual calculations based on the low accident records of Chicago's outer drives, compared with high accident records on thru streets and boulevards with cross traffic, pedestrians and parking. Driving time between the loop and the Fox river valley would be cut 17 minutes.

C. H. Apple, district engineer of the Illinois highway department at Elgin, said there is no question that these Chicago superhighways should be built. He said the only questions were how the improvements will be financed and how they will be built.

Others at the meeting included State Representative Maud N. Peffers [R., Aurora]; Frank B. Deuster, Sycamore Chamber of Commerce; Mayor H. B. Warner of Aurora; Frank A. Struckman, commissioner, Elgin; Walter E. Hoffman, Geneva; Mayor Myron M. Lehman of Elgin; M. H. Brightman, commissioner, Elgin; A. Keplar, St. Charles, secretary, Fox Valley federation; J. Ronin, Sycamore Chamber of Commerce; Victor G. Johnson, city clerk, Geneva; R. F. Munn, St. Charles Chamber of Commerce, and Lina S. Paschal, St. Charles, editor.

Federal Judges Appoint Chief Probation Officer

Charles W. Fisher yesterday was named chief federal probation officer for this district by the judges of the United States District court. He has been serving as acting chief probation officer for the last year, and succeeds Walter K. Urich, who has been acting parole executive at Washington, D. C., since last November.

AMERICA IS BEING LED TO WAR, SAYS CHURCH WEEKLY

President's Talk 'Prelude' to Formal Entry.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

President Roosevelt's Charlottesville, Va., speech Monday night was interpreted yesterday by the Christian Century, leading Protestant church weekly, as a prelude to a formal demand that the United States declare war on Italy and Germany.

"The very passionate nature with which he [the President] spoke should reveal to the American public the passionate nature of the future toward which the nation is headed," an editorial in the Christian Century declared. "What comes after the Charlottesville speech? That speech does not afford a stopping place. The President himself recognized this. 'The program unfolds swiftly,' he said. 'We will not slow down nor detour!'"

Lashes Sale of Planes.

Step by step, the editorial asserted, the nation is moving toward war, despite the country's resolution last September to remain neutral. Then the editorial adds:

"The most asked question is no longer, 'will we go over the edge?' But, 'how soon?' With the decision to sell our army and navy airplanes, cannon and rifles to the allies—at the very time congress is being told that the lack of such military equipment constitutes a national emergency—we have reached the last line that separates us from open war.

"High pressure propaganda, such as this country has not experienced since the days when we were induced to enter the first world war, has been turned loose to persuade the people of the United States that the allies are fighting for them, that the safety of the nation requires the defeat of the axis powers, and that all the resources of the nation should be thrown into the struggle."

Without direct mention of the Roman Catholic church, the Protestant journal supported widely published Catholic views that the present war cannot be regarded a defense of Christianity against barbarism.

Derides Idealistic Basis.

"Not a word," said the Christian Century, "is said [in current propaganda] as to British, French, Italian, and German imperial interests which are at stake; the whole war is presented as a struggle by a demonic paganism to destroy the Christian and democratic way of life.

"What comes next? For something must come next. No nation, once it is convinced that its own future as well as its moral welfare is at stake will be content simply to send supplies if the battle continues to go against the allies. Surely the college presidents and bishops that are whooping it up for more help for Britain and France know this. Surely the man who made the Charlottesville speech knows it also."

The journal said the present college commencement season has been turned into a chorus of shouts, adding that church conventions are being exhorted to come to the help of the Lord and to affirm the moral responsibility of the United States to secure an allied victory.

Marine Reserves to Hold Review Saturday Night

The 9th battalion of the United States marine corps reserve will hold a parade and review Saturday night in the naval reserve armory at the foot of Randolph street. Maj. Max D. Smith, inspector instructor of the battalion, will present service medals to 30 officers and enlisted men. Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for United States senator, who served in the marine corps in the world war, will be in the reviewing stand.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE CALLED BACKBONE OF ENDOWED EDUCATION

Harry L. Wells, vice president and business manager of Northwestern university, yesterday disputed the assertion of President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago that reduced income from endowments is the chief financial problem of educational institutions today.

"The most significant educational condition of the recent past, bearing upon the future of private education," Wells told the Northwestern University Associates at luncheon at the Chicago club, "has been the hazardous position of free enterprise and its ability to accumulate reasonable wealth."

Decline in income from endowments affects the total university budget less than 2 per cent, Wells estimated, explaining that endowments provide only 30 per cent of the endowed university's income.

"We rely upon accumulated private wealth," he asserted, "to provide most of our educational buildings and equipment."

Wells said curtailed endowment returns have helped develop better business administration and that budgets for actual educational work exceed those of lush days of the 1920's.

SAFETY BOARD SEEKS IN VAIN TO GROUND PLANES

Split with CAA Is Disclosed.

A breach between the Air Safety board and the Civil Aeronautics authority over the safety in flight of Beechcraft biplanes was disclosed yesterday here and in Washington. The board is an independent unit within the CAA charged with safeguarding the lives of flyers and air passengers. It investigates all civil aircraft accidents.

The board said it had been trying for three weeks to have the CAA ground all Beechcraft planes because of the board's contention they are unsafe. Structural failures of the planes, the board said, have caused at least 10 deaths and 4 injuries in the last two years.

Plane Owners Warned.

The CAA replied that it had already taken measures which it regarded as adequate to prevent accidents to the planes. On May 25 the CAA wired owners of Beechcraft planes, ordering them not to fly more than 160 miles an hour in smooth air or 140 miles an hour in rough air. The ships are safe at these speeds, the CAA maintains. Owners were prohibited from engaging in blind flying.

Tom Hardin and C. B. Allen, who make up the two-man board, said that if their grounding recommendations had been followed, a fatal accident near Catskill, N. Y., June 4 could have been avoided. Pilot Wallis C. Bird, flying a Beechcraft biplane, was killed.

Find "Destructive" Flutter.

"After investigating several accidents," said Hardin, "we believe that destructive flutter develops in the Beechcraft planes. This evokes forces so great they resemble the explosion of dynamite in their violence. The planes literally are blown to bits."

The board made public letters to the CAA chairman, Robert H. Hinckley, sent May 24 and June 6. In each the board urged strongly that the Beechcrafts be grounded until tests were made by the bureau of standards, the army and National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics and structural changes made.

The Beechcraft biplanes are manufactured by the Beech Aircraft corporation at Wichita, Kas. They seat 4 or 5, and engines range in horsepower from 225 to 450.

The Air Safety board is to be abolished June 30 under one of President Roosevelt's reorganization orders. Private and air line pilots of the country opposed the abolition.

EARL WANTS HIS MARRIAGE RULED OUT; HERE'S WHY

Declares Liquor Lowered His Resistance.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 12.—How a drunken young nobleman was kidnaped by the two daughters of London's most famous night club queen and married to one of them was told in the divorce court here today. The Earl of Craven, snatching a brief leave from the battlefield in France, swore to the judge "the first thing I knew about my bride and my wedding was when I woke up in bed with a woman beside me."

He is asking annulment of his marriage with the countess, who was formerly Irene Meyrick, daughter of Kate Meyrick, and sister of Lady Kinnoull and the Countess de Clifford. Countess Craven gave birth to a daughter on Jan. 13 this year. Her wedding with Craven took place on May 3, 1939. She is suing for restitution of conjugal rights.

The Earl's Story.

The earl's story is that on the night of May 2, last year, he was at a dance in the Claridge hotel, Mayfair, and drank heavily. After the ball he went to the Slip In night club to keep a date with Manya, a dance hostess. The Slip In is one of a group of night clubs run by the Meyrick daughters. Irene Meyrick was then the manager.

The earl, who is 22 years old, declared that he danced with Manya for a while, then she became ill and he waited about for three hours hoping she would recover.

"I was drinking steadily all the time," he continued. While he was so engaged Irene Meyrick came to his table and sat down, he said. Later Lady de Clifford joined the party and the two sisters plied him with so much whisky that the next thing he remembered was waking up in bed in the Isle of Wight, 150 miles from London, with Irene Meyrick lying beside him.

Buy Marriage License.

He alleged that the Meyrick sisters took the earl home to Lady de Clifford's west end apartment and kept him there until early morning, when one of them rushed out and bought a special marriage license.

They bathed and shaved the matrimonial victim, Hastings said, changed his clothes and virtually carried him to the fashionable church of St. Peter's, Eaton square, where they married him to Irene.

The earl testified that as soon as he sobered up he left his bride, went abroad and never saw her again.

RADIO MONOPOLY CHARGED IN LONG DELAYED REPORT

FCC Committee Criticizes CBS, NBC Networks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—A special committee of the Federal Communications commission today released its long awaited report on alleged monopoly in the broadcasting industry.

The 1,300 page report on the results of a two year investigation assailed the use of network-outlet contracts by the two biggest broadcasting chains as concentrating power in the hands of a few men, contrary to the public interest.

The special committee was designated to make the investigation by the FCC in 1938 after congress became interested in charges of monopoly in the broadcasting field. Members of the committee were Commissioners Thad H. Brown, Paul A. Walker, and Frederick I. Thompson. Brown acted as chairman of the committee.

The report of the committee is based upon 10,000 pages of testimony and nearly 800 exhibits, obtained largely during 73 days of hearings.

Assail Contract System.

Concentrating on the use of network-outlet contracts by the National Broadcasting company and the Columbia Broadcasting system, the committee said "the heart of the abuses of chain broadcasting is the network-outlet contract."

The report listed the following as "arbitrary and inequitable practices" on the part of networks in their relations with affiliated stations:

1. "The provision that the outlet station cannot accept programs from any network other than the one to which it is bound by contract deprives the station of profitable business and the listening public of programs for which there is a demand.

2. "The practice of requiring stations to set aside all or a major portion of their broadcast time for the utilization of the networks, regardless of whether such time is used, places an undue burden upon the outlet station and lessens the ability of the station to serve the local needs of the community.

Competition Stifled.

3. "The provision that non-network rates for national advertising business cannot be less than those of the network prevents the outlet station from entering into a healthy competition for advertising business.

4. "The provisions of the contract concerning the free use of the first converted hours [a nighttime hour or its equivalent in two daytime hours operation], combined with low initial compensating rates for the next hours, results in an inequitable distribution of proceeds from network broadcasting. Whereas Columbia and National had aggregate network time sales of $44,313,778 for 1938, they paid to the 253 independently controled stations on their networks only $12,267,560, approximately one-half of which was paid to 25 of these stations with a relatively strong competitive position based on the need of the networks for their particular facilities.

5. "Moreover, the contracts generally cover periods of time far in excess of the period for which the station is licensed and bind the outlet to network policies far beyond the expiration date of the license."

Power to Curb Abuses.

The committee found that the FCC holds authority to deal with these contracts without special legislation and recommended "reformation" of the contracts to eliminate abuses while retaining the advantages of chain service.

The report said the committee reached "the inescapable conclusion that National and Columbia, directed by a few men, hold a powerful influence over the public domain of the air and measurably control radio communication to the people of the United States."

"If freedom of communication is one of the precious possessions of the American people," the report continued, "such a condition is not thought by the committee to be in the public interest and presents inherent danger to the welfare of a country where democratic processes prevail."

Outlets' Interests Subordinated.

The committee said that all but two of the 34 high-power, clear channel stations and all the high-power regional stations are on the two biggest networks. The report differentiated between stations owned or directly controled by the networks and affiliated outlet stations which broadcast the same program under contractual arrangement with the networks. The committee found that the interests of outlet stations have been subordinated to the interests of the network owned and controled station.

The report pointed out that the Mutual Broadcasting system operates differently from the general network operations. At the time of the hearings, Mutual took no options on the time of stations and received only a commission, not exceeding 15 per cent, on the proceeds of network commercials, the report said.

"While it has an organization for selling network commercial program time to advertising agencies, the stations which served as Mutual outlets have the privilege also of selling the network time, for which they share commissions with Mutual," the report said. "Also, Mutual has no program producing facilities."

The report upheld a number of complaints which Mutual had made concerning the use of network outlet contracts.

UP FOR REAPPOINTMENT

Chairman Brown lated underwent an uncomfortable session before the interstate commerce committee which is considering his reappointment. Brown faced a barrage of questions concerning the delayed report and an alleged wild party in a New York "hot spot."

Senator Charles W. Tobey [R., N. H.], who repeatedly has demanded publication of the report, charged that the report had been "lost in the clouds for two years."

Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], chairman of the senate committee, interrupted to say: "I have it on good authority that a report was made and never given out."

Brown insisted that the report released today was finished "just a couple of days ago." There have been rumors that the White House ordered suppression of the report because it criticized broadcasting systems considered friendly to the administration.

Quizzed on Pressure.

Tobey later referred to a house resolution authorizing an investigation of the broadcasting industry which was introduced but never passed.

"Did you ever hear a statement that Democratic leaders were called to the White House and told the resolution must be killed because the President's son might be involved?" Tobey asked Brown.

"I never heard about that," Brown replied.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney and sister, Miss Agnes Courtney, at Loyola university commencement exercises last night. She received bachelor of philosophy degree.

The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred yesterday upon the Most Rev. Samuel A. Stritch, Catholic archbishop of Chicago, by Loyola university at its 70th annual commencement, held in the stadium at 6525 Sheridan road. Archbishop Stritch was the commencement speaker.

A class of 761 students received diplomas from President Samuel Knox Wilson. Among those taking bachelor of philosophy degrees was Miss Agnes Courtney, sister of State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney.

De Paul university graduated a class of 426 in the afternoon in the Auditorium theater at its 42d commencement. The students were told by President Michael J. O'Connell that more alarming than the political changes taking place in Europe were the changing philosophies and theories of living, from which stems the present conflict of nations.

"The greatest misfortune that could befall the United States would be the acceptance here, in whole or in part, of any one of the philosophies that are the source of iconoclasm in Europe," said Father O'Connell.

REPUBLICANS AND THE WAR.

The Republican national convention will assemble a week from Monday in Philadelphia. Never since 1860 has the party faced so momentous a decision as will confront it in less than a fortnight and yet little attention is being paid to the meeting except by the candidates, their immediate following, and a group of intriguers.

The great question to be decided at Philadelphia, far transcending the choice of the candidate, is whether there will be a peace party in the United States in the year 1940. Mr. Roosevelt is heading the war party. He is hell-bent for war as everybody with a shred of sense all over the world now recognizes. The Germans know it. The French, the Italians, the English, the Japanese, and the Russians know it.

If the Americans don't know it, the fault is theirs. Mr. Roosevelt showed himself a complete Wilsonian as long ago as the day he delivered his quarantine speech at the dedication of the Outer bridge here in Chicago. He has never departed from that line. He has gone steadily ahead, until today he is selling our army's guns to Europe and making speeches calculated to inflame the war spirit. Next will come loans and after loans the navy, such airplanes as we have, and the American army and navy pilots to fly them. After that, our soldiers by the millions, and the casualty lists.

That is the situation which confronts the Republican delegates on the eve of their convention. It would be absurd to pretend that in the Republican party there are no men who, like Mr. Roosevelt, wish this country to declare war. There are war-minded Republicans, particularly in the eastern states, but they do not constitute anything like a majority. Only by manipulation can they gain control. If their intrigue succeeds, and the Republicans come out for war or evade the issue with ambiguous phrases, the party might almost as well adjourn the convention without bothering to choose a candidate. The Republicans cannot expect to beat Mr. Roosevelt at his own game.

This is to be regretted because if we go to war Mr. Roosevelt would make an atrociously bad war President, lacking as he is in executive competence and filled as his mind is with grandiose, contradictory, and impractical dreams. Any of the prominently mentioned Republican candidates would be a far better leader in war than Mr. Roosevelt, but if the Republicans write a war platform Mr. Roosevelt would have considerable difficulty losing the election.

The Republicans can go to the country as the peace party and can do so with much confidence in the result. It is worth remembering that Mr. Wilson won in 1916 as the candidate who would keep the country out of war and that the elections of 1918 which went against him were a reflection of the country's opposition to a war policy and a most significant one in view of the fact that the election followed close on the victory. Every subsequent national election which turned on the question of meddling in Europe was decided against intervention, including the election in which Franklin Roosevelt was the candidate for Vice President. There is no reason to believe that the underlying sentiment of this country has changed; certainly the excited declarations of a few hundred dowagers, ageing lawyers, and angry college presidents offer no clew to the wishes of the nation as a whole. The same people were for war in 1916 and for the league of nations subsequently. They are noisy, but they have no following worthy of consideration in forecasting the outcome of a national election.

Some of these people are among the relatively few who are keeping their eye on the Republican convention. They are a sort of fifth column within the Republican party, trying to snare places as delegates and thus pack the convention for war. Most of these intriguers are too old to fight. They will leave that to other men and other men's sons. They will derive a delicious emotional satisfaction from our entrance into the war at a time in their lives when such experiences are rare.

If these people are allowed to control the Philadelphia convention this country can hardly escape a bloody and difficult war and will not escape a dictatorship and an incompetent dictatorship at that. The disappearance of the Republican party need scarcely be mentioned as an additional consequence. The party will disintegrate and its passing will not be regretted because it will have forfeited any claim it may have had upon the common people of this country.

As the peace party, the Republicans can continue the fight against New Deal socialism and incompetence and look forward to victory. As the second and lesser war party, the Republicans could expect only to disappear as a force for sanity and competence in government.

EXPERT OPINION.

The increase in American exports to Italy and Russia during the first four months was almost exactly equal to the drop in exports to Germany. This seems to support the assertion made by the British that Hitler had been beating the blockade via his two nonbelligerent allies.

Additional sources of materials from the outside have been the Scandinavian countries. As in the last war, the imports by Norway, Denmark, and Sweden of American goods rose tremendously last fall and winter. The invasion of Norway and Denmark and the mining of the Skagerrak have shut these doors to Germany.

The entrance of Italy into the war and the voluntary shutting off by Germany of her principal contact with world markets show the great confidence which both Germany and Italy have in a quick victory. Hitler would have preferred Italy as a nonbelligerent who could bring him essential materials from the outside if he thought the war was to be a long drawn contest. And Mussolini is so completely dependent upon imports for raw materials that he could not afford to enter a war in which his ports would be blockaded, unless victory seemed about to be snatched. Hitler and Mussolini may be mistaken, but they are completely convinced that an early victory is to be theirs.

THE PEG IS PULLED.

Wheat is harvested in the summer and fall and is consumed all thru the year. Between one harvest and the next many things can happen to influence price. Some one has to assume this risk. If the elevator companies or the millers took the risk themselves there would have to be a very wide margin between what the farmer was paid and what the consumer was charged. The business of grain speculation arose to provide price insurance to those whose business it is to handle grain. The storage companies and the millers give up to the speculators the prospect for gain from an advance in price, and in turn they are protected against loss from a drop in price.

Here is how the business works. Farmers sell grain at harvest time to the elevator companies. The latter immediately sell an equivalent amount for delivery some time in the future. What the elevator can pay the farmer depends upon the price the competing speculators are willing to pay for the grain. Among the speculators there is most active competition. It is thus both in the interest of the farmers, the grain storage people, and the processors that speculators be given every inducement to ply their trade.

In the week which ended Saturday, May 18, the speculators took a terrific beating, due to a decline of 34 cents per bushel in the future market. After the close of the market that day the Board of Trade, at the request of the secretary of agriculture, put into effect a rule that henceforth there could be no transactions in grain futures below the closing price that day.

At the opening of business the following Monday prices rose moderately, due to covering by shorts. But thereafter the price sagged and it has not since risen much above the minimum. The fixing of a minimum actually increased the possibility of loss thru speculation. For, if the price should decline to the minimum and no one wanted to pay that much, the speculator couldn't dispose of his holdings at all.

The result of minimum price rule was to paralyze speculation. Transactions on the Board of Trade fell to as little as one-tenth of previous proportions. If the minimum price were kept in effect the prospect loomed that elevators and millers would be unable to hedge in the future market the grain they purchased from the farmers.

The Board of Trade on Tuesday wisely rescinded its action of May 18, so that beginning tomorrow the peg will be out. Insurance against a decline in grain prices will again be available to all. The secretary of agriculture hasn't formally approved of the board's action, but no objection is expected from him in view of a statement he made seven years ago. He said in July, 1933, as minimum prices then were being abolished: "We cannot keep up the price of wheat by pegging futures. We are not engaging in a stabilization operation."

NOTE ON LAKE MICHIGAN.

The other day there was an item in the paper which reported that the temperature of the lake is 50 degrees. That furnishes the occasion for remarking that there is something mysterious about the waters of Lake Michigan. It doesn't seem to make much difference what kind of a spring we have, warm or cold. About July 4 or a little later the water gets warm enough for comfortable bathing and it stays that way until about the middle of September.

Why that should be we don't know. You would think that a warm spring would produce a warm lake in mid-June and that a cold spring would delay the swimming season for a couple of weeks. It doesn't seem to work that way. Why?

Editorial of the Day

CONGRESS SHOULD NOT GO A. W. O. L. THIS SUMMER.

[Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.]

If congress leaves the capital this summer before affairs within and outside the nation are much more settled than they are now, it will be A. W. O. L. It will be absent without leave—without the leave of the American people. And it will deserve the same kind of political treatment as the military treatment accorded that offense—at the least, a dishonorable discharge.

Congress can't plead that it has taken the orders of a superior officer, despite the hints from executive offices that it should finish up its work and go home. For the executive offices cannot, by the remotest stretch of the constitution and the imagination, be considered as superior to congress. In some countries the top man still has the right to dissolve parliament. Not here. Here the legislative branch of the government has only one superior—the American people themselves. And the American people don't want congress to quit and go home.

There is a great deal of work for congress to do this summer. It has first to complete the appropriations for defense. It has, next, to consider the Walter-Logan bill, designed to curb burocratic justice and restore judicial justice. It has the Hatch act to weigh, and the amendments to the national labor relations act which have been crying for attention for months. The proper consideration of those measures is not to be given in a day or two. Full debate should be accorded each one.

But even besides those hangover bills which need congressional attention, there is the prospect that this summer will bring many problems to Washington. The largest defense program the country has ever contemplated in peacetime is about to begin. There have been charges of waste and inefficiency in the development of our armed forces. The only agency which can possibly investigate and correct administrative procedure in the new construction of American defense is congress. And the only way congress can do that is to stay on the job until the job is finished.

EAT, DRINK, AND BE MERRY—

While our income taxes were being increased, and our airplanes sold; while Senator Paprika was breathing fire and old men in iron pants were shaking it up for war, we became weary of the animal kingdom and turned to the vegetable. In fact, we discovered a new vegetable, and sitting in epicurean judgment upon it, we found it good.

The name, if you please, is "fiddle hooks." Any one with a sense of curiosity will surely say, "Bring me a dish of that," the first time he sees this oddity on the carte du jour.

Fiddle hooks are alleged to be the offspring of misalliances between string beans, broccoli, and asparagus. If this is true, hybridization has stunted the mongrel, because a single fiddle hook is about the size, shape, and weight of a quarter of a dollar. But for their dark green color, we would say that fiddle hooks are a cross between a watch fob and a watch spring. They are flat spirals, tightly wound; snail-like or shell-like of suggestion.

Maybe they are grown by men from Mars by the light of moon, but the maitre d'hotel who served them to us said the market man had told him they were grown in New York state. They are pleasant side dish eating; the taste is delicate, with a faint overtone of oyster plant.

You ought to be on tenterhooks to get a dish of fiddle hooks.

There's a synthetic vegetable going around called the "topato." It is said to be the result of grafting tomato plants on potato roots, and to be like a potato, but starchless. We intend to take a firm stand against this monstrosity. We don't like its name, and starch has no terrors for us.

The French army is too busy now, but in times of peace it has a happy custom of saluting the famous vineyard of Clos Vougeot. On Route National 74, south of Dijon, in the Burgundy region, the vineyard wall borders the road. Any regiment that happens to march by salutes, at command, with rifle barrels lifted toward the vines. A certain Gen. Brisson [not Napoleon] originated the custom.

When Automobiles Were Unsightly (1902)

Official summary of the American Derby at the old Washington Park race track June 21, 1902:

"Otis made early pace to backstretch, where he tired. Wyeth made one of the greatest stretch runs ever seen in this event, being pocketed repeatedly, but under remarkable handling wove in and out of various traps and started to roll at the head of the stretch. He whipped a furious band of late comers who had delayed their finishes yet could not stand off the gallant charge of Wyeth. . . .

"Autos were barred from the grounds as noisy and unsightly."

School Days of Lillian Russell.

When Lillian Russell was in Miss Sarah O. Flagg's class [June 7 and 12] the Tilden school was the Elizabeth street "primary," and only went to fifth grade. I was in that class and remember Nell Leonard very well, for her long yellow hair was the admiration of all of us. That was in 1873, and we were 11 years old.

The Leonards lived in a pretty stone house on Fulton street near Sheldon. The mother was a very gifted woman, and all four daughters were noted for their culture and blonde beauty.

Nobody knows but the column conductor
(The column conductor and me)
That the ditty as run in the lush light of print
Does not haply happen to be
Precisely the same as 'twas sent to the pape;
The jest or the joke or the jingle or jape,
The whimsy, the quip or the crotchet or quirk
The meter is sweeter: less limpy, you see;
The whole thing is rounder and smoother: ah, oui!
Yeh, the stuff as it catches the daylight in print
Owes no truer helper than he

Americans Under the Skin.

I sat in a barber's chair and listened to a colored man defend America. He was answering a man who would probably be a good prospect for a fifth column recruiting agent. He was answering with every argument he could marshal. This man's race has not had an easy time of it in this America of ours and yet he was defending her with all the enthusiasm of a great patriot. When he finished I wanted to step down and congratulate him. Ward Monte.

When some adventurous young Americans wish to organize an air corps to assist the allies, I suggest they call it the Uncle Shylock escadrille. Or would that be rubbing it in too much?

RECKLESS FLIRTING WITH OLD SOL.

NOW that summer is practically here many of us will be giving more thought to the building of health. At least we can be outdoors a goodly part of the time and thus soak up a generous quantity of sunshine — the force that maintains life upon the earth. But there is such a thing as an overdose and a burn may spoil what otherwise would be an enjoyable season. Just because it is to be had for the asking, we need not indulge to the detriment of the skin or the circulation.

The sensible thing to do is to acquire a tan gradually. As pigment is developed vitamin D is manufactured and we may sense the fact that the tissues are in better tone and the nervous system more stable.

The surface of the body will stand reddening, but should this blush persist longer than five or six hours, we may infer correctly that exposure has been too long. On the following day we should decrease the amount. The one who attempts to speed up the process and who uncovers a large area of sensitive cuticle to this powerful agent may suffer some damage not only to the skin itself, but to the kidneys. Blisters, altho unnecessary, may be endured and healing will come eventually, but we cannot be quite so certain about the influence upon internal organs. If pulmonary tuberculosis is present—or even arrested—sun baths are considered dangerous.

Those who are thin skinned and blond will require even a more cautious approach. They will not be able to withstand more than half the dosage of those with dark hair. In fact, every one should make up his mind that the browning must be taken on slowly, if it is to be safe. A thin film of olive oil or coconut oil will act as a filter and reduce the ferocity of the rays. But even this coating will not prevent burning. We must remember also that light reflected from water is very strong and possesses destructive as well as health giving properties.

Should heedlessness result in injury to the epidermis the best remedy for the smarting and the blisters is a solution of tannic acid. One or two tablespoonfuls may be dissolved in two-thirds of a glass of water—and gauze dressings soaked in this material may be applied directly to the affected areas. This allays irritation and coagulates the fluid in the lesions. If marked redness only is complained of any good cold cream will suffice. In severe cases the temperature will rise and the patient may be quite ill. This means that one should seek the nearest good hospital where expert care may be secured.

A program which almost any one can adopt permits half a minute exposure the first day, increasing by one-half minute daily until five or six minutes may be withstood with comfort. When the pigmentation is deep enough the individual may remain in the sun for a long period. With some, the heat will be so intense that cold cloths will be needed for the forehead. Perspiration may be disregarded unless it is extreme. Before starting the sunning program it is usually well to rub the body with some bland ointment. This helps to remove rough scales and many a victim will be astonished to see how rapidly blemishes will disappear by the time a mahogany hue is attained.

The trouble with many vacations is that it takes so long to get over them. Their after effects may deplete one's reserves extensively. We wish to store vitamin D. We desire to stretch sluggish muscles. Let us not try to do it all in a week or two. Particular attention must be paid to Old Sol, who resents our foolhardiness in embracing his ultraviolet rays too lavishly.

We should also recall that the eyes must be protected against glare. This is especially true of automobile drivers and those who spend many hours on the water. Suitable glasses are available which will guard against annoying brightness which — if excessive — may be responsible for acute pain. The tinted lenses must be free from blemishes so that no distortion of sight will occur.

INFLAMMATION.

M. B. writes: What is meant by mastitis? How does it affect the body?

REPLY.

Inflammation of the mammary gland. This appears occasionally in mothers who are nursing their babies. If an abscess forms it should be opened and drained. If managed by a skilful physician no permanent damage ensues.

ALCOHOL EXTERNALLY.

G. L. writes: After bathing I massage the body with alcohol. Is this a good plan?

REPLY.

Excellent if the skin is inclined to be oily. If it is dry, some will prefer cocoa butter.

PEROXIDE BLONDES.

H. T. writes: Could peroxide as a hair bleach injure the nervous system? I have several friends who use it who suffer from some type of nervous disorder.

REPLY.

No effect upon general health—not even one's temper. Dizzy blondes are likely to be that way to start with.

NEURASTHENIA.

J. R. writes: What is a neurasthenic?

REPLY.

APPEAL TO YOUNG AMERICANS.

New York, June 11.—We, young Americans, representing all American political parties and creeds, have organized under the leadership of William Allen White's Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, to awaken our fellow citizens to the dangers awaiting America if the Nazi campaign for world domination is unchecked.

We recognize that the immediate threat against our lives, our liberty, and our security is a Nazi victory. Therefore, we are convinced that we should bring the greatest possible support, short of war, to the allies who are now bearing the brunt of the world's struggle against this threat. It is far better to give such support today than to fight a war of tomorrow alone.

To this end we urge the President:

1. To make available to the allies as many planes as may, in the opinion of the President, be released without impairing our national defense.

2. To make available $100,000,000 for the purchase of clothing, supplies, and food now in American storehouses, to be dispensed by properly constituted agencies for the aid of the 5 million Dutch, Belgian, and French refugees within the war zone.

3. To stop the export of war materials to countries from which they may find their way to aggressor nations.

4. To take any other necessary measures, short of war, to assure the fullest possible support to the allies.

We call upon our fellow young Americans to join us in this action to defend our nation. Interested young men and women who read this letter should respond by immediately forming a local committee of our Youth Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.

All possible assistance will be given from national headquarters, 8 West 40th street, New York City.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS.

Chicago, June 10.—Congratulations on 93 years of fine work. My father subscribed to The Tribune for over 30 years. Many more years of success to you.

E. C.

East Chicago, Ind., June 10.—Happy birthday to The Chicago Tribune and may there be many, many returns of the day.

Because it stands for all that is sane and just The Tribune is an inspiration to its readers. E. J. H.

"GOD BLESS AMERICA."

Chicago, June 11.—I have noticed with interest a letter in this morning's Tribune under the heading "Asks for Cheery Bells," and initialed "E. H."

Will you inform the party who was so kind as to call our attention to the melodies on our chimes that we have ordered "God Bless America," and hope to have same played very shortly.

If this party has any other suggestions to offer we would like to have them.

President Old Heidelberg Corporation.

ALWAYS ROOM AT THE FRONT.

Chicago, June 11.—I see some of our most influential American citizens are lending their names to the worst kind of war propaganda for the purpose of getting this country into the European war.

If they feel it is so vital that this nation must get into the scrap why don't they form a battalion and be the first A. E. F. to join the allies? Tim.

ALL GOOD AMERICANS.

Chicago, June 11.—In your column this morning a certain "L. J. W." implies that the All Belgians Are Equal club is not 100 per cent American and quite possibly a subversive element. May I state for L. J. W.'s benefit that the A. B. E. is purely a social club in every sense of the word.

The members gather together for the same simple reason that American tourists abroad frequently seek each other's company. The A. B. E. meeting hall is a place where Belgian-born Americans and those of Belgian extraction can see educational travel movies of Belgium, dance Belgian dances, sing Belgian songs, and play Belgian games.

International politics has no influence on the club's activities, and the members are as much American as anybody else with the possible exception of the North American Indian. G. J. Buyse.

Chicago, June 11.—As a third generation American and also as a member of two societies in the Swiss clubhouse, I feel qualified to answer the charge of "L. J. W." that foreign name societies split the allegiance of their members toward the United States.

In all large cities thruout the world there are clubs whose members are Americans and who celebrate all of our national holidays without restriction from any foreign government.

Most of the organizations listed are older than L. J. W. ever will be and their allegiance to the United States is shown at every civic function they attend. Most of the groups mentioned would enjoy a call to show you or any one else how 100 per cent American they really are. David Zweifel Jr.

[Several other replies to "L. J. W.," to the same effect as the above, have been received.]

LIGHTS TO SAVE WREATHS.

Chicago, June 11.—Speaking about hazardous crossings, unprotected by stop lights, there is, without doubt, no equal to the one at Western avenue and Adams street. Adams street makes a decided bend in direction at this intersection and the pedestrian who copes with the traffic on Western avenue, coupled with the right and left hand turns off and on to Adams street, has safety thru sheer luck and not by precaution.

There have been people hit at this intersection, myself included, but no fatalities—yet.

Let's sloganize this and all similar intersections with "Install stop lights and save the floral wreaths." W. E. M.

PLEADS FOR MORE THAN CHARITY.

East Harpswell, Me., June 10.—Who are we, as Americans, to feel that our only rôle is to hold out the bread of charity alone, at such a time as this, to the great mother democracy from which we sprang, to a proud sister democracy, who once gave of her life blood for the establishment of our own, while today these two proud and great nations fight for their very life?

Let us beware, too, of playing just "Little Red Riding Hood," with the basket of dainties on her arm, too long, lest the wolf, in turn, recognizing a prize held by weak hands, turn on us also.

BORAH IS MISSED.

Glenview, Ill., June 10.—All news items emanating from our capitol should carry a heavy black border as a tribute to the memory of our fearless statesman, the late Senator Borah. All this news bears silent testimony to the sad fact that the voice which was always raised in behalf of the true interests of his country is stilled.

Lulu K. Melzer.

"FLY A FLAG IN '40."

Chicago, June 10.—If every family in the United States procured a 4 by 6 American flag the cotton surplus would be gone with the wind, accompanied by a flapping sound.

Slogan: "Fly a Flag in 40."

TODAY IN HISTORY

June 13, 1786

Gen. Winfield Scott, who led American forces to victory over Mexico in 1847, born near Petersburg, Va. He was in army service from 1807 until 1861, during the last 20 years of which he was commanding general of the United States army. He was discussed as a presidential possibility as early as 1839, and in 1852 he received the Whig nomination. A tendency to be outspoken, however, and a division in the Whig ranks led to his defeat.

BUILDING EXITS.

Chicago, June 5.—[Friend of the People.]—I was out looking for apartments before the first of the month, and there was one in particular that was for rent on Broadway. The sign on the door said to get the key at first floor rear. I went to the rear to secure the key from a woman in a wheel chair, and the children from the building were playing in the hall. When I was going back to the yard I was surprised to find that these people who live in the rear had no back entrance.

Isn't it against the fire ordinance for an old building like this to have only one entrance? If there was a fire this invalid and the children would be trapped.

M. K.

The owner of the above mentioned premises has been notified to provide an additional exit at the rear of this building.

If the work is not done at the expiration of time allotted in our notice, we will proceed according to law.

Democrats Spurn Offers of Indorsements.

Jackson Will Speak

Madison, Wis., June 12 [Special].—The announcement today that United States Attorney General Robert H. Jackson will be the principal speaker here June 23 at the 15th annual memorial services at the grave of Robert M. La Follette Sr. promptly stirred apprehension among Wisconsin Democrats that Jackson's visit may result in a pat on the back for Senator Robert La Follette Jr., who is up for reëlection this fall. Jackson is high in New Deal councils and usually speaks with White House authority.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 12.—The strategy of New Dealers at the state Democratic convention at Green Bay in inviting recommendations for state offices, but asking that the nomination for the senate be kept open, is interpreted as an effort to permit President Roosevelt again to swing his support to Senator Robert M. La Follette in opposition to the candidate chosen by his party

It gave weight to the open distrust shown by Willis Donley of Menomonie and James T. Cavanaugh of Antigo. Donley declined to accept the convention recommendation for attorney general when the leaders were unable to give assurances that President Roosevelt would not desert the party ticket and help reëlect La Follette as he did in 1934.

Cavanaugh pushed thru a resolution to compel candidates for office to show that they are and have been Democratic party members. It was directed at La Follette's candidacy, Cavanaugh said, "whether the President likes it or not."

Aim Resolution at La Follette.

The resolution not to name a candidate for the senate was believed to have been engineered by Charles E. Broughton, national committeeman and Wisconsin spokesman for the New Deal.

State Chairman William D. Carroll sensed that the purpose of the resolution was to leave the field open for the radical La Follette and caused the adoption of a resolution permitting the nomination of candidates for the senate from the floor of the convention. Carroll himself was nominated as was James Kerwin, conservative coalition leader and several others who at once withdrew their names.

Recall Action in 1934.

Donley, a leader of the 9th congressional district, told the convention his head had been cut off by the President in 1934 in the middle of his campaign for congress. He said he did not propose to let it happen again. Donley said he would not run for any office unless there was a certainty that the President would support the entire ticket.

The distrust of the Wisconsin Democrats was based on the record of 1934 when Roosevelt rode thru the state with Robert La Follette and by his blessing caused the election of the two La Follettes, Robert as senator and Philip as governor. This defeated Albert G. Schmedeman, who had given the state an efficient and economical administration, and also defeated John M. Callahan, the primary nominee for the senate.

BIG ESTATE SUED BY 2 BOYS BORN OUT OF WEDLOCK

Paternity Charged to Elgin Millionaire.

A petition for a two fifths share in the $2,000,000 estate of Louis A. Eppenstein, president of the Illinois Watch Case company of Elgin, was filed yesterday in the Kane county Probate court at Geneva in behalf of two infant boys, allegedly his children born out of wedlock. The mother of the boys, according to the petition, is Miss Zelda Satlow, 34 years old, who also uses the name of Mrs. Judith Sanford and lives at 10 West Elm street.

Epperstein died last Oct. 24 at the age of 59. His will left his $2,000,000 estate in trust to his widow, Annette, and provided that on her death the principal should be divided equally among their three daughters, Mrs. Maxine Lawton of Chicago, and Mrs. Clarice Kochis and Miss Geraldine Eppenstein of Elgin.

Guardian Named for Suit.

The petition was filed yesterday by the Chicago law firm of Sidley, McPherson, Austin & Burgiss. The plaintiff is their secretary, Mrs. Helen Metz, who was appointed guardian for the infants in the Cook county probate court on June 6 for the duration of the litigation.

According to the attorneys, Eppenstein and Miss Satlow met eight years ago in New York City. He brought her to Chicago and took her on his travels, referring to her as his wife, the attorneys said.

Two Children Born.

Miss Satlow gave birth to a son in the Chicago Lying-In hospital on July 4, 1937, and named it after Eppenstein. The bill states that when she was again expecting a child early last year, Eppenstein asked her to name it Charles after his father if it was a boy and promised it a one-fifth share in the estate—so that the other boy and his daughters would share equally. The second boy was born Aug. 7, 1939, at the Passavant hospital and was named Charles Sanford.

Eppenstein's death, according to the lawyers, prevented him from changing his will to provide the one-fifth shares for each of the boys.

The petition was set for hearing July 13.

Union League Club Urges Congress to Stay on Job

The Union League club of Chicago sent an urgent message to Illinois congressmen and senators yesterday recommending that congress remain in session during "the present alarming state of world conditions." By continuing the present session, the club stated that "congress will best discharge its constitutional functions."

KAINDL'S OFFICE FORCE IS SADLY AWAITING PICNIC

It Will Cost Each 25 Pct. of a Month's Pay.

Three hundred employés of the county recorder were looking forward yesterday with no great gayety to the fourth annual picnic of the Edward J. Kaindl Welfare Association of the Recorder's Office, Inc.

They were told Tuesday night that this frolic, which will be held Aug. 10 at Viani's grove, Park Ridge, will cost each of them 25 per cent of a month's salary. The monthly pay roll is $56,650, hence the picnic should gross $14,162.

"It's a tough rap," one employé said yesterday, "but what can we do?"

It's Voluntary, Says Kaindl.

Recorder Kaindl admitted that he spoke at the Tuesday meeting, which was held in his office, but said he had nothing to do with setting the welfare association assessment.

"That's a voluntary contribution," Kaindl said, "and I have nothing to do with it. The welfare association was organized about 1935 and is separate from this office. The officers and members decide what they will give."

Kaindl said the organization funds were used to make loans to employés, buy flowers for funerals, to aid families of deceased employés and to make loans to employés.

Also Payless Days.

"That 25 per cent of a month's salary estimate was made," he said, "but that's high. It won't cost them more than 10 or 12 per cent."

Employés said the picnic assessment came on top of an order for a week of payless days. They said that, starting with their last check, they received one payless day, and that this is to continue with each salary check until a week has been contributed.

Kaindl said this step was made necessary by a budget cut and an increase in business. The county budget shows that the recorder received $679,915 for salaries in 1940 as against $678,675 for 1939.

BAR COMMITTEE URGES GAMBLING LAW REVISIONS

Amendment of the state search and seizure law to designate racing sheets and other paraphernalia seized in handbooks as prima facie evidence of gambling was recommended yesterday in a report of the Chicago Bar association committee on administration of criminal justice. The committee, headed by Attorney Walter Wiles, will present its report to the association board of managers.

The law now provides that policy and lottery slips are acceptable as gambling evidence, but bookmakers' paraphernalia is only admitted in court as supporting testimony. The committee said that gambling laws are generally adequate, except for bookie cases.

As another method of curbing gambling, the committee suggested strict enforcement of penalties against owners of real estate where such establishments operate.

Press Search for Missing Loan Company Official

Police from the blue sky division of the state's attorney's office and from the Albany Park station continued their search yesterday for Samuel E. Steinberg, president of the Chicago Discount corporation, a mortgage paper concern. He is wanted for questioning concerning an alleged shortage of from $60,000 to $75,000 in the concern's funds. A watch was kept on Steinberg's home, 5000 North Lawndale avenue.

DEWEY TRIUMPHS IN HIS N. Y. FIGHT; SIMPSON OUSTED

Committeeman Loses by Vote of 55 to 37.

Albany, N. Y., June 12 (AP).—Thomas E. Dewey triumphed in a showdown test of his home state strength today when New York's delegation to the Republican national convention voted to oust National Committeeman Kenneth F. Simpson, hostile to Dewey's presidential aspirations.

The delegates, by a count of 55 to 37, nominated J. Russel Sprague of Nassau county, Dewey's campaign manager, to replace Simpson, New York City leader whose feud with Dewey has split the New York state organization for months.

Nomination for the national committee is tantamount to election, since the national convention must confirm selections of the state delegations.

See Strength Enhanced.

Dewey followers asserted the victory of the Manhattan prosecutor's campaign manager would strengthen his candidacy nationally, and considered it a repudiation of Simpson which would nullify much of his influence before the party's presidential candidate is nominated.

Mrs. Ruth Baker Pratt of New York City, the other national committee member, was renominated unanimously.

Speculate on Other Votes.

The result aroused immediate speculation as to which Republican presidential aspirants would garner the 37 "Simpson" delegates at the Philadelphia convention. Support is claimed within the delegation for two New Yorkers besides Dewey—Wendell Willkie and Frank Gannett, Rochester publisher—and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

While Simpson declined comment, his backers have been active, particularly in New York City, in behalf of Willkie. Dewey managers contended, however, several delegates who supported Simpson in the belief the issue should have been left until the convention will vote for Dewey's nomination.

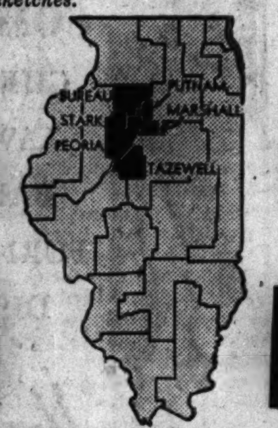
16th District G. O. P. Delegates

This is the fifth in a series of sketches of downstate district delegates to the Republican national convention who will share the task of selecting the G. O. P. candidate for President. Delegates from the 16th district are the subject of today's sketches.

B. C. Heacock.



Counties in 16th District.

Dr. William C. Steele.

B. C. Heacock of Peoria, president of the Caterpillar Tractor company, is a business man who holds the belief that goverment is every man's concern.

Heacock, who is 50 years old, was born in Emporia, Kas. He is a director of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and as such frequently has attacked the policies of the Roosevelt administration.

In 1936 he charged that the New Deal was hindering recovery and praised the Supreme court for nullifying the NRA and the AAA. Later he called upon the government to cease its attacks on business and end fear and uncertainty. As a member of the trade committee of the national chamber he demanded drastic changes in the labor relations act.

Last year Gov. Horner appointed him to the Illinois relief commission, whereupon he warned that jobs should be made the goal of every one on the relief rolls. Last January he accused the National Youth administration of making bums of boys because their dole was being used as family income.

Heacock is chairman of the board of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, and is a member of the state sanitary water board. He also is on the advisory council of the state employment services.

Dr. William C. Steele of De Peu, Bureau county, is the only dentist in the Illinois delegation. He has practiced in De Peu since 1930.

He was born and educated in Spring Valley, and attended Lombard college and the University of Illinois before taking his degree from the Chicago college of dental surgery.

He was elected chairman of the Bureau county G. O. P. central committee six years ago, and this year was reëlected for his fourth consecutive term. On the central committee he represents Selby precinct, No. 2, which includes his home village and surrounding farm areas.

Boating is Dr. Steele's hobby. He is vice commodore of the Mid-West Power Boat association and a member of the Selby Township Sportsmen's club. He is married and has one daughter.

EXPECT ILLINOIS G. O. P. TO INDORSE DEWEY FOR RACE

Convention Meets in Capital Tomorrow.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—Endorsement, in some form of the presidential candidacy of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York is likely to be made by the Republican state convention, which convenes here Friday morning.

Dewey, the young racket-busting prosecutor, polled 977,225 votes in the preferential primary on April 9, running well in each of the 25 congressional districts in Illinois. While the vote given him is not, under the law, binding upon the delegates, the fact that it registered on outstanding preference for him is expected to be brought to the convention's attention.

One Resolution Submitted.

As evidence of this tendency, the committee charged with drafting a preliminary platform for the state meeting received a wholehearted Dewey resolution today from a Springfield lawyer, George B. Gillespie, who demanded that an outright declaration for Dewey be contained in the platform.

The convention managers tonight said they expect between 8,000 and 10,000 attendants at the meeting, which will be held in the state arsenal.

Besides choosing eight delegates at large—a task for which no program had been presented tonight—the convention must choose three, and possibly four, candidates for trustees of the University of Illinois.

Alumni Association Slate.

If the meeting follows the judgment of the University of Illinois Alumni association in the matter of trustee nominations, it is probable that the following will be approved—F. J. Thompson, Chicago, an official of the Illinois Central railroad; Parke Livingston, Chicago lawyer, and Roy Helm, an attorney of Metropolis.

The possibility exists that the convention will recognize a fourth vacanacy due to the recent death of Louis C. Moschel of Pekin, and may nominate Harold [Red] Grange, Illinois football star, for this post.

Principal speakers at the meeting will be four candidates—Wayland Brooks, nominee for senator; Dwight H. Green, nominee for governor; Hugh Cross, nominee for lieutenant governor, and Justus L. Johnson, nominee for secretary of state.

This has been announced before, but Miss Elizabeth Walker, chief telephone operator at the County building, would like it mentioned again: The war has NOT resulted in a decision to issue no more marriage licenses. Miss Walker and her 10 switchboard girls are being swamped with calls asking whether marriage licenses may still be had. The answer, Miss Walker says, is YES!!!

HORNER SIGNS BILL BOOSTING AGED PENSIONS

Gov. Horner, in his summer home in Winnetka, yesterday signed several bills passed by the special legislative session, including the increase of maximum old age pensions from $30 to $40 monthly. Also approved was the amendment to the unemployment compensation bill easing contributions by employers thru the provision that they need not pay upon that portion of salaries above $3,000 paid to their employés.

The governor signed two measures correcting portions of the tax levy measures for the Chicago park district and the public museums, portions which were damaged by the invalidation of the tax preadjudication law. Other bills signed included two to aid Peoria in developing its airport.

Alexander Wilson, Horner's administrative assistant, brought the measures from Springfield to the residence in Winnetka where the governor is resting. His health is understood to have improved slightly in the last few days.

18,000 IDLE A DAY AS CITY SEEKS TO SAVE WPA JOBS

Eighteen thousand WPA workers on city sponsored projects were given a holiday yesterday as city and WPA officials struggled to find some way of preventing permanent layoffs for workers on all projects using state relief funds for part of the cost.

The day was used by supervisors and foremen for an inventory of work done and materials remaining or needed. The city faces the necessity of abandoning many projects at the end of June. Since the Illinois Emergency Relief commission voted to halt its contributions, only $100,000 is available from this source instead of the $414,907 needed to wind up present projects.

"Unless somebody yields, WPA men must be laid off and many streets and sewer ditches will remain open," said Oscar E. Hewitt, city commissioner of public works.

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By HOMER WEISZ

Everything Goes Wrong.

June 12, 1940.

EVERYTHING seemed to have gone wrong at the Du Page county farm today as the weather and a series of common farm errors combined to disrupt work schedules and lose two days' time for the workers right in the midst of a busy season.

To start with, the wet weather has allowed weeds and grass to get ahead of the corn because the fields have been too wet to cultivate. Then the alfalfa was ready to cut. It seemed for a time that the plan to put the hay in silos instead of curing it would prove a comfort, as it could be harvested for silage without much interference from the wet weather.

Hopes of filling the silos without interruption soon faded, however. When the work was started yesterday it was found that the silo to be filled first needed painting. It was the silo at the dairy barn and the herdsman had failed to report that it needed a coat of paint. As a result he is now quite unpopular among the other farm workers.

Machines Out of Order.

The silo was painted and, after the paint had dried, the men drove into one of the alfalfa fields with mowers, wagons, and hay loaders, thinking they were ready at last to get the harvest under way. Immediately they found that they had not put the haying machinery in order.

At the time when the first loads of alfalfa should have been going thru the hay chopper and into the silo, the men were wading around in the wet alfalfa, fighting mosquitoes, and trying to fix the machinery that might have been repaired easily and in comfort in the tool shed on days when the weather was not suitable for work in the fields.

To add to their trouble, the men found themselves working alongside a ditch that runs from the Wheaton sewage disposal plant thru one side of the farm. These sewage disposal works never have been run efficiently and are not being run at all now. Consequently the odor near the ditch is almost too much to bear.

Two Days' Work Lost.

All this lack of preparation has lost two days' work already. Avoidable mistakes of this kind are all too common among farmers, and illustrate the lack of proper planning by many of them.

The workers say the alfalfa is just at the right stage now for making silage. Some of the plants started blooming about a week ago. All the silos will be filled with hay silage this year in order to save all the corn for grain.

The first strawberries of the season were picked yesterday.

Polls 59.23 Per Cent of G. O. P. Vote.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Eighteen Iowa cities are in today's tabulation of results in THE TRIBUNE'S preconvention straw vote in which Republicans and Democrats are registering their answer to the question "Who Is Your Choice for Nomination for President?" Rural areas and industrial towns, giving a cross section of farm and city opinion, are in the day's batch.

Thomas E. Dewey, New York candidate for the Republican nomination at the Philadelphia convention June 24, keeps far in front in the straws. In a total of 7,626 Republican straws, Dewey has 59.23 per cent. Wendell Willkie, in second place, has 12.67 per cent.

Vote Evenly Balanced.

Out of 7,204 Democratic straws in Iowa, President Roosevelt has 82.75 per cent. The voting is pretty evenly balanced between the two parties. Out of a total of 14,830 straws, Republicans have cast 51.4 per cent and Democrats 48.6. It is an indication of how the corn belt feels on any proposal to adjourn politics because of the European war.

The tally in Iowa now stands:

REPUBLICANS.

Dewey	4,517	59.23%
Willkie	966	12.67%
Taft	702	9.21%
MacNider	669	8.77%
Vandenberg	628	8.23%
Bricker	43	.56%
Martin	38	.50%
Hoover	19	.25%
Bridges	12	.16%
Scattering	32	.42%

DEMOCRATS.

Roosevelt	5,961	82.75%
Hull	365	5.07%
Farley	314	4.36%
Garner	230	3.19%
McNutt	100	1.39%
Smith	80	1.11%
Wheeler	70	.97%
Clark	65	.90%

Dewey Keeps Far Ahead.

Nine cities in the 7th congressional district in the southwestern corner of the state are among those in today's table. This district has a Republican congressman. Four years ago President Roosevelt carried the district by only 2,016 votes, and Alf M. Landon carried seven of its 13 counties.

In this Republican area Dewey keeps far ahead, with 54 per cent of the Republican straws. Taft ran better here than in any other Iowa district so far tabulated, but he has less than a fourth of the straws given to Dewey. Taft is second with 12 per cent.

Six cities in the second district piled up Dewey leads. This district has a Democrat congressman. Dewey has 57 per cent of the Republican straws there so far.

Leads in All Cities.

In the table are some cities with notable industries, such as Cedar Rapids and Clinton, which have two of the world's largest corn products factories. Cedar Rapids boasts it has the largest cereal plant in the world. Red Oak, in southwestern Iowa, is the home of one of the largest calendar factories in the world. Dewey leads by large margins in all Iowa cities so far.

In the Amana colonies, about 20 miles from Iowa City, the straws were evenly split. The seven colonies, with a 1,400 population, are a community experiment in which residents are shareholders in a two million dollar stock corporation which has woolen mills and a furniture works.

Iowa City politicians told the canvassers that the folks at Amana probable would refuse to vote, but the vote getting proved easy enough. The voters cast an equal number of Republican and Democrat straws. Dewey got three times as many votes as Vandenberg, who ran second there.

In the 18 cities giving today's 3,056 new Republican straws, Hanford MacNider, Iowa's favorite son, runs third with about 10.5 per cent. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio has about one-tenth of the straws, and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan has somewhat less than Taft. In this single day's bath of ballots Dewey kept far at the top with more than 55 per cent. He got four times as many straws as his nearest rival, Willkie, who had about 13 per cent.

Selfridge Jr. and Bride Leave City for New York

H. Gordon Selfridge Jr., son of the London merchant, and his bride, the former Charlotte Elsie Dennis, of England, are on their way to New York, friends here said yesterday. The couple applied for a marriage license in Waukegan June 5, received the license Monday and were immediately married. Selfridge, an American citizen, gave his age as 40, and his address as Libertyville. His bride is 42. Neither has been married before.

NINE BOOKIES FINED $5.

Nine defendants pleaded guilty to accepting horse race bets in South State street court yesterday and were fined $5 and $8.50 costs each by Judge Gibson E. Gorman.

WILLKIE BEGINS OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR NOMINATION

Predicts He'll Win on Early Ballot.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Wendell Willkie, New York lawyer and utility head, announced here today that he has become a full fledged candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Wendell Willkie.

Abandoning the dark horse rôle, Mr. Willkie said that his name will be formally submitted to the convention by Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, of which Mr. Willkie is a native. Representative Bruce Barton [R., N. Y.] will make the chief seconding speech. Mr. Willkie said he is assured of substantial support in 27 states, that he can have a minimum of 70 votes on the first ballot if he so desires, and that he believes he will be nominated on about the sixth ballot.

For Roosevelt in 1932.

So far the Republican leaders have appeared cool to the aspirations of Mr. Willkie, who formerly was a Democrat and voted for Mr. Roosevelt in 1932. He said today that he contributed $150 to the Roosevelt campaign fund in 1932. He did not quit the Democratic party, he said; the party quit him and he voted for Alf M. Landon in 1936. Asked whether he had encountered prejudice to his nomination because he is president of a great utility, the Commonwealth and Southern, Mr. Willkie said:

"No. Practically the reverse. I think it is a trend. The people are weary of business baiting. They want to see confidence in government. They want united action. They believe in the private enterprise system."

Favors Aid for Allies.

On the war issue Mr. Willkie favors a policy of giving all possible aid to the allies short of sending our armed forces to Europe.

"The most important election issue," said Mr. Willkie, "will be the proved inability of the New Deal to build adequate national defense. In the second place, both in the defense economy and the domestic economy, there will be the issue of the necessity to start the flow of capital into industry—plant expansion and new enterprise—and to take men off relief and increase the national income, plus the general philosophy of the New Deal, which is increasing the power of the central government."

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 10¢ and 25¢. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

National College Confers Degrees on Class of Ninety

The National College of Education in Evanston conferred the degree of bachelor of education upon a class of ninety students yesterday morning at its 54th June commencement. Carrying the traditional daisy chain, the prettiest girls of the sophomore class, dressed in billowy white organdie, formed an honorary escort for the black robed seniors and faculty in the commencement procession to Harrison hall, where the exercises were held. Dr. Kirk O'Farrell, dean of the Episcopal church of Detroit, gave the address to the graduates. President Edna Dean Baker of the college presented diplomas and announced scholarship awards.

WEDDING

Mrs. Albert H. Keith of 7646 Greenview avenue announces the marriage on June 8 of her daughter, Eleanor, to John Powell Madden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Madden of 1138 Farwell avenue. The ceremony took place at the First Congregational church in Evanston, the Rev. Hugh E. Brown officiating. A reception followed at the Georgian hotel. Mr. Madden and his bride will reside in Chicago.

It's Parental Duty to Help Child Attain Good Posture

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The parental admonitions delivered to growing girls and most often heard, are: "Stop frowning!" "Take that out of your mouth!" and "Stand up straight!"

A couple of mothers were discussing this the other day. One said: "The mothers before us and the mothers that come after us will be singing the same refrain, I expect!"

And they probably will! But if the mothers don't keep after the youngsters, no one else will. They're the ones ordained by nature to handle the job effectively, and they should raise their girls to be something in the world of attractive women.

But as we have said before, there's little use in admonishing youngsters to straighten up, if they haven't the back muscle strength for spine support. The smart mother today sees to it that the girl with the slumping spine gets and practices a few good strengthening exercises daily. Outdoor play exercise is good, of course, but the trouble with the "slumpers" is that they so often would rather be curled up with a book or a magazine in hand than be outdoors playing. When the beach season is in swing, there's a grand ally to be found in swimming, which even the lazy girl takes to ordinarily. Swimming is a de luxe muscle strengthener, along with its other incomparable health advantages. But mamma will have to do the prodding of the young one into these beautifying plans.

A cruel cure for that habit of putting objects in the mouth was perpetrated by one mother, tired of telling her girl to take things out. She made the youngster walk around for a half hour with a pencil in her mouth. But it worked as a cure!

The frowning habit may call for eye-testing, sight-testing. If it's just a habit, we don't know anything but nagging and reminding that will smooth the brow, unless it is pride-building, when the youngster might be told she's be a beauty but for that habit.

Separate Skirt Makes Smart Party Costume

BY REA SEEGER.

Nonexistent a couple of years back, now the shopping finds of the season, separate skirts ready for the making of a distinctive costume for day or night time occasions rate the best enthusiasm of the day. New arrivals are destined for summery ensembles for dining or dancing. You'll find flowered organdies with ruffled flounces that couldn't be more romantic for open air dancing under the stars. White, pink or sky blue backgrounds have cool looking realistic roses and foliage for contrast and such eye catching appeal clicks with the dancing partners instantly.

Most of these organdy skirts are gathered artfully into medium wide band belts. The gored skirts are made of gay checked taffeta or pique in stripes, solid colors or large plaids. Bias cut ruffles foam out around the hemlines of the gored models with some circular cut flounces as alternatives. Old fashioned, cool looking, dotted swiss skirts flutter among these other finds, the dots the pin point size, the background of cool white.

Black jerseys, chiffons, and crêpes, together with chalk whites of the same clinging materials, are high fashions ready for combining with either blouse type jackets or with the many fascinating long sleeved shirtwaists of filmy sheers. Anything and everything is possible for the skirt and blouse mixer with such a large and varied summer assortment. Color contrasts, patterns, thin and thick cool fabrics, a half dozen interesting models and modest price marks make these showings the best summer shopping bait for your extra money.

Headlines and Recollections.

The newspaper headlines, black and inescapable, on a loop corner stand—Hitler Claims Occupation of Rheims, Rouen; Push Foes Across Seine. A foolish cotton polar bear in the corner store window pretends to sip a drink thru a straw, a chic red hat on his rounded head, a red pocketbook dangling from his chubby paw. The shop window scene fades. . . .

Green meadows along the Seine. A peaceful, pastoral countryside, with roses blooming in profusion and birds singing. Jumieges, green and lovely, with fine old trees and the enchanting marble ruins of the abbey, once a favorite resort of Charles VII. and Agnes Sorel, Dame de Beauté. . . . Duclair, five miles from Rouen, and the darling little provincial inn on the very edge of the Seine, where one ate pressed duck and green salad, and drank excellent Burgundy, smelled the roses, and watched the cargo ships go up and down the Seine.

Apart from the smoke and fire, men are dying by the thousands. In unbearable heat, the wounded lie crying out in agony for water and medicine, reads the dispatch. They are firing towns and murdering civilians. . . .

That little girl and her brother who were loitering near the tomb Diane de Poitiers erected in the cathedral at Rouen in memory of her husband—are they safe? The friendly proprietor of the Hotel de la Poste that served incomparable food—is he gone and his place in ruins? The statue to Joan of Arc in the market place, the fourteenth century belfry and clock tower, beloved of etchers, are they in ruins, with twisting columns of black smoke covering the débris? Is the market place where the Maid was burned to death a funeral pyre for countless young patriots? A dozen sights and scenes of this city, visited during a motor trip along the Seine to Paris, flood the memory.

One remembers, too, the remark quoted by Clara Laughlin, in So You're Going to France, of the man who taught French officers at the Superior School of the War: "A battle won is a battle in which one is not able to believe one's self vanquished." That feeling must be in the hearts of the Frenchmen now fighting to save their homeland. One remembers hopefully, too, Gen. Foch's immortal telegram from the Marne battlefield in 1914 to headquarters while the Germans were celebrating their victory: "My center is giving way; my right is pushed back; excellent; I'll attack."

1,000 Immigrants Get Diplomas in Americanism Today

Pablos from Mexico, Ludmillas, and Stanislauses from Poland, an Elizabeth or two from England, Vincentes from Italy, Olafs from Sweden—one thousand Americans in the making, men and women ranging in years from 16 to 85, will be given a star spangled commencement today by the adult branch of the board of education. The exercises will be held at 2 p. m. in Simpson hall of the Field museum.

Of the thousand, 350 will receive high school entrance diplomas from Miss Frances K. Wetmore, supervisor of adult education. The others will get certificates indicating they have completed courses of study in American history and government.

Behind the commencement is the dramatic story of 13,000 immigrants from 59 different countries who, awakened to a new patriotism, are learning the American way of life. They gather in 260 Chicago centers—settlements, church and club halls, schools and park fieldhouses—for classes in English, American history and government, geography, and handicrafts.

Some upon enrolling could not write their names. Some have been educated in the greatest universities of Europe.

How to Clean White Articles Around House

BY LOUISE BARGELT.

Summer wind and dust can be hard on the white accessories around the house, but most of these accessories can come clean if we know how to turn the trick. Important, too, this knowledge, since we have so much white around us these days. Woodwork and walls, perhaps—and certainly accessories without number.

White window shades: If these are not washable, a commercial wall paper cleaner will probably do the work. Or they can be coated with a cold water paint or kalsomine bought in powdered form. If they are washable, they should be spread over a flat surface and sponged with mild soap suds. Then rinsed quickly and dried thoroly.

White accessories such as alabaster book ends, ash trays, vases, and so on, can be washed with mild soap and water and a brush that is soft enough not to scratch. Alcohol or benzol can be used on a stubborn stain. Marble comes clean with soft cloths and soft brushes, and if any spots are worn, scour them with whiting.

For those white patent leather articles: You can remove fingermarks with a cloth dipped in cold milk. Then polish with a soft cloth. Try white vaseline if your patent leather gets checked and dried.

Candles, white or pastel, can be brightened and have their lustre renewed by saturating a cloth with alcohol and rubbing surfaces.

If your white woodwork has had good quality paint and enamel, it can be washed with mild soap and water. Don't rub too hard as that will dull gloss. Use some such frictional substance as whiting on a stubborn spot or stain, and dry after a thoro rinsing.

If your woodwork seems to have been painted with a rather poor quality paint that shows signs of coming off easily, omit the soap, and wash with water in which you have boiled several onions. Or you can use kerosene. Moisten a cloth with this oil and rub paint until it is clean. Very good also for sooty woodwork, tho it should not be used too frequently as it may turn paint a yellwish tone in time.

In case some one has struck a match on a nicely painted wall, try rubbing with a piece of lemon. Commercial wall paper cleaners will clean a papered wall, and in case you find a grease spot rub in Fuller's earth and let it stand over night, or longer. Then brush it off carefully. Don't rub it off!

If you have white enameled furniture on a metal base you can use soap and warm water to clean it. However, if it is wooden furniture enameled white, apply some sifted whiting with a moistened cloth.

For white stone steps or sills and so on, you can rub them with coarse sandpaper, and then brush with a cloth. Ivory can take a light water-cleaning, providing it isn't new ivory. Don't leave ivory in water, however. And any ivory piece that has been discolored can be cleaned with salt and the juice of lemons.

Corduroy and velveteen cushion covers and the like can be laundered at home. White velvet cushion tops and boudoir accessories had better be cleaned professionally tho they can always be given a steaming at home to bring up nap.

Radio Would Relieve Tedium of Ailing Man's Lonely Hours

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Mr. B. is 56 years old, ill, and terribly underweight. Because he is unemployable he is on relief. His budget is extremely meager and provides for only the cheapest kind of lodging and meals. He lives alone in a single room in a drab district west of the loop.

His life is a lonesome one, since he has no relatives and few friends, and is seldom well enough to leave his room. A small radio would provide him with a wealth of entertainment and pleasure and he would be most appreciative if some reader could supply one. The social worker will be glad to pick it up for him.

We have many similar cases in all sections of the city—appeals from men and women who are ill and alone, living in tiny rooms, with few friends or relatives to provide either assistance or companionship. Radios bring immeasurable happiness to such persons, so if you have an extra one to place, please let us know.

The VITALITY BOOST has given me more pep and energy than I ever had before!

2623 N. ST. LOUIS AVE. CHICAGO
3

"I'M A PROFESSIONAL SOCCER PLAYER and it's important for me to be in top condition all during the season. I've found drinking that glass of Bowman Milk each night at bedtime a great help in keeping me physically fit."

"AND IT NOT ONLY GIVES ME more pep and extra energy on the field, but the effects last. I feel better all the time. I'm seldom tired out any more after games or practice, can have fun in the evenings without being a wreck the next day."

"NEVER WAS MUCH OF A DEEP SLEEPER, but the nightly glass of milk has sure changed that. Now I sleep like a log from the time my head hits the pillow, and I wake up in the morning feeling swell . . . ready to go!"

● Try the Vitality Boost yourself for thirty days! See if it doesn't make you feel better in every way! The Vitality Boost is simply this and nothing more—a good glass of Bowman Milk every night at bedtime.

But there are scientific reasons why it ought to work for you as it does for other Chicagoans.

1) You take the milk when your stomach is empty. Preventing hunger pangs, it helps you get more restful sleep.

2) It reduces the tax on your energy store that even sleeping takes. (Your body's need of fuel each sleeping hour is actually 40% of the average for all your waking, working hours! That's because your heart keeps pumping, breathing continues, "relaxed" muscles are always under tension.)

3) It gives your body, in easily digestible form, a greater variety of nutritional essentials than any other food can provide!

Try the Vitality Boost for at least thirty days. Drink a full glass of fresh, pure milk at bedtime. You'll enjoy it particularly if the milk is Bowman's. More people in Chicago and vicinity drink Bowman Milk than any other kind. Produced with extra care, it has a specially delicious flavor.

Charles ReQua Finally Reveals His Marriage

BY JUDITH CASS.

NOW it can be told that Charles H. ReQua, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Haven A. ReQua of Lake Forest, has a bride. She is the former Miss Mary Goodrich of La Crosse, Wis. The wedding took place last fall, but no announcement was made until today because the bridegroom was in Carleton college, which does not allow its students to be married. He received his degree last week-end, however, and he and his bride arrived in Lake Forest yesterday to start looking for a house.

Mr. and Mrs. George Goodrich's daughter and young Mr. ReQua have been devoted friends for several years, so the news that they are married will not come as a surprise to their friends. Before entering Carleton Mr. ReQua attended the North Shore Country Day school. His brother, Patrick, is a student at Carleton now. Pat will spend the summer, as usual, with his grandmother, Mrs. Charles P. Anderson, at her country home in Long Lake, Wis. Young Mrs. ReQua attended the University of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Robert Stevenson Wed to Augustus Cobb.

The news of the marriage in New York yesterday of Mrs. Robert Stevenson and Augustus S. Cobb is of great interest to the bride's Chicago family and friends. The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock in the apartment of the former Eleanor Brown Husband at 1165 Fifth avenue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Minot Simons of All Souls church.

Only members of the families were present. Among them were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. John Chandler Cobb of Milton, Mass.; his daughter, Miss Jean Cobb, and Mrs. Cobb's son and daughter, Thomas Husband and Miss Ethel Husband. The bride is a daughter of Francis C. Brown of Winnetka. Mr. Cobb was graduated from Harvard in 1907. He is vice president of the Bankers' Trust company in New York.

A wedding of interest here will take place in Palm Beach on Saturday when Miss Janet Watt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Watt Jr. of Palm Beach and New York, is married to George Stanley Rasmussen, son of Mrs. George S. Rasmussen of Palm Beach and Lake Forest. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Samuel Taylor of Chicago will be Miss Watt's only attendant. Robert Rasmussen will be his brother's best man. Mr. Rasmussen and his bride will fly to California and Hawaii on their wedding trip. They will reside in Evanston.

Pupils of Bell School Presenting Play Friday.

Winkie, the Louis Seaverns' daughter, is following in Edna St. Vincent Millay's footsteps. Not in writing poetry, but in acting the part of the princess in a play that the poetess wrote when she was in boarding school and in which she took the leading rôle. "The Princess Marries the Page" is the play; it is to be given by the eighth grade of the Bell school on Friday at 5 o'clock in the school auditorium. Barbara King is to be the page, Marguerite Norris the king, Elizabeth De Long the chancellor, William A. P. Pullman Jr., Phelps Swift, and Winstanley Briggs, soldiers, and Marion Phelps, queen of the fairies. Mrs. Luella Douglas is the director.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan T. Pierpont Jr. [Georgia Wright Simmons] are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter on June 4 at the Evanston hospital. The baby has been named for her mother. Mrs. Pierpont's mother, Mrs. George W. Simmons of St. Louis, is here visiting her son, Richard W.

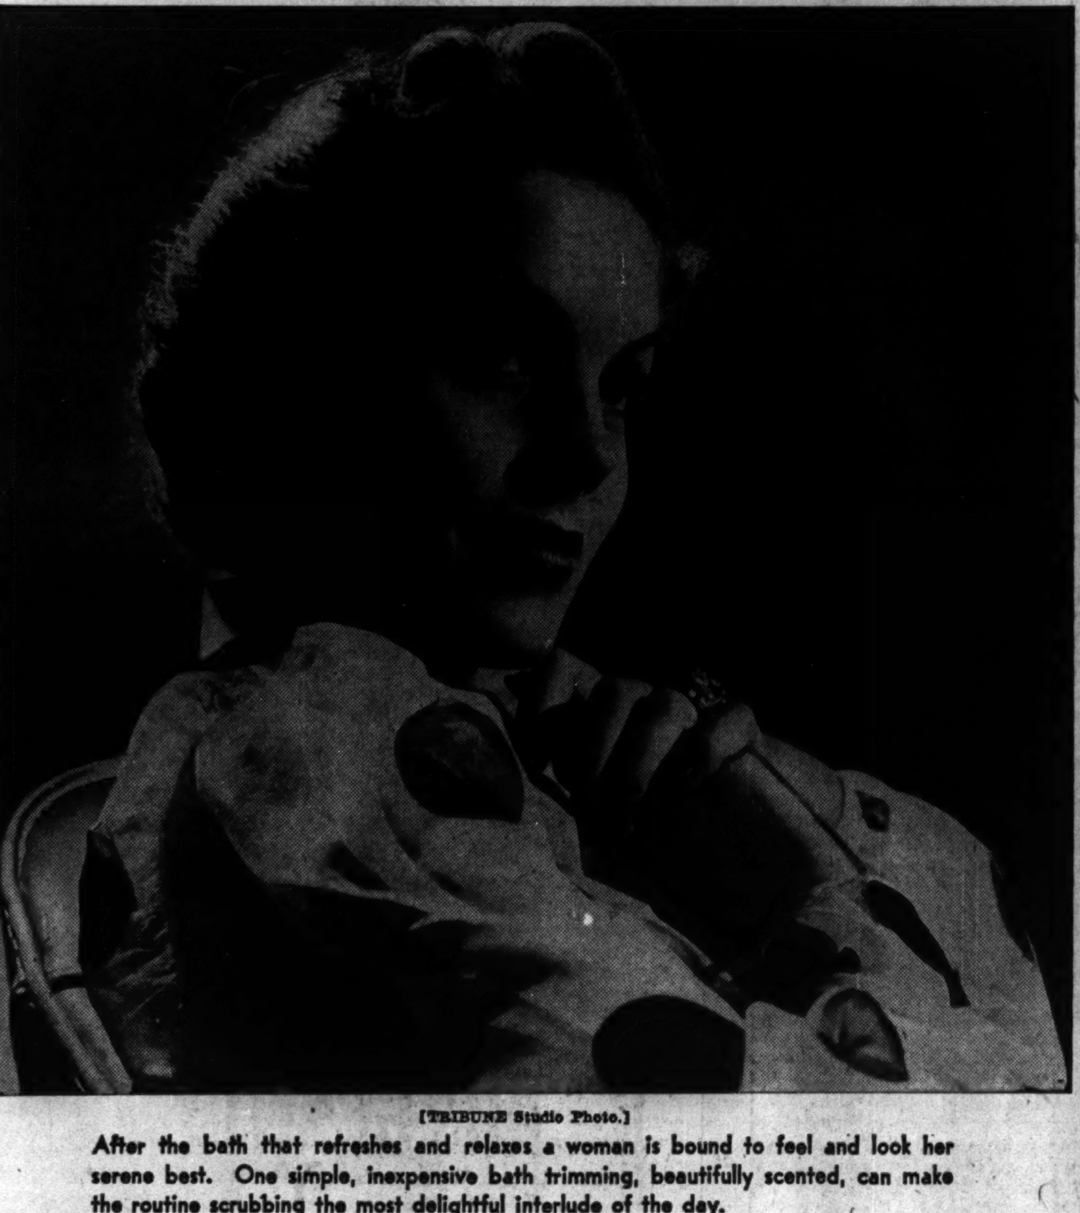
★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★



[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

After the bath that refreshes and relaxes a woman is bound to feel and look her serene best. One simple, inexpensive bath trimming, beautifully scented, can make the routine scrubbing the most delightful interlude of the day.

One simple way to escape the thoughts of war, death, taxes, and unpaid bills is to lock the bathroom door for a solid half hour and treat yourself to the sort of bath that cleanses, soothes, and intensifies the sense of being fragile and feminine. The improvement in outlook and energy is tremendous.

Do you like fragrant bubbles in your bath? And do you prefer that such pearls be of little price? Then you'll like a new bubbling bath preparation—quite inexpensive—that gives you zillions of foaming, sweet smelling, iridescent bubbles in a jiffy. It's in three heavenly fragrances, rose geranium, carnation, and the garden scent of daphne flowers.

All three are the delightful, delovely kind for summer, light and not too overpoweringly sweet. "Light" characterizes the scent; the bath preparation itself can't be said to be lightly perfumed. You'll be charmed at how concentrated the scent is and how effectively it perfumes the water and your skin.

Each scent comes in a new, modern bottle. Use the nice stuff in this way: Run a small amount of water in the tub, add from one to two tablespoons of the bubbling bath, and then release the water full force. The result is a miniature ocean of bubbles.

A bath with these is wonderfully relaxing. Take your time about it, so that your nerves will unkink. Afterwards have a rub down with cologne if you can. This will pick you up briskly after the luxurious let down of the bath proper.

Woman's City Club Reviews Its 30 Years

BY BETTY BROWNING.

Members of the Woman's City club recalled their activities as Chicago's "best little bunch of starters" at the organization's 30th anniversary celebration last evening in its quarters at the Fine Arts building.

As their birthday wish for the club former presidents and charter members personally and thru letters expressed the hope that its next 30 years may be as fruitful in civic accomplishment as the first 30.

The organization's civic trail-blazing was described by Mrs. Laura Hughes Lunde, who illustrated her account with yellowed clippings and photographs from the club's archives.

The first citizenship schools and the first nonpartisan candidates' meetings, sponsored by the club, and its pioneering in behalf of the public library, education, social hygiene, housing, garbage collections, cancer education, public safety, old age pensions, and city manager enabling legislation were recalled.

"We're like the lady who prefers to wash the dirty floor because she gets more results that way," Mrs. Lunde laughed. "They thought we were nuts when we started working for old age pensions. But now we've got them!"

Mrs. John O'Connor, a tiny old lady who said she has been a member of the Chicago Woman's club for more than 50 years, told how the Woman's City club came to be founded. As president of the Chicago Woman's club, she said, she received from Medill McCormick, former publisher of THE TRIBUNE, a request to call a meeting of women to consider some pressing problems confronting Chicago.

From that meeting, at which Mr. McCormick described those problems, resulted the founding of the Woman's City club, dedicated then and since to solving those problems.

Americanism Citations Given Adult Students

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Looking Glass.

Hollywood, Cal., June 12.—"The Mortal Storm" is a fine picture, as somber a study of the interior of the Nazi framework as was the book. . . . Top performance, if there is a top performance, easily might go to Frank Morgan, the zany of pictures, who here returns to the mood he projected so successfully on the legitimate stage in the dramatic "Topaze." . . . Morgan rapidly is gathering to himself the Hollywood reputation of being the finest all around performer in the movie colony. . . . Apparently there is no part which his studio can't assign him with full confidence that it will be played to the hilt. . . . This, I think, will be a Morgan rôle long remembered after the movie fans have forgotten some of his portraits of good natured frustration. . . . Jimmy Stewart, Margaret Sullavan, and Irene Rich were excellent, but it was Morgan who was the hub of the entire thing. . . . Newcomer Dan Dailey Jr. clicks as a new sort of menace, a performance more remarkable because Dailey just recently was hoofing in Broadway musicals.

Speaking of hoofers, one of the better terpsichorean stars has arrived out here in the slim person of Hal Le Roy, the Cincinnati youngster. . . . Le Roy is the boy who stopped a Ziegfeld show cold one night, not many years back, under dramatic circumstances. . . . On the opening night of the Ziegfeld show, Le Roy received word that his mother had died at Cincinnati. . . . With the telegram crumpled in his pocket, the kid went on stage and tore the roof off, and then as he stood in the spotlight taking his bows, the tears were streaming down his face and the audience thought he was crying from happiness! . . . On my first trip to Hollywood, two and a half years ago, only professionals on "The Chief" were the Hal Le Roys and the Pandro Bermans. At "The Mortal Storm" preview, a few hours ago, sitting in the back row of the projection room were the Le Roys and the Pan Bermans. . . . Seemed like old times.

Very quietly Alan Mowbray, English butler-comic, has been doing yeoman work as the head of the British Allied Relief War association. . . . Co-workers under Mowbray are Herbert Marshall, Cary Grant, Nigel Bruce, Ronnie Colman, C. Aubrey Smith, Basil Rathbone, Henry Stephenson, Sir Cecil Hardwicke, and Doug Fairbanks Jr. . . . To date, Mowbray's group has sent $40,000 to England for allied relief, plus eight ambulances and unnumbered packing cases crammed with surgical supplies. . . . The Britons in the movie colony are carrying on.

Lou Holtz, oil man, stock market plunger, inventor, philanthropist, big game hunter, and author, who dabbles in dialect stories as a hobby, has drifted across the Rockies to take up temporary lodging in the movie colony. . . . His specific mission is to play two weeks of vaudeville at the Orpheum theater, and in the meantime Holtz is getting in shape for it at the Hillcrest Country club. . . . This is a club designed for golf, but Holtz does not play golf, altho he holds several records made on United States golf courses. . . . He wagers that he can throw a golf ball around the course, from hole to hole, in less strokes than you can hit it around a course. . . . Invariably he lames his right arm, but invariably he wins the bet. . . . The money he wins goes to the doctor who cures his arm, so it is a Mexican stand-off.

David Niven, in the last letter received from him here, advised that his furlough had ended and that he was on his way to join his regiment. . . . The third paragraph of the letter directed a local actor friend to dispose of the personal belongings that Niven had left out here, just in case. . . . The letter was gay and charming: The third paragraph was a grim intruder.

Here are some of the current romances you'll see in the newsreels covering the première of "All This and Heaven, Too": Liz Whitney and Tim Hurst, Rosalind Russell and Fred Brisson, Dana Dale and Jeffrey Lynn, Joan Valerie and Edgar Bergen, Margaret Lindsay and Bill Lundigan, Lucille Fairbanks and Owen Crump, Olivia De Havilland and Jimmy Stewart, Ann Sheridan and George Brent, Connie Bennett and Richard Ainley. . . . Probably, too, Wendy Barrie with Ernesto Paleimo . . . Geraldine Spreckels with Paul Getty . . . Frances Glendennin with Gene Towne . . . Randy Scott will give Tim Durant's daughter, Marjorie, a thrill by escorting her to the opening.

The Fate of the Darmenys

By Elizabeth York Miller

[Copyright: 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

Knowing she has but a few months to live, Madge Darmeny gather her family about her so she can select the most deserving heir, unbeknown to them. She is a childless widow, and Amelia Pennyfather, a distant cousin, has been living with her for years. Her nearest kin is her own niece, Leda, and the next in line are Frank and Geoffry, nephews of her husband. Leda is married to Frank but in love with Geoffry. Eight year old Betsy is Frank's child by a former marriage, and she and her stepmother dislike each other very much. Madge's secretary, Shirley Westall, is acting as governess for Betsy. On the pretense she has to retrench, Madge has her family come live with her on her large estate. She confides to her solicitor, Alfred Barnes, of her plans. He tells her of Geoffry's latest scrape. He gave a bad check for a diamond bracelet. Madge has always overlooked Geoffry's debts and escapades because he has been able to get around her with his charming ways, but when Leda shows up with a diamond bracelet, saying a girl friend gave it to her, Madge becomes suspicious of both Geoffry and Leda. Shirley reminds Frank of his first wife and he realizes he is in love with her. Betsy tells her father that Geoffry gave Leda the bracelet. Frank trails Leda and Geoffry to a friend's apartment and finds them in the midst of a drunken party. He orders Leda home. She refuses, and Geoffry starts a fight, but Frank knocks him down and takes Leda home. Madge sees them come in and knows something is wrong. When Geoffry arrives later Madge lectures him and tells him he should settle down. She suggests that he marry Shirley. He, playing up to his aunt, agrees that it will be a good thing to do. The next day he breaks a date with Leda and takes Shirley to the races. Leda is furious and persuades Frank to take her and Betsy to the races also. At the track Betsy publicly comments on Geoffry's neglect of Leda, whereupon Leda hits Betsy in a rage and knocks her unconscious.

INSTALLMENT XVI.

CONCUSSION.

"If I thought you were lying to me about that Westall girl——" Leda exclaimed furiously.

"Why, in heaven's name should I lie to you?" Geoffry demanded in desperation.

"Because you're afraid of Frank and Aunt Madge—yes, and of me, too. You'd need to be afraid of me most of all. I can promise you that."

A shudder went over him. It was all too true. Most of all he was afraid of Leda Darmeny, as he valued his skin.

"You know I love you," he said. His voice sounded wild, and was thus halfway convincing.

"All right. We're nearly home so we'll have this out later. Meet me sharp at four o'clock in the old playhouse. I'm going straight to my room now. I don't want to see anybody."

Madge Darmeny wasn't back when Frank carried Betsy in. He was thankful for that.

But of course Amelia Pennyfather was on the spot.

"O dear, oh dear, what's happened?" she cried, when she saw the state Betsy was in.

"There's been an accident," Frank said. "Ring for the doctor, will you."

With all his heart and soul he had hoped it would not be necessary to send for a doctor, but he realized that it was.

"What sort of an accident?" Amelia wanted to know. She peered closely at Betsy. "The child's unconscious," she added, as tho she was telling Frank something he did not already know.

"Do as I ask you, please," he replied.

He took Betsy up to her room and Shirley came, too.

"Frank, what are you going to say?" Shirley asked fearfully. The shame of Leda's outrageous act was on her, too; they were all smeared with it.

"I can't say anything, except what actually happened. The whole neighborhood knows it by this time . . . Shirley, do you think . . . I mean, she isn't terribly hurt, is she?"

"I don't know," Shirley said. "But her nose has stopped bleeding."

Hilda, the housemaid, came tearing in, and Frank sent her for towels and warm water.

"Shall we try to get her undressed?"

"Let me," said Shirley. "Perhaps I can handle her better."

Betsy gave a moan as she was turned on her side and moved her head fretfully from side to side.

Shirley was very gentle. Frank, even in the midst of his concern for his child, noticed how tenderly her hands moved as she slipped off Betsy's dress. Shirley's hands were beautiful, so white and firm and slender.

"O, Frank, I love her so!" she exclaimed in a heartbroken whisper. "This—will be so dreadful for Mrs. Darmeny. She didn't realize—she couldn't have realized—how hard she struck."

The muscles of Frank's face worked. "No—no, of course she didn't," he said.

Amelia came in. Already she had heard something for Geoffry and Leda were back, too, and Leda had rushed upstairs to her room. The doctor was coming at once.

"Altho it's only Dr. Jelks," Amelia said plaintively, "and Madge doesn't think he's much good, really. She always has Dr. Whittington from Canterbury, but that's so far away. And lately she hasn't had anybody. . . . Geoffry says Leda slapped Betsy's face. Do you think it's broken an eardrum?"

"Do keep away, Amelia," Frank said, desperately patient. "That's a good soul."

He began to pace the room, resisting an impulse to bite his nails, trying to keep his eyes from that still little figure on the bed.

If anything happened to Betsy . . . he dared not let himself think of it.

Half an hour later Frank went to Leda's room.

She was sitting on the seat of the big mullioned window, staring out across the Weald.

"Leda, this is a bad business," he said. "And I'd like you to know—for what it may be worth—that I'm really sorry for you."

She turned towards him.

"Betsy is an unusual child if she can't stand having her face slapped. I had mine slapped often enough. My mother had a temper like sin."

But there was an anxious question in her voice. She needed a friend badly.

"You managed to give her concussion," Frank said.

Leda moistened her lips.

"I can't stand children. I never could. And it seems to me Betsy goes out of her way to irritate me. Concussion isn't fatal, I take it?"

"It's very good. Shirley is going to look after her. She's gone thru first aid, and Hilda will help. I'm going to sit up tonight, myself."

Leda shivered and then began to weep, but if Frank only knew it, her tears were for herself.

He sat down beside her and laid a hand on her shoulder.

"The doctor says when she regains consciousness, Betsy isn't likely to know how it happened."

"I suppose you're furious with me," Leda said, between her sobs. "You probably hate me like poison."

He wondered if he did.

"I don't want to hate you. There's been far too much ill-feeling between us as it is. But Betsy . . . she looked so like her mother, lying there. Like her mother did when she was dead. . . ." He was speaking as tho to himself. "And at the same time I had such a curious feeling . . . as tho her mother was with us there in the room. But of course it was only Shirley. For a moment or two, I was confused about it. I called Shirley 'Pauline'."

Leda gave a forced laugh, shrill and obviously artificial.

"Are you trying to make me jealous again? You know how jealous I was of Pauline when we were first married."

"No . . . I didn't think," Frank replied. "I had no idea of making you jealous."

He got up and turned to go.

"Is Aunt Madge back?" Leda asked with a note of anxiety in her voice.

"I'm not sure. I thought I heard the car just now. I'd better go down and see."

Leda shivered and began to weep again.

Betsy had certainly got her into serious trouble this time.

At the foot of the stairs, Frank saw Madge Darmeny coming in, leaning heavily on the arm of her old friend, Alfred Barnes.

"It's all right," Mr. Barnes said, as tho to reassure him. "Mrs. Darmeny is just a little upset. We heard some people talking on the station platform, as the chauffeur was a minute or two late. We asked him what he meant, and he told us that Betsy had been—er—slightly hurt."

Frank nodded and tried to smile. He was almost as alarmed for Aunt Madge as he had been for Betsy. She looked gray and pitifully aged. She must have gone up to see Mr. Barnes, and wisely he had decided not to let her travel back alone. That, however, was not exactly what happened.

Alfred Barnes had come to spend the night. Gibson was bringing in his kit bag.

"Betsy will be as right as rain in a day or so," Frank said, as heartily as he could. "Come, Aunt Madge. Sit down a minute and get your breath back."

Indeed, she was breathing heavily, as tho it cost her an effort, and offered no resistance when he led her the few steps into the drawing room.

Give-in to 'REGULAR' PAIN? .... NOT ME!

REDEEM THOSE LOST DAYS FOR ACTIVE LIVING . . . WITH MIDOL

What confidence it gives, to go through the month without dread of "regular" pain. And what comfort, not having to give-in when trying days come!

Midol, a new formula developed for its special purpose, relieves the functional pain of menstruation for millions of women. Why not try it? It contains no opiates. One comforting Midol ingredient is prescribed frequently by thousands of doctors. Another—exclusively in Midol—further fortifies its relief by helping to reduce spasmodic pain peculiar to the menstrual process.

If you have no organic disorder calling for medical or surgical treatment, you should find Midol effective. If it doesn't help you, see your doctor. All drugstores have Midol. Five tablets—more than enough for a convincing trial—20¢; 12 tablets, 40¢.

Popular among sweet yeast breads and rolls are the attractively shaped, iced, and be-nutted Swedish tea ring, and those rich, very buttery French rolls known as brioches.

Neither is hard to make at home. The Swedish tea ring is really fun, and the brioche will make up in goodness what it takes out of you in the kneading process.

Swedish Tea Ring.

[12 inch ring.]

1 cake compressed yeast
¼ cup sugar
1 cup scalded milk
2 tablespoons butter
¾ teaspoon salt
1 egg
About 2½ cups flour
Butter, brown sugar, cinnamon, nuts raisins

Crumble yeast into sugar and let stand until liquefied. Scald milk and add butter and salt. Cool to lukewarm and add yeast mixture and beaten egg. Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on a lightly floured board and knead until the dough is elastic and will not stick to the board. Place in a greased bowl, cover and let rise until double in bulk. Punch down and cover again. Let dough stand 10 minutes. Then roll into a rectangular sheet half an inch thick. Brush with soft butter and sprinkle with cinnamon and brown sugar. Scatter a few chopped nuts and currants or raisins over the dough and roll up as for jelly roll. Shape roll into a ring on a greased baking sheet. Cut with scissors at inch intervals, almost thru the ring. Turn each slice slightly on its side. Brush the ring lightly with butter and cover. Let rise until doubled. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Frost while warm with a confectioners' sugar icing, and sprinkle with chopped nuts.

Brioche.

1 cake compressed yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
3 cups flour
¼ cup sugar
1¼ cups butter
½ teaspoon salt
5 eggs

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water, add ½ cup flour, and mix well. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Add remaining flour, sugar, salt, softened butter, and two eggs. Mix well. Add remaining three eggs, one at a time, and knead the mixture in the bowl until it loses stickiness and forms a smooth, satiny ball. Let rise until double. Knead down and place in the refrigerator overnight. The pan should be closely covered. Remove from refrigerator and shape the dough into balls, half of them to fit into small muffin pans, allowing room for expansion, of course. The other half of the balls should be smaller, about the size of marbles. Dip the small balls in melted butter and place atop the larger ones in the muffin pans. Cover rolls with a clean cloth and let rise until light. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes.

Serve these rich, sweet rolls hot.

For other recipes for plain and sweet rolls, yeast and quick breads and buns, see "Better Homemade Breads and Rolls," an excellent booklet on breadmaking which sells for 23 cents, by mail.

June 13, 1940.

Year ahead—This year calls for some interior decoration to be done either literally or figuratively in the home. Smooth out and remodel the props of the human life. This will call for self-sacrifice from you for the good of the whole.

Names—The name Mary is a "grand old name" according to an old song. It certainly is a universal one. The Marys don't like to be just cogs in wheels or nonentities in a crowd, however. They like to be the "top men" when it comes to doing a thing, and have executive ability enough to take charge. They like home, good food, a humorous story or entertainment, and are informal.

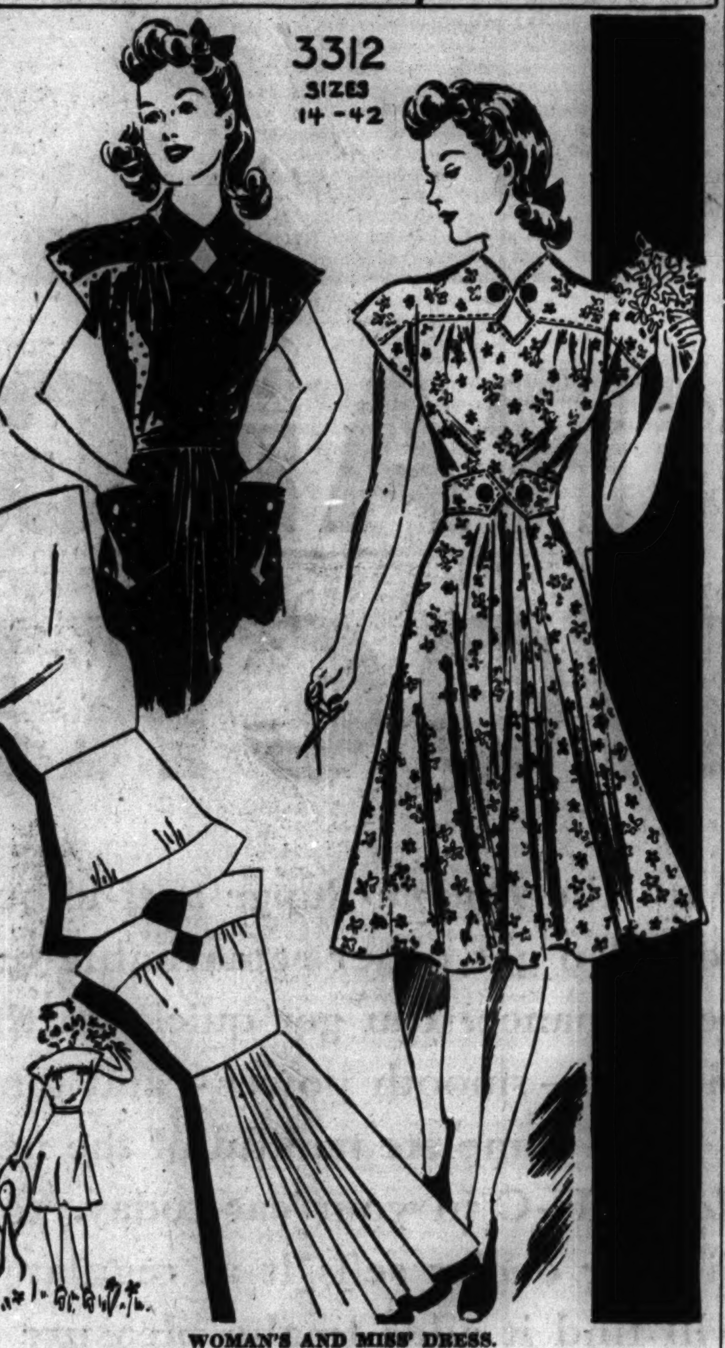
Dress with 'Easy Sleeves'



WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

This summer dress has what are known as "easy sleeves." They're merely continuations of the shoulderline and offer no barrier to coolness on hottest days. There's a yoke straight across front and back of the shoulder, and below it plenty of shirring to soften the bodice. There's a collar if you especially wish one, but a twin-button finish at the moderately high neckline is sufficient adornment. The belt may echo the neckline treatment. The back of this dress is plain, but the front stresses fulness, graceful folds that do a lot for the figure. Pockets are optional, but they're fashionable!

Use almost any type of plain or figured cotton, silk, or linen. Tubbability is an essential this every day frock must have.

Style No. 3312 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material for dress without collar; 3½ yards for model with collar.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Shaming Youth for Error Is Bad Attitude

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Your son or daughter has done something that, to you, is pretty terrible, told a lie, taken something belonging to some one else, taken money from the "food envelope," or been connected with some sort of undesirable experience.

It shakes you all up. You're shocked. You're grieved. You're ashamed. You think not only of your child but of your own pride in him or her, and of what people will say.

You go off the deep end. You talk as tho it were a crime. You reproach. You use the words "shame" and "disgrace." You weep, perhaps. You may even say to your child [and parents have!] that you'd rather see him, or her, dead.

And more, you hold this over your child's head. He can't get away from it. You remind him. You act differently, either hurt or cold. It's a cloud hanging over him in his home. If other people know about it, you act as if you were ashamed of him, so he can't hold his head up.

A serious fault should be taken seriously, but to exaggerate it and to get hysterical and emotional about it is a bad business. It does much greater harm than the deed itself.

A serious fault can be treated seriously, but there is no need of dealing a deep wound to a young person's self-respect. There is no need of intensifying his sense of shame.

Children don't show all their feelings, all their hurts to us, and a boy or girl who has done something wrong or undesirable does feel a lowering of his self-esteem, does feel quite as much shame as he needs to.

Donations Received for Camp Algonquin and Free Ice Funds

Grateful acknowledgement is made of a gift of $10 from Mrs. Frank J. Saibert and one of $6 from the Office Appliance company for Camp Algonquin. There is now $89.64 in the fund. Mrs. Saibert also sent $10 for the Free Ice fund, increasing total donations to $25. Both Camp Algonquin, at which hundreds of children and mothers from the slum districts are given vacations, and the Free Ice fund, which provides ice for the ill and needy in the hot summer months, are administered by the United Charities, largely thru the aid of TRIBUNE readers. Contributions should be sent to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Tower.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

A shrewd declarer can often glean valuable information on the break of all four suits from a single bid or overcall made by an opponent. Such an overcall was the only key declarer had to the winning line of play in the following deal:

South, dealer.

NORTH

♥8 5 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	1 no trump	2 hearts
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

West saw no particular point in opening the heart ace [he was wrong. There was!] and chose instead the diamond queen. Dummy's king lost to East's ace and the heart jack was returned. West won with the ace and returned a heart, declarer winning. The spade ace brought the blank jack from East and now of course, by leading to dummy's ten spot, declarer made sure that West would not make a trump trick. South returned to his own hand by ruffing a diamond and picked up West's remaining trumps with the king and queen. Having lost one trick in each of the red suits, the fate of the contract now devolved entirely on declarer's handling of the club suit. Obviously, had he played for a split, or for the king in East's hand, which is to say, had he led to the club ace and back toward his queen, West would have defeated the contract with two club tricks. But declarer was by no means satisfied with this line of play. He gave careful consideration to the implications of East's two heart overcall. Obviously, it had been made on a suit that was jack high and presumably no longer than six cards, since with the singleton ace, South would have jumped at the chance to open the suit. With as weak a heart suit as that, East must have had some sort of compensation for his bid and since this could not have been in high cards, it must have been in distribution. East certainly could not hold many clubs, but he could have held considerable length in diamonds. In other words, the only state of affairs that would have begun to justify his two heart bid was the possession of a two-suiter. Thus, altho East had already shown a singleton spade, declarer felt it was extremely likely he also held a singleton club. The club king was fairly well marked in West's hand for his penalty double. If West's holding were the K-J-10, declarer could do nothing about it, but if East's singleton were either the jack or ten, a pretty play was available. Declarer resolved to stake everything on the accuracy of his diagnosis. So, instead of leading a small club to the ace, he led the club queen thru West. The latter covered with the king and was permitted to hold the trick, declarer noting with satisfaction the fall of East's ten spot. West returned a diamond. Declarer ruffed and led another club toward dummy. West's eight was just topped with dummy's nine and when the latter held, declarer was, of course, home.

It will be observed that South could not afford to capture West's club king with the ace. Had he done so, he would have had to use his last trump to return to his own hand and lead toward the nine spot. This would have left him defenseless against a diamond continuation.

WILSON'S
Certified
Smoked Ham

A QUALITY PRODUCT

I can remember when cooking a whole ham was almost as much of an undertaking as a Byrd Expedition. First there was overnight soaking. Then came the scrubbing and a protracted period of parboiling. Next, the ham was baked and ultimately eaten. But by this time Mother was usually prostrate from her labors.

Fortunately, the emancipation of women includes the privilege of buying Wilson's Certified Smoked Hams—the original Tender Extra Mild—no soaking, no parboiling, just a modest trip to the oven and hence to the table.

George Rector
Food Consultant
Wilson & Co.

It's as simple as this . . .

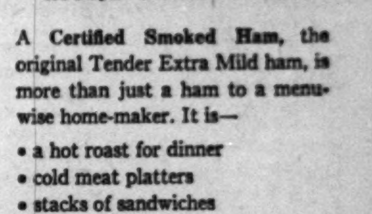
Be sure that the Wilson Certified Smoked Ham that you buy comes in the Orange wrapper. Bake in uncovered roaster at 350° F. (moderate oven), allowing 16 minutes to the pound. (For half a ham, 19 minutes.)

Remove from the oven, take off rind, score fat and spread with brown sugar, or a mixture of brown sugar, bread crumbs and dry mustard. Stud with cloves if desired. Return to hot oven (450° F.) to brown, basting with water, fruit juice or gingerale.

WHEN IS A HAM MORE THAN A HAM?

A Certified Smoked Ham, the original Tender Extra Mild ham, is more than just a ham to a menu-wise home-maker. It is—

- a hot roast for dinner
- cold meat platters
- stacks of sandwiches
- molded salads
- meat loaf
- tasty hot entrees
- nippy little appetizers and
- loot for midnight pantry raids.



FOR THAT JUNE LUNCHEON

"You get DOUBLE RANGE ANTI-KNOCK!"

Every motorist knows that there are two important ranges of acceleration where highest anti-knock performance is needed. For example, you need knockless power at 10 to 45 miles per hour for acceleration in traffic and 45 to 90 miles per hour for passing other cars and climbing hills. Some gasolines may give high anti-knock in one range but not in the other. But the new Sinclair H-C combines high anti-knock performance in both ranges.

With the Double-Range anti-knock in H-C you also get other remarkable qualities in performance. You get quick starting – rapid pick-up – smooth power – and long mileage.

Try a complete tankful of the new Double-Range H-C in your car today. Your nearby Sinclair dealer sells it at regular price. You will find it adds to the pleasure of driving and helps reduce motoring expense as well! Ask for the new Sinclair H-C.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., June 12.—Thornton Lee held the Athletics to three hits today, but the White Sox suffered their second 3 to 2 defeat of the year at the hands of Nelson Potter and the A's.

The Athletics made their three hits count for the maximum. Benny McCoy's single and Bob Johnson's homer gave them two runs in the first inning. The other Philadelphia hit was a fifth inning homer by Sam Chapman. The A's left only one runner on base, Johnson, who walked in the sixth.

The Sox made twice as many hits as their conquerors and made a bid with a ninth inning rally. Luke Appling tripled and scored on Larry Rosenthal's single in the second. The Chicagoans didn't even threaten after the second inning until the ninth. Bob Kennedy opened the final session with a double and Joe Kuhel immediately drove him home with a single. Then Potter stopped Mike Kreevich, Taft Wright, and Appling.

They Can't Crack Potter.

It was the A's second victory over the Sox in seven games this season. The Chicagoans have been able to push around virtually all other members of Connie Mack's staff except Potter.

The Sox thus ended their six-city trip with a record of nine victories and as many defeats. They split a four game series with the Browns, lost a double header to the Indians, split a four game series with the Red Sox, took two out of three from the Yankees and the Senators, and divided the two game series here. To date they have won 18 and lost 16 in their travels, but have lost 15 out of 20 at home.

The Sox had hoped to be battling for a .500 mark in the American league standing in their home opener in Comiskey Park Friday night. Now they'll have to beat the Red Sox Friday night and Saturday afternoon to become "as good as the league" in the shortest possible time.

Then Johnson Hits One.

McCoy opened the A's attack with a single to left, went to second on Wally Moses' bouncer to Kuhel, and scored ahead of Johnson when Bob drove his eleventh homer against the upper deck balustrade in left. John-

If you should need a suit of clothes, my friend,
You'd have a tailor take your measurement;
He'd fit you carefully, and in the end
You'd feel the time you gave him was well spent;
He'd cover up your bumps, hide your defects,
And lift your drooping shoulders with his art
Until he made you look in all respects
A regular Beau Brummel — ultra-smart!

But when you want a pair of shoes, you leave
The job to some machine in Boston, Mass.
That never saw your feet, and you believe
The shoes it makes will fit your feet, alas!
You wouldn't have those gnarled, disfigured toes,

REDS WHIP PHILS, 2-1; 5TH IN ROW FOR DERRINGER

Winning Run Scores After Arnovich Misses Fly.

Cincinnati, O., June 12 (AP).—Big Paul Derringer hung up his fifth straight victory tonight for the Cincinnati Reds, outlasting Kirby Higbe and Si Johnson for a 2 to 1 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies.

In the second Frank McCormick, who had doubled, advanced on a wild pitch and scored on Ernie Lombardi's long fly. The other Red run come in the third as Morrie Arnovich missed a one handed catch of Bill Werber's looper. Bill got a double, was sacrificed to third, and scored on Ival Goodman's fly.

Leading Figures in Dodger-Cardinal Deal

A Miss of 15 Wins Again in St. Louis Golf

St. Louis, Mo., June 12 (AP).—Standing right up against the big-name women golfers, Phyllis Otto, 15 year old Iowa State High school champion, blasted her way into the quarter-finals of the trans-Mississippi tournament today with the most decisive score of the day.

The stocky daughter of an Atlantic, Ia., banker defeated Mrs. Chester Keating of St. Joseph, Mo., 8 and 6, in the second round and will face a severe test tomorrow against Kay Pearson, Houston, Tex., star.

Wearing a blazing, red suit, the youngster stroked like a machine for 13 holes over the softened Glen Echo course in one over par to gain her second victory.

Only Stroke Over Par.

Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., the Women's National champion; Patty Berg of Minneapolis, defending champion, and Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., two time winner of the trans-Mississippi crown, shot identical subpar golf to win handily, but one of this trio will lose out tomorrow.

Threat of Rain Gives Cubs Early Start on Eastern Trip

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs took to the road again last evening and before returning they'll be pretty well convinced that the big league is no place for lazy men. By that time they also may be convinced that their main problem between now and the end of next September is not how to climb above fourth place, but how to avoid being dragged down into the second division.

Before Manager Gabby Hartnett brings his assorted athletes back home they'll have to visit five of the league's stopping places. They must dispose of three Sunday double headers—at Boston, Philadelphia, and Cincinnati. Another part of the program is night games at New York, where a new lighting plant has been installed, at Brooklyn and at Cincinnati. And along with all of this there are some single games. The poor boys will need a July vacation.

The home stay, which closed yesterday with a premature cancellation of the final game with the Giants, wasn't exactly bad from a win and loss standpoint, but it showed the Cubs need a lot of strength before they'll be able to work up any pennant hysteria.

During their two weeks on Wrigley

ST. LOUIS GIVES STARS FOR CASH AND 4 PLAYERS

Koy and 3 Rookies Involved in Deal.

Leo Elated

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 13 Thursday (AP). — "Elated" was the comment of Leo [Lippy] Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, early today when informed of the trade which brings his league leading team Outfielder Ducky Medwick and Pitcher Curt Davis from the St. Louis Cards.

"Will that mean the pennant for Brooklyn?" he was asked.

"I'm elated, in a hurry, and gotta leave," was the reply.

Sources close to the Brooklyn club said they believed St. Louis received $150,000 in cash and four players, including Outfielder Ernie Koy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., June 12.—In one of the biggest trades in baseball history, the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight acquired Outfielder Joe Medwick and Pitcher Curt Davis from the St. Louis Cardinals for Outfielder Ernie Koy, Pitchers Sam Nahem and Carl Doyle, and Infielder-Outfielder Bert Haas. Brooklyn was reported to have given a large sum of money in addition to the four players.

None of the Brooklyn or St. Louis club officials would comment on the amount of cash involved in the deal, but estimates in baseball circles varied from $100,000 to more than $185,000.

Haas, at present is with Montreal of the International league, and Nahem with Nashville of the Southern association. All players will join their new teams immediately.

Medwick has long been a close friend of Leo Durocher, Brooklyn manager. Last season Medwick had an argument with Ray Blades, who was deposed as manager of the Cards in favor of Billy Southworth only a few days ago. Tho the feud with Blades was supposedly patched up, it was known that the star outfielder wanted to be traded.

A Standing $200,000 Offer.

Medwick, for whom Larry MacPhail, Brooklyn general manager has offered $200,000 in cash alone for over a year, has long been sought by the Dodgers. The surprising collapse of the Cards, and their recent switch in managers, is believed finally to have enabled the sale of Medwick to Brooklyn.

Davis, overworked last season, has been of little help to the Cards this season. Koy, a regular with Brooklyn last year, has been sitting on the bench most of this season. Haas, a slugger during spring training, was a sword over First Baseman Dolph Camilli's head when the latter was a holdout.

The Cardinals, in the throes of financial difficulties for the last few years, had hopes of recouping losses this season with a team that was almost unanimously picked to win the National league pennant. However, the club started poorly and, with a quarter of the season already passed, is 15 games out of the league lead and tied for last place. Attendance has slumped.

Davis Fails to Win.

Davis hasn't finished a game this season and has lost four.

Medwick, a right handed hitter, joined the Cardinals late in 1932. His first year in organized baseball was with Scottdale, Pa., in 1930. He was the slugging star of the 1934 world series in which the Cardinals defeated the Detroit Tigers. His batting mark in the games was .379. In 1937 Medwick won the National league batting championship with .374 and was named the league's most valuable player.

Altho he slumped to .332 in 1939, he was a holdout and did not sign until after 1940 spring training had opened.

Davis came to the Cardinals, along with Pitcher Clyde Shoun and Outfielder Tuck Stainback in the deal that sent Dizzy Dean to the Cubs just before the 1938 season started.

A Miss of 15 Wins Again in St. Louis Golf

Miss Miley, comely Kentuckian, who has won the state title six times since she was 17, was back to her old form as she defeated Jeanne Cline, Bloomington, Ill., youngster, 6 and 5. Miss Miley rounded the first nine in 35, three under par, and put the youngster out at the 13th on the strength of sensational chip shots.

Shirley Ann Victorious.

Miss Berg likewise was three under par for 15 holes as she defeated Mrs. M. B. Wallace, former St. Louis champion, 5 and 3. Patty had a wobbly start, but settled down at the fourth hole and shot either pars or birdies on all but one of the remaining holes.

Mrs. Russel Mann of Milwaukee won the toughest match of the day, 1 up, over little Sarah Adams of Richmond, Ky. She next meets Shirley Ann Johnson, Chicago, who defeated Mrs. Lillian Zech, also of Chicago, 6 and 5.

The other quarter-finalist is Mrs. H. David Sterrett of Hutchinson, Kas., who defeated Jo Mac Rae, University of Iowa champion, 2 and 1, and next plays Miss Berg.

Lain Posts 151, Captures 17th Beverly Revel

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

William V. V. Lain, six times champion of Beverly's golfers, proved his right to the title by leading home a field of 200 members and guests in the south side club's 17th annual Revel tournament yesterday. After going around in the morning in 77, six strokes over par, Bill rallied in the afternoon for the 74 that gave him 151 and low gross honors for 36 holes.

Lain naturally was happy, but it is to be doubted if he was as thoroly content with his day's work as was the veteran Ben Stevenson, who saw his No. 4 iron to the 187 yard sixth hole of the morning round land 15 feet from the cup and then roll straight into the hole. It was the second ace of Ben's life and the second he had made at Beverly. Several years ago, he dropped in an ace on the 110 yard water 12th.

The field played thru a variety of weather, ranging from steaming temperatures which developed into showers to a brisk lake wind that chilled the players and sent shots awry late in the afternoon round.

All guest players who broke par of 36—35—71 were penalized as many strokes above par as their net scores were under it. The prize list and leading 36 holes net scores follow:

First 36 holes, low gross—William V. V. Lain, 77—74—151; first 36 holes, low net—George Osborne, 89—20—69 [73]; 94—20 [74] 147; second 36, low net—T. W. Keelin, 74—6—68 [74]; 80—6 [74] 148; first low gross, 18 holes, p. m.—John Lehman, 77; first low net, 18 holes, p. m.—F. H. Morgan, 87—17—70; second low net, 18 holes, p. m.—Clement Nance, 84—13—71; third low net, 18 holes, p. m.—A. C. Drury, 85—13—72; fourth low net, 18 holes, p. m.—Walter Boulton, 90—18—72; fifth low net, 18 holes, p. m.—Peter Barskis, 94—22—72; lowest foursome, 18 holes, a. m.—James Osborne, George Osborne, Tom Osborne, and Harry Burns—298; low net foursome, 18 holes, p. m.—A. J. Bennett Jr., N. W. Cook, E. A. Schultz, and John Lehman—306; high score on 12th—Norman Waters, 8; high on whole day—Harry Plunkott, 130.

T. W. Keelin, 154—12—142; George Osborne, 183—40—143; Bill Lain, 151—4—147; Ben Stevenson, 159—10—149; E. A. Miller, 171—22—149; Tom Osborne, 183—34—149; J. M. Hall, 188—38—150; P. Y. Dodge, 176—24—152; W. D. Kerr, 161—8—153; John Lehman, 154—0—154; Dr. T. P. Cavanaugh, 175—10—155; Cornelius Teninga, 201—46—155; J. S. Osborne, 174—22—156; Wesley Miller, 170—12—158; N. W. Cook, 180—22—158; W. C. Zingheim, 175—16—159; Bobby Dearborn, 169—10—159; C. D. Seftenberg, 208—48—160.

Three tournaments head today's calendar. The biggest field is expected in the Chicago Association of Commerce's annual golf outing at Lincolnshire, where more than 300 prizes will be offered. The Southwest league will open its 1940 season at Ridge, and University of Illinois athletic officials will come up from Champaign for the Illini club of Chicago tournament at Bunker Hill.

Spring.

At this beautiful time of year,
When skies are brightest,
Our hearts should be filled with cheer,
Our spirits lightest.
We should be joyous just in living,
No gloomy thoughts should our mind hold,
We should be thankful, and praise-giving,
That His creations we can behold.
We should take note of each bird's song,
Breathe deeply of the fragrant air,
Brief as our lives, and then it's gone,

Dempsey Goes Thru 2 Rounds Against Godoy

Carmel, N. Y., June 12 [Special].—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, donned boxing gloves again today and made his first public ring appearance in years. It was his contribution to the ballyhoo for Arturo Godoy's attempt to lift the crown from Joe Louis' brow in Yankee Stadium the night of Thursday, June 20.

Before several hundred spectators, including many sports writers and photographers, the old Manassa Mauler sparred with Godoy. Highlighting Godoy's workout, Dempsey opposed the Chilean challenger for two rounds, each lasting one minute.

While Dempsey was puffing after each round, he did not appear to be as beefy about the midriff as might have been expected. Godoy, fighting in a standup position, reddened Dempsey's face with a few short jolts, but once Jack caught the Chilean with a back hand blow that sent Arturo reeling. The ex-champion was careful to warn Godoy to "lay off the old stomach" and to keep his punches around the head.

Dempsey found Godoy strong and powerful and in much better shape than when the Chilean encountered Louis in Madison Square Garden on Feb. 9. On that occasion Godoy fared so well that he not only lasted the full 15 rounds with Louis, but also merited the vote of one of the judges, so that the title holder had to be content with a split decision. Dempsey said he gave Godoy an excellent chance to win next week.

The Chilean also boxed two rounds each with two of his sparring partners, James J. Johnson and Max Minnich. The challenger scaled 205 pounds.

BOY WONDER TO RIDE GINGER AT HINSDALE SHOW

Jacobussi Enters Rare Gaited Jumper.

Chuck first burst into prominence three years ago astride his little shaggy Shetland pony as a member of the Rough Riders juvenile polo team that competed regularly against a trio of girls known as the Wildcats.

A year ago he transferred from his little pony to Ginger. The pair made its debut in horse shows a year ago, and has won a lot of ribbons in both the saddle and jumper classes for juvenile contenders. It's unusual for any one or any horse to engage in gaited and jumper competition, but Chuck and Ginger are a versatile combination.

The fearless Chuck and his mount have just added a new stunt to their repertoire. It consists of a leap over the hoods of two automobiles placed radiator to radiator.

A Friend will tap you on the Shoulder

He'll be here in a minute with a gleam in his eye and an air of mystery about him. Maybe you won't believe him when he tells you he's discovered it at last—a mellow, glorious beer such as you've never tried before.

It's a beer for those great occasions that seem to call for something special—something near perfection. It's an even finer Schlitz.

And what's more, it comes to you with its flavor completely protected from the harmful effect of air.

Do this next time you're thirsty

Ask for that even finer Schlitz, then sip it leisurely, critically. Enjoy every drop of its flavor-fresh goodness. Before the bottle is half empty you'll be willing to say—"This beer is something finer than I have ever known before!" Try it, taste it today and see!

PROTECTED! The space you see in the Schlitz bottle is not air but the breath of the beer itself. The famous flavor of Schlitz is never changed from the day it leaves the brewery.

FOR GREAT OCCASIONS AN EVEN FINER Schlitz

RED SOX CRUSH INDIANS, 9 TO 5, ON 6 RUN RALLY

Rout Al Milnar; Increase Lead to Two Games.

Boston, Mass., June 12 (AP).—Twelve players batted during a six run rally in the eighth inning today as the Red Sox came from behind, trumped another Cleveland pitching ace and lengthened their first place lead to two full games with a 9 to 5 victory.

The Red Sox were two runs behind Al Milnar until they blasted him from the mound with none out in the eighth. He was replaced by Mel Harder with the score tied at 5-all and two runners on.

Manager Joe Cronin sacrificed and Harder filled the bases by passing Jim Tabor. Stan Spence, pinch hitting for Gene Desautels, brought in Foxx with a long fly. Then three more runs scored on singles by Jim Bagby and Bobby Doerr. Score:

field, they had six visitors, splitting a total of 18 games. But seven of the decisions were won in a row from the Phils and Bees, who are second division habitués and who have slim prospects of getting out of that class. Against first division competition the Cubs were pushed around considerably. They lost a double header to the Reds. The Dodgers took them for three out of four. The Giants took them for two. And the Cards, who also grace the lower bracket, sauntered off with two out of three.

The Cubs don't seem able to hit the pitching the better teams are able to provide and that just about explains everything, altho at times their own pitching has been weak.

It's Olsen's Turn.

Vern Olsen, the kid southpaw, would have pitched yesterday if club officials had known at noon that by 3 o'clock there'd be nothing wrong with the weather. Now he will have his chance tomorrow when the Cubs open their eastern tour at Boston. The rookie from Tulsa has made four starts and in the aggregate has done right well by himself, so it is Hartnett's intention to keep him going regularly as long as he shows promise.

Just when Gabby will discard the Boy Scout arrangement that fashioned the seven game winning streak will depend on developments. Judging by their nine hits in the two games with the Giants Tuesday, it won't be long now.

The Cubs will stop at Cooperstown, N. Y., baseball's birthplace, today to play an exhibition with Boston's Red Sox. Jake Mooty and Ken Raffensberger will try their foolers on the American league sluggers.

Western Stars Arrive for Track Meet

Coast-Big 9½ Meet Will Be Star Studded

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Three of the six defending champions in the National Collegiate meet in Minneapolis will appear here Monday evening in the dual meet between the Pacific Coast conference and the Big 9½. Moreover, Southern California, Pacific Coast conference track champion, will be seeking its sixth consecutive N. C. A. A. title June 21 and 22 in the University of Minnesota stadium.

The calibre of the contestants emphasizes the place in collegiate sport that the dual meet between the nation's leading associations of universities now holds. That none of this trio is from the Big 9½ predicates another conquest for the athletes from the west, but it does not detract from the parade of stars in Dyche stadium Monday evening.

The vanguard of the Pacific coast invaders arrived yesterday when Washington State's three man team, consisting of Lee Orr, quarter miler; Bill Dale, half miler, and Dixon Garner, two miler, checked in at the Orrington hotel in Evanston. The three, who competed in the Princeton invitational meet last Saturday, were accompanied by Coach Karl Schlademan. Ken Dills, Southern California pole vaulter, arrived from the coast and worked out in Dyche stadium.

Zamperini Due Today.

Lou Zamperini, Southern California's great miler, who also competed at Princeton, will arrive today. The balance of the west coast squad is due tomorrow. The squad will establish headquarters at the Edgewater Beach hotel. The Big 9½ squad also will arrive tomorrow and will work out in Dyche stadium.

By starting the 14 events at 7 p. m., daylight saving time, and completing the program in 1 hour and 35 minutes, the officials have achieved a show which is expected to attract the largest crowd of the year.

The three N. C. A. A. champions on Monday's program are Clyde Jeffrey, Stanford university; Zamperini, and Johnny Wilson, Southern California. There are other athletes who may become N. C. A. A. champions and here, of course, the Big 9½ will have its opportunity. Capt. Ralph Schwarzkopf, of Michigan, for instance, greatest of the university two milers, and Indiana's Archie Harris, holder of the Western conference discus record, come to mind.

Jeffrey was a double winner in the Pacific coast meet, taking the 100 yard dash in the fair time of 9.9 seconds and the 220 yard dash in 21 seconds, the identical time by which Alan Smith of Michigan conquered the Western conference furlong sprinters. Myron Piker of Northwestern, winner of the century, was credited with Smith's time in the 220 as he lost a photo finish decision.

Kane Zamperini's Rival.

Zamperini, who is the National Collegiate record holder, should win the mile, altho Campbell Kane of Indiana will dispute the prediction. But in the high jump there can scarcely be any doubt of Wilson's supremacy despite the record of the Big 9½ winner, Don Canham of Michigan, who has not been defeated this year. After sharing the indoor conference title with Northwestern's Jim Smith, Canham conquered all opposition.

Wilson's best jump is 6 feet 9⅝ inches. A better measure for comparing him and Canham is found in their recent conference title performances. Canham whipped his Big 9½ rivals at 6 feet 4⅛ inches. Wilson went to 6 feet 7 inches in taking the Pacific coast championship.

PASTOR AND CONN SIGN TO FIGHT 15 ROUNDS AUG. 13

New York, June 12 (AP).—Bob Pastor, New York heavyweight, and Billy Conn of Pittsburgh, the light-heavyweight champion, today were signed for a 15 round fight at the Polo Grounds here Tuesday, Aug. 13, Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Sporting club announced.

Johnny Ray, representing Conn, agreed to terms yesterday, and today James J. Johnston visited Jacobs and signed for Pastor.

It is believed there is an understanding the winner will be in line for a heavyweight title shot in the fall.

With one out in the second inning the Sox halved the A's lead. Appling tripled to left center and scored on Rosenthal's single. Eric McNair flied to Moses and Mike Tresh fouled to Frank Hayes. Kreevich opened the fourth inning with the third Chicago hit, a single to left, but was forced by Wright. Appling flied to Moses and Rosenthal fouled to Hayes.

Chapman Drives One Away.

After retiring the enemy in order in the second, third, and fourth innings, Lee tossed the home run to Chapman at the start of the fifth.

With one out in the sixth, Kuhel beat out an infield single, the fourth Chicago hit, but Kreevich banged into a double play, Potter to Lillard to Dick Siebert. After McCoy and Moses had been set down in the A's half of the inning, Johnson and Hayes walked, but Hayes was caught napping off first.

Skeeter Webb, who had replaced McNair at second base at the start of the home sixth, opened the eighth with a liner to Johnson. Ken Silvestri, batting for Tresh, grounded out, Siebert to Potter, and Lee went out the same way.

RIGNEY TO FACE BOSTON

John Rigney, heroic reliever and winning pitcher in the Sox's last two games immediately prior to today's, will pitch in Friday's night game against Boston in Comiskey park.

Comiskey park will be the last of the major league night parks to turn on the lights. There have been five in Shibe park here, three in American league competition. The Phillies also play in Shibe park.

SILVESTRA WINS KENDALL PURSE FOR 2D VICTORY

Beats Hunter by Six Lengths at Crete.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Silvestra, a juvenile filly owned by the Woolford farm, gave the outstanding performance on a program which was run under difficult conditions yesterday at Lincoln Fields. Running on a track which had been drenched and dried and drenched again during day after day of erratic weather, this daughter of Insco splashed home six lengths ahead of her nearest rival in the Kendale purse, a five furlong allowance event.

Despite the fact that she was wading fetlock deep in mud, she went the distance in 1:02 4-5, which was only a second slower than the stake performers required in last Saturday's Joliet handicap.

It's Victory No. 2.

This was the fourth start of Silvestra's career and her second victory. In her previous attempt at Lincoln Fields she finished fourth in the race in which Flying Streak made the fastest time of the meeting.

Silvestra was the second choice in the betting on yesterday's feature event, her backers collecting $9.20 to win, $5.40 to place, and $3.00 to show. The favorite, Thomas Piatt's Version, finished third, ten lengths behind Mrs. L. B. Muschel's Hunter. At no time during the running did Silvestra give her followers an anxious moment.

Silvestra's victory topped off a good afternoon for the Woolford stable. In the first race Trainer Ross Higdon sent Cornwallis out for a successful effort at odds of 4 to 5. He was the second odds-on favorite in the course of the meeting, which has been marked by fairly open betting. The other was Clyde Troutt's Polycletus, which won on Tuesday. The Woolford stable also earned a second place in the third race with Pinnacle Light. Bob Vedder rode all three.

Betting Plunge Fails.

One of the most confident betting plunges of the meeting failed when J. D. Weil's War Vision finished fifth to George Sommers' Relief in the Kensing purse, a seven furlong event for three year maidens. Though War Vision had never before been to the post, he was backed down to 2 to 1 and made favorite against a field of experienced rivals. He had worked well and word went round that Trainer Moe Lowenstein had him in perfect condition for a winning effort.

Once the race began, however, War Vision acted as though he were not quite sure just what it was all about. He showed that it was one thing to run well in a morning workout and quite another to keep pace in a helter-skelter race on his first attempt.

He Gets Confused.

As they went down the back stretch, Jocky Al Snider seemed to be having difficulty making it clear to War Vision just what he was supposed to do. When the jocky put the whip on his mount approaching the far turn, War Vision got the idea for a brief space, but forgot about it soon again. Accordingly his entire performance was unsteady, yet no worse than might be expected from a green horse in his first race with seasoned rivals.

Meanwhile Relief and The Object were fighting for the lead. The Object gave way in the stretch while Pinnacle Light came on to challenge the pace-setter. Relief relinquished his advantage in the last fifty yards, but regained it to win by a nose when Pinnacle Light weakened. Swift Knight took third.

English Derby Is Canter for French Horse

NEWMARKET, England, June 12 (AP).—Pont l'Eveque, French bred horse owned and trained by Fred Darling, today defeated 15 of the best 3 year olds England could muster in the wartime version of the English Derby.

There was none of the carnival atmosphere that traditionally surrounded the Derby when run at its Epsom home. The crowd was only about a quarter of that which attends in peacetime, variously estimated at a quarter to a half million. But what was lacking in this regard was more than made up by Pont l'Eveque's display of courage.

Turkhan Is Second.

Pont l'Eveque took command a half mile from home and finished three lengths in front of Aga Khan's fast closing Turkhan. Lord Derby's favored Lighthouse II., which closed at 85 to 40, missed second by a head.

Pont l'Eveque closed at 10 to 1 in the betting and was clocked in 2 minutes 30 4-5 seconds. Turkhan was held at 100 to 7.

The French horse always was prominent in the running. He was just behind Romulus at the half mile and took the lead after going another four furlongs with Lighthouse and Black Toni trailing closely. Turkhan, which had not been better than sixth up to this point, came with a burst of speed in the stretch, but was unable to make any impression on Pont l'Eveque's lead.

Light Goes Out.

It was a race of surprises. The winner wasn't even entered in the original Derby. Altho Lighthouse was considered to have more stamina than any other in the field, it was in that department that he failed. He couldn't hold his speed on the run up the hill near the finish.

Gordon Richards, England's champion jockey, missed a chance to ride his first Derby winner by selecting the wrong mount. Darling offered Richards the mount on Pont l'Eveque, but instead Richards chose to ride the maharajah of Kolhapur's Tant Mieux, also trained by Darling. Tant Mieux finished fourth.

2 YOUNG STARS ARE THREATS IN CLAY COURT MEET

Schroeder, Miss Bernhard May Make Strong Bids.

The National Clay Courts tennis tournament, which starts Monday at the River Forest Tennis club, will mark the debut into big time ranks of a young man and a girl who may give established stars a surprise or two.

Welby Van Horn of California became the most talked of youngster in tennis last year after he defeated Jack Bromwich of Australia. Van Horn won increased attention when Bill Tilden singled him out as the most promising young player in the nation.

But this is just a build-up for another Californian, Ted Schroeder, of the University of Southern California. Schroeder not only beat Van Horn recently in a California tournament but eliminated Francis Kovacs, who ranks among the first 10 nationally.

Meets Kovacs in First Round.

Schroeder, who is not large, as tennis players go, captured the national junior championship at Culver last year. His rise since then has been rapid. And the luck of the draw has paired him against Kovacs in the first round, the latter being seeded No. 8.

The girl who may even seriously threaten Alice Marble, the defending champion in the clay courts event, is Helen Bernhard of New York, who is a student at the University of Southern California. Miss Bernhard won the national girls' championship last year, a title comparable to the one taken by Schroeder. She will be making her Chicago debut and is seeded No. 4. The New York girl, showing she is taking this tournament seriously, arrived yesterday and worked out in River Forest.

Mulloy-Prusoff a Threat.

Altho pairings have not yet been announced in the men's doubles, one of the favorite teams will be Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla., and Henry Prusoff, big Russian star from Seattle, Wash. Mulloy has been the runner-up in the nationals at River Forest for the last two years. He was beaten by Frankie Parker last year and lost to Bobby Riggs in 1938. Mulloy and Prusoff have won doubles titles in five of their last six tournaments.

Prusoff suffered a broken back two years ago and it was feared his tennis career was over. But he recovered fully and now is playing better than before he was hurt. He is ranked No. 7 in the singles division.

Illinois Race Officials Cited for Contempt

Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher yesterday gave Walter C. Peacock and Christopher J. FitzGerald of the Illinois Racing commission five days to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court for failure to comply with a mandamus directing them to issue a trainer's license to J. D. Mikel, well known horseman who was ruled off the turf several years ago.

Judge Fisher issued the original mandamus on April 7, 1939. The commission's attorney appealed, but the Appellate court did not take up the case until early in 1940. The higher court decided last February not to issue any ruling because it was too late for a 1939 license to be put into effect. The matter then returned to Judge Fisher, who reaffirmed his original mandamus on May 9. Failure of the commission to act prompted yesterday's contempt citation.

Lorin B. Moore, attorney for the commission, indicated that he would appeal from Fisher's mandamus of May 9. Peacock is one of the members of the racing commission and FitzGerald is the steward representing the commission at the tracks.

The litigation grew out of the commission's action in barring Mikel for life in 1935 because it was charged he entered a 3 year old, My Bane, in a 2 year old event at Lincoln Fields.

ZALE'S MANAGER CHARGES HOSTAK WITH A RUNOUT

2 Month Period Expires for Rematch.

Sam Pian, manager of Tony Zale, yesterday charged that Al Hostak has repudiated an agreement to defend his National Boxing association middleweight championship in a return bout in Seattle, Wash. Austin post, No. 2955, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will sponsor a show in Mills Stadium June 26, Commander Andrew Schultz said yesterday. Matchmaker Eddie Long is negotiating for several 10 round contests, one of which may bring together Chuck Crowell, California heavyweight, and Henry Wacker. Wacker last night signed to meet Eddie Simms of Cleveland in a 10 round headliner in White City outdoor arena June 20. . . . Mrs. Davey Day, wife of the Chicago lightweight, will be awarded an uncontested divorce decree in the court of Judge Oscar Nelson today.

Ken Overlin tonight will make his first start since beating Ceferino Garcia for the New York middleweight title. . . . Ken will box Ralph De John in Syracuse, N. Y. It will be a 10 round nontitle bout. . . . After meeting Buddy Scott in Miami June 24, Buddy Knox will seek a heavyweight contest with Altus Allen, recent conqueror of Johnny Paycheck, in Chicago. . . . Tony Motisi has established training quarters in C. Y. O. center for an eight round match in Marigold Gardens Monday. The card is headed by a 10 rounder between Eddie Lander and Phil Saell. . . . WAGE EARNERS TO GET $500,000 WPA LAW COURSE Can't Keep Up with Pace of New Deal.

So many laws have been passed by the New Deal affecting the interests of wage earners that a $517,346 project to explain them all was announced yesterday by the Work Projects administration. The educational program, to be known as the workers' service division, will begin Monday, according to Charles E. Miner, Illinois WPA administrator.

Teachers for the workers' classes will be especially trained to provide "a general background for necessary understanding of workers' special needs and problems." In addition to a paid staff the program will be conducted by advisory committees to be set up on a state and local basis, Miner said.

Members of the committees will be drawn from various groups including the national labor relations board, social security board, department of labor, settlements, unions, farm groups, and consumers' groups.

Face Many Problems.

Existing agencies, both private and governmental, are not set up to meet the need of collecting information concerning legislation directly affecting the interests of wage earners, Miner said. And interpreting this information to the worker is a big problem, he said.

"Many new needs for knowledge have developed in recent years because of the increase of legislation affecting wage earners," he asserted. "Often workers do not know their rights nor the facts about what has happened in their behalf.

"The American worker wants the answers to his questions and he is entitled to the right answers. There never was a government thru which all the people could get everything they wanted all the time."

Find Ignorance of Facts.

A survey last year of 5,629 students in classes of the WPA adult education project disclosed that 44 per cent had never heard of the wage and hour law, Miner said. Only 32 per cent had read about it and 17 per cent had had it explained to them.

Hundreds of workers who are eligible to compensation under the unemployment compensation law have not applied for it because they were unaware of its existence, and many other agencies need assistance in telling the workers about their functions, Miner said.

Foreign propagandists cannot advance far when American workers know the facts about democracy, and this led to creation of the project, Miner said. The state department of public welfare is sponsoring it.

INSIDE DAIRYMEN VOTE AGAINST PAY ARBITRATION

Members of the Inside Dairy Workers' union, meeting last night at 330 South Marshfield avenue, voted unanimously against submitting their wage differences with employers to arbitration. They instructed their officers to inform the dealers they would not take proposed pay cuts or make any settlement retroactive to June 1.

The 1,900 inside workers went on strike in May with the 4,500 members of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union. In a strike settlement the drivers agreed that, under certain conditions, they would submit disputed points to arbitration. The inside workers said they were not parties to such an agreement and were insistent on separate negotiations. The old contracts of both drivers and inside workers expired May 1.

Negotiations by the dealers and inside workers continued until yesterday and have not yet been officially broken off. The dealers and drivers have reached an impasse and are to meet today to discuss arrangements for the arbitration of practically all their differences.

NATIVE RULER OF RAJKOT DIES ON TIGER HUNT

BOMBAY, India, June 12 (AP).—Thakore Saheb Shri Dharmendrasinhji, 30 years old, native ruler of the Indian state of Rajkot, died of a heart attack today while hunting tigers in the Gir forest.

Educated in Highgate public school in Middlesex, England, and at Rajkumar college, Rajkot, Thakore Saheb was invested with full ruling powers over the 75,000 persons of Rajkot state in 1931 when he became 21 years old. His state has an area of 282 square miles.

On March 3, 1939, Mohandas K. Gandhi began a "fast unto death" against the ruler in an effort to force him to give the people "a voice in the government." The fast ended March 7 after the British viceroy, Lord Linlithgow, intervened and the young ruler agreed to the establishment of an advisory council.

HINT BARRETT MAY BE CLERK OF HIGH COURT

Springfield, Ill., June 12 [Special].—Politicians in the state capitol speculated tonight on the possibility that State Auditor Edward J. Barrett would be named clerk of the Illinois Supreme court upon the expiration of his term next January.

The talk arose after Barrett, without explanation, dismissed his election contest for renomination against John C. Martin—a suit he filed in Bloomington shortly after the April primary in which he claimed irregularities had wrongfully resulted in Martin's nomination by a majority of about 18,000 votes. Barrett said fraud in Cook and five downstate counties gave his Nash-Kelly-Horner opponent the nomination.

The Supreme court clerkship is available because of the death of Adam F. Bloch several weeks ago. At present it is being filled by Bloch's first assistant, Edward Cullinane.

Allows $1,213,374 Tax Claim on Cutten Estate

Probate Judge John F. O'Connell entered an order yesterday allowing the government's income tax claims of $1,213,374 for the years 1928 and 1929 against the estate of Arthur W. Cutten, one time millionaire grain broker. The estate, however, is estimated at only about $400,000. Practically all of it will be turned over to satisfy partly the government's claims, leaving nothing for claims of other creditors totaling $675,000. Mr. Cutten died in 1936.

CHAPLIN SUIT TIES UP JUNE 17 ISSUE OF LIFE

New York, June 12 (AP).—Life Magazine was restrained temporarily in Federal court today from publication of its next issue because of the alleged unauthorized use of a full-page picture of Charlie Chaplin as "The Dictator." The issue, dated June 17, normally would come out tomorrow.

The action was brought by Chaplin and the Charles Chaplin Film corporation, who also filed suit for $1,000,000 in damages and asked a permanent injunction against Time, Inc., and four officers of the Time and Life group.

In his complaint, Chaplin asserted that he had spent $1,000,000 on the film, "The Dictator," and that it was not yet completed. Any representation by Life would cause irreparable damage and destroy the value of the picture, it continued. Chaplin charged that the picture magazine obtained negatives without permission for use in its already prepared June 17 issue.

Attorneys for Life pointed out that 1,600,000 copies already were in the hands of news dealers and it was stipulated that the injunction would not apply to these. An additional 1,200,000 copies still in the publisher's hands will have to be revised before distribution.

PRESENT STAGE STAR ON W-G-N SHOW TOMORROW

Ruth Chatterton, long a favorite of the stage and screen, will make a guest appearance on the Fifth Row Center program over W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system from 7 to 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. Miss Chatterton will play the leading rôle in "Beautiful Lady," a story about a mother who fought against blind justice.

Ruth Chatterton.

Miss Chatterton will be supported by Francis X. Bushman, star of the movies' silent era, now leading man in Chicago radio programs, and Marvin Mueller, Ed Prentiss and Cleveland Towne.

Chicagoans last saw Miss Chatterton in October when she appeared in "Tonight We Dance." The musical setting for "Beautiful Lady" will be furnished by the W-G-N Dance orchestra under the baton of Harold Stokes.

The Better Way to Correct Constipation

One way to treat constipation is to endure it first and "cure" it afterward. The other way is to avoid having it by getting at its cause. So why not save yourself those dull headachy days, plus the inevitable trips to the medicine chest, if you can do it by a simple common-sense "ounce of prevention"?

If your trouble, like that of millions, is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, "the better way" is to eat Kellogg's All-Bran. This crunchy, toasted, ready-to-eat cereal has just the "bulk" you need. If you eat it regularly—and drink plenty of water—you can not only get regular but keep regular, day after day and month after month! All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

SIMPLER HOLDING COMPANY RULES PLANNED BY SEC

Healy Balks Elimination of Public Hearings.

Washington, D. C., June 12 [Special].—Despite a controversy which has arisen among members of the Securities and Exchange commission regarding the desirability of the procedure, the commission within a few days will issue a sample of a proposed rule to eliminate many of the hearings now held under the holding company act.

Utility industry executives will be asked their opinion of the simplification proposal.

Commissioner Robert E. Healy has filed a brief with his colleagues opposing the plan, which was advanced by the SEC public utilities division. This was regarded as indicative of further differences between the division and the commissioner, who was formerly its administrative head under the sponsorship system which has been largely abandoned as a consequence of previous controversies.

Expect Favorable Vote.

However, Healy is expected to be in a minority when adoption of the proposed rule comes to a vote of commissioners. Chairman Jerome N. Frank has indicated his desire for simplification of holding company act administration.

The proposed rule would eliminate hearings on applications under sections of the law which relate to proposed security offerings and the sale of property. In general, the change would mean that hearings would be mandatory only on exemption and reorganization applications.

Under present procedure, hearings are called on virtually all applications and a judicial determination of the issues made. The utilities division terms this needlessly burdensome on the SEC and the industry.

Similar to Other Rule.

The procedure proposed would be similar to that relating to the filing of registration statements under the securities act. The statements are permitted to become effective automatically in 20 days if the commission finds no fault with them and does not call a hearing.

In the case of holding company act declarations, however, the utilities division probably would ask for a 30-day waiting period.

Healy has taken the position that the holding company act, unlike the securities act, imposes an obligation on the commission to make a specific finding on all applications.

Proponents of the simplification device observed that even under the controversial rule relating to arms' length bargaining, now under study for revision, the commission does not mandatorily call hearings to decide if there is the required bargaining relationship between issuers and underwriters.

ALIEN INSURANCE.

I hold an insurance policy issued by a foreign company whose home office is in a country now involved in the war. Do you think my policy is safe?—D. H.

Answer: Branches of foreign insurance companies in the United States are sound financially, according to a recent report by Louis H. Pink, New York state superintendent of insurance. Pink's department supervises 78 of the 92 alien insurance companies operating in this country.

American holders of foreign insurance have been safeguarded by state laws requiring deposit with regulatory bodies in this country of trust funds sufficient to cover the obligations of these companies in the United States. None of the funds can be withdrawn without the consent of the state authorities. The American branches of the foreign insurance companies are also subject to the same supervision as are domestic companies.

Alien insurance companies have been required since 1849 to maintain funds in this country for the benefit of American policyholders. Because of state supervision and the stability of the branches in the United States, there have been few losses to holders of foreign insurance in this country at any time and none in the last 25 years.

American branches of foreign insurance companies write about 12½ per cent of the fire and marine insurance in the United States, 2½ per cent of life and casualty and about 4½ per cent of the fraternal policies. About one-half of the alien insurance companies in this country are Britsh and one-eighth are Canadian.

DIRECTORS' DISCRETION.

Do directors of corporations have to pay dividends on preferred and common stocks if there are sufficient earnings?—G. B.

Answer: In most states, directors are permitted to declare or omit dividends at their discretion, if their action is taken in good faith and in absence of fraud. Directors may decide to omit a dividend to build up working capital or otherwise retain funds in their company. A few states require dividend payments from current earnings. Most states restrict the dividend voting power of directors to payments from accumulated or realized profits, with certain exceptions.

Altho directors may omit dividends on preferred stocks, even if earned, holders of such stocks on which dividends are cumulative are entitled to receive at some future time the unpaid dividends. The right of holders of noncumulative preferred stocks to unpaid dividends are not clearly defined and vary with court decisions in different cases.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

A decrease in receipts of hogs bolstered the early market at the stockyards yesterday. However, some of the first gains were lost as buying lagged near the close. Light pork loins dropped to $13 a hundred pounds in the wholesale market, lowest since April 5. Most hogs weighing over 180 pounds rose 10 to 20 cents at the start of trading. Lights and underweights were slow and barely steady all day.

Both the top and average for the session moved up 10 cents, to $5.40 and $5.10 a hundred pounds, respectively.

Weakness prevailed in the cattle market. Most steers and yearlings slumped 15 to 25 cents. Beef cows and heifers were slow and weak. Calves held steady.

STEEL MILL RATE BOOSTED TO 85½; CHICAGO HITS 92

Three Districts Operate at Virtual Capacity.

Steel plant operations are now being carried on at 85½ per cent of the industry's theoretical capacity—a gain of 5 points over last week—Iron Age estimated yesterday. The American Iron and Steel Institute estimated on Monday that the industry was operating at 84.6 per cent.

Three producing districts—Detroit, Buffalo, and Wheeling-Weirton—are turning out steel ingots at virtual capacity, it was stated, and the Chicago district—second largest in the country—is reported as operating at 92 per cent. Gains have been made in all other districts.

Possible Shortages Seen.

A substantial part of the steel now being produced is that which was ordered during the period of reduced prices which extended for a short period before the German invasion of the Netherlands.

Iron Age predicted that if any shortage in steel develops it will arise probably first in semi-finished steel, especially forging billets, hot rolled bars, and alloy steels of all types. The aviation industry would be one of the largest consumers of the alloy steels.

The Anglo-French purchasing board in New York is said to have placed orders recently for more than 600,000 tons of steel. The British are continuing to take the semi-finished steel, but the French now must take a much larger proportion in finished steels because of German control over a large section of the French steel producing area.

Canada Expected to Buy.

Canada is expected to take more steel in this country, particularly heavy armor plate to be used on tanks.

Other possible immediate sources for steel orders are the automobile industry, in preparation for the 1941 model season, and the railroads, which soon must undertake repairs and buy new equipment to handle the increased volume of business arising from rearmament.

Iron Age reported a gain of .59 to $19.17 a ton, compared to the high of $22.50 last October.

Engineers' Group Pledges President Aid on Defense

The Western Society of Engineers announced yesterday that it has offered its coöperation to President Roosevelt in technical and personnel problems arising under the new military and naval defense programs. The society was founded in 1869 and is the largest professional engineering group in the middle west.

LARGER OUTPUT URGED TO MEET WAR CHALLENGE

Macauley Asks Curb on Burocracy.

Detroit, Mich., June 12 (AP).—Alvan Macauley, president of the Automobile Manufacturers' association, said today that "if this nation is to be able to bear the taxes that will be required for the necessary defense program, normal production for sale to the domestic market must go forward at the largest possible rate."

C. E. Wilson certain industry will meet demands.

Addressing the annual meeting of the association here Macauley, who is also board chairman of the Packard Motor Car company, said:

"While we contribute what is needed to equip our defense establishment, we can do most to maintain the strength of this country by keeping up our normal business. Pay rolls and employment must be created not only in factory cities but everywhere that cars and trucks are sold and used."

Prepared for Challenge.

The motor industry, Macauley said, is prepared to meet the challenge presented to private management by "emergency service to external defense" and the "domestic defense of national prosperity."

"The entire armament program, at present in the making, drawing upon the capacity of scores of industries and spread over more than one year," Macauley said, "does not much exceed one normal year's output of the automotive industries."

"The motor industry," he went on, "cannot create miracles overnight, nor turn out new products without preparation. It wants only the opportunity to prove again that in the competitive process, free from burocratic rule, is has learned how to match and exceed the organizing ability and productive capacity of state controled industry anywhere."

Cites Hampering Factors.

"We have to recognize that our capacity to produce, by comparison with that of certain foreign nations, is affected by the short working hours in this country. The fullest, patriotic coöperation of labor will be required for plant efficiency. There is every reason now, after the experiences of the last few years, for understanding and coöperating in the plant. The government bears large responsibilities in this field."

C. E. Wilson, acting president of General Motors corporation and chairman of the association's manufacturers' committee, directed attention to the motor industry's comparative freedom from labor difficulties in 1940 as a "hopeful augury for the future."

He expressed confidence in the ability of the industry to meet all demands made upon its facilities without serious dislocation of normal automobile production.

ELECTRIC SHAVER A REFINED SHEEP CLIPPER—JUDGE

San Francisco, Cal., June 12 (AP).—The Schick company today lost an appeal to enjoin two rival electric shaver manufacturers on the ground of patent infringements.

One of the three opinions handed down by the 9th United States Circuit Court of Appeals expressed belief that the shavers were merely a modification of the beard clippers of bygone years. The ruling reversed a Los Angeles District court decision.

In the majority opinion, Judge Clifton Mathews found the Schick patents invalid in part and held that the competing devices were not actually infringements. Judge William Healy dissented.

The successful litigants were Dalmo Manufacturing company and the Motoshaver company of San Francisco.

In several pages of nostalgic reminiscence, Judge William Denman held that electric razors were "not shavers at all" but refinements of the sheep clipper or "beard trimmer of 50 years ago."

POUND DECLINES; BRITISH SEEK TO END 'FREE' TRADE

The British pound weakened in the foreign exchange market yesterday as British banking authorities pushed negotiations with New York banks to discontinue the "free" market in British money within three weeks. The pound closed 2½ cents lower at $3.75½, compared with the official selling price of $4.03½. It had dropped as much as 5 cents during the day.

In their efforts to tighten restrictions on foreign exchange, British officials have asked American banks to adopt the Bank of England fixed buying and selling rates for the pound. If the American banks agreed, the free trade in the pound would be abolished.

Officials of the Bank of England met Tuesday with London representatives of large New York banks. The foreign exchange committee representing the various banks yesterday studied the cable proposals of the Bank of England.

The Canadian dollar rose 1¾ cents to 80¼ cents in terms of American currency.

Tin Prices Rise as Rubber Cuts Recent Gains

Prices of Straits tin futures bounded forward again yesterday but rubber, another of the prime war favorites, was a major holdout in the advance of commodities prices. Tin futures rose as much as ¾ cent a pound on sales totaling 291,000 pounds.

Other metal futures continued firm as demand strengthened in the cash markets. Copper sales reached 37,436,000 pounds in the domestic cash market on Tuesday, almost equaling the near record week-end turnover.

Copper for future delivery closed 0.02 to 0.05 cent higher. Stocks of refined copper in the United States increased 9,544 tons during May to 178,664 at the end of the month, the Copper institute reported.

Production Increases.

Output rose to 86,029 tons from 80,964 in April. An increase in total deliveries to 76,485 tons from 71,639 was accounted for mostly by the jump in export shipments to 7,018 tons from 2,974 in April.

Lead and zinc futures closed unchanged, sales of lead aggregating 60,000 pounds and of zinc, 180,000 pounds.

Rubber futures closed 0.35 to 0.80 cent lower. Smoked ribbed rubber in the cash market declined to 22.60 cents after rising to within ¾ cent of the year's high on Tuesday. Raw silk futures surged forward 1 to 10½ cents a pound on an increased turnover.

Hide Futures Ahead.

Speculative buying stimulated by strength in securities boosted raw hide futures 0.37 to 0.43 cent a pound. Sales aggregated 9,880,000 pounds.

Moderate gains were recorded by sugar, cocoa, bleachable cottonseed oil and coffee futures. The world sugar contracts rose 0.05 to 0.065 cent and the domestic futures 0.01 to 0.02 cent a pound. Bleachable cottonseed oil was up 0.09 to 0.14 cent, Santos coffee, 0.01 to 0.02 cent and cocoa futures 0.01 cent.

NEW YORK WRITES FINAL CHAPTER IN TRANSIT MERGER

New York, June 12 [Special].—The final chapter in the long story of New York City Transit unification was written at city hall today with elaborate ceremonies and the exchange of $151,000,000 in city bonds for an equal amount of Interborough Rapid Transit and Manhattan Elevated bonds. No one got a penny in cash.

The lines change hands at midnight, and John H. Delaney, chairman of the board of transportation, will operate them for the city. He was reappointed today for a six year term at a $20,000 a year salary by Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia.

The mayor said the subway problem had been a football which was kicked all over and which no one wanted to carry for long.

Ferro-Manganese Price Is Marked Up $20 a Ton

New York, June 12 [Special].—The price of ferro-manganese, used in steel making, was advanced $20 a ton for third quarter delivery by a leading producer today. Other ferro-alloys will be advanced to correspond, it was understood. The current quotation of 80 per cent ferro-manganese is $100 a ton F. O. B. Atlantic ports. The new price will be $120 a ton.

PRICE OF FREEDOM HIGH, BUT WORTH IT, SAYS RADIO MAKER

The allies are suffering because they have become the type of democracies which have been so intent upon the privileges of democracy that they have forgotten or overlooked the responsibilities, James S. Knowlson, president and chairman of the board of Stewart-Warner corporation, said yesterday.

James S. Knowlson.

"We have to pay the price for national freedom, business freedom, or personal freedom," he asserted. "The price is high, but worth it."

"First, we must be eternally watchful and conscious of the rights of others—careful that our individual actions shall not trespass upon others. Second, we must demonstrate that we can handle our own affairs without appealing for outside assistance. In the broader sense, this simply means we mind our own business, and let others mind their."

AIRPLANE ROUTE TO NEW ZEALAND IS AUTHORIZED

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP).—The civil aeronautics authority today authorized Pan American Airways to establish a new line between San Francisco and Auckland, New Zealand, via Los Angeles, Honolulu, Canton Island, and Noumea in New Caledonia.

The authority stipulated that no local traffic could be carried between points in the United States.

The authority said an aerial trade route between San Francisco and Auckland would have an important effect on commercial relations between the United States and Australasia.

Present steamer connections require 17 days and are limited to one round trip a month. Air service will shorten the time of transit to 4½ days. It will be started on the basis of one round trip each fortnight.

Claim Britain, Mexico Near Accord on Oil

MEXICO CITY, June 12 (AP).—Unconfirmed reports were circulated in government and banking circles today that Mexico and Great Britain were about to arrive at a settlement of the oil controversy growing out of the expropriation of foreign properties in 1938.

A responsible financial official of the government declared the British negotiations were secret but that a formula was sought which would result in reëstablishment of diplomatic relations with Britain. It was said this would be on the basis of British recognition of the justice of the expropriation and a pledge that England would make no official demand that the properties be returned.

May Sell Oil to Allies.

It was also understood that Mexico would agree to make generous indemnification of the Royal Dutch Shell holdings and to supply oil to meet allied war needs on favorable terms.

British Consul General Rees, however, asserted he knew nothing of such negotiations.

[Oil circles in New York said that they regarded efforts by Mexico to reach an agreement with England, and supply oil to the allies, was extremely likely, since Italy, now blockaded, has been one of Mexico's chief oil customers.]

Peso Exchange at Standstill.

The rumors of a settlement brought foreign exchange dealings almost to a standstill, as financial circles believed an agreement would result in a jump in the value of the Mexican peso in terms of the dollar. Yesterday it improved from a quotation of close to six pesos to the dollar to only five, and today the dollar was quoted here at between 5.15 and 5.20 pesos.

The Bank of Mexico did not trade in dollars this morning. The foreign exchange director said the bank was leaving the market free to "permit the dollar to reach a natural level."

A leading foreign exchange operator, however, said he "knew absolutely" that the Bank of Mexico was not trading because it had received word from London that settlement of the oil controversy had been effected.

STOCKS ACHIEVE BIGGEST GAIN IN LAST 6 MONTHS

Arms Issues Spurt 4 to 9 Points.

New York, June 12 (AP).—Stocks climbed briskly away from their recent lows today in a market which showed hope for the defense of Paris and confidence in a brighter American industrial outlook.

Some of the leading steels, chemicals, motors, and aircrafts—directly affected by the national rearmament program—gained 4 to 9 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 selected stocks jumped 1.8 points—the largest one day advance since last Sept. 5—to 40.2. Turnover totaled 1,357,190 shares, the largest single session since May 23 and comparing with 769,890 yesterday.

See Sweeping Benefits.

Wall street analysts said the buying movement was closely tied to a belief that most sectors of industry would reap benefits from the vastly increased machine production necessary to equip the United States for military preparedness.

Commentators asserted that both Great Britain and France were forced to increase purchases here and that their cash balances in the United States were sufficient to pay for their probable requirements for the next 12 months.

Brokers said many orders which, during the forenoon, arrived so fast that the ticker fell behind dealings, were cash purchases.

An unusual feature was the way shares held the peaks. The last three hours' trading was desultory, but prices held close to their best.

Steel Issues Advance.

Gains of 3 or more points were registered among these leaders: United States Steel, Bethlehem, Inland Steel, Chrysler, United States Rubber preferred, Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck, Case, Douglas, Wright Aeronautical, du Pont, Allied Chemical, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, Johns-Manville, American Telephone, and American Woolen.

Chief advancers in the curb included Aluminum of America, American Export Lines, Heyden Chemical, Colts Firearms, Jones & Laughlin Steel, and Standard Oil of Ohio.

Freeman Is Named Adviser of Chicago Stock Exchange

Charles Y. Freeman, chairman of the board of the Commonwealth Edison company, yesterday accepted appointment as an adviser to the board of governors of the Chicago Stock exchange. He succeeds Newton P. Frye, president of the Central Republic company, who has served during the last year.

Charles Y. Freeman.

Three others accepted reappointments as advisers, Arthur M. Betts, chairman of the stock exchange board, announced. They are Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the board and president of Montgomery Ward & Co.; Sheldon Clark, vice president of the Consolidated Oil company, and Herman Waldeck, president of the Chicago Clearing House association and executive vice president of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company. All appointments were confirmed by the board of governors yesterday at the annual organization meeting.

Reëlect Smith President.

Kenneth L. Smith was reëlected president of the exchange. Charles T. Atkinson, who was secretary of the exchange from 1909 to 1931, was reappointed secretary emeritus, and Jess Halsted again was named counsel.

Other officers reappointed were Sidney L. Parry, vice president; C. Russell Bergherm, assistant vice president; Walter R. Hawes, secretary; Martin E. Nelson, treasurer, and Charles F. Duvall and Carl E. Ogren, assistant secretaries.

Name Standing Committees.

Floor procedure—Kenneth S. Beall, William W. Haerther, Harry M. Payne, Charles C. Renshaw, Alfred E. Turner, John E. Wheeler, and Hugh H. Wilson.

Ratify Existing Policies.

The new board of governors ratified the existing policies of the exchange in relation to listings, specialists, and odd lot dealers.

The practice of naming advisers to the exchange board from outside the membership ranks was started three years ago. Chairman Betts has said that the experiment has proved beneficial.

APRIL EXPORTS TO JAPAN FALL UNDER '39 MARK

Treaty Abrogation Blamed for Loss.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Coincident with growing demands for improving relations with Japan, the department of commerce tonight released figures showing a drop in trade with that nation in April.

The commercial treaty of 1911 between the United States and Japan was abrogated last Jan. 26, and since then, particularly with the attention of the United States drawn to Europe, there has been increasing sentiment for a new commercial and political treaty with Japan which would leave the Pacific clear of misunderstanding.

Japan was the third best customer of the United States in 1939 and was the second largest supplier of goods to this country but since abrogation of the treaty trade has fallen off sharply. Exports to Japan last year amounted to $231,405,000 and our imports totaled $161,082,000.

List Recent Figures.

	Exports.	Imports.
December, 1939	$27,556,000	$18,915,000
January, 1940	28,247,000	22,196,000
February	15,193,000	7,998,000
March	17,800,000	9,335,000
April	15,271,000	8,760,000

Both exports and imports for the first four months of this year were above the corresponding period of last year, but this was due principally to sharp increases in trade during January before the treaty expired. Higher commodity prices contributed to the gain.

The export total for the first four months was $77,640,000, compared with $74,940,000 a year earlier. April exports of $15,721,000 compared with $16,147,000 a year earlier. In January exports of $28,247,000 compared with $17,692,000 in January, 1938, this gain more than making up for losses in the months following abrogation of the treaty.

Total Up in Four Months.

Imports from Japan in the first four months amounted to $48,289,000, against $39,503,000 a year ago. April imports of $8,760,000 compared with $10,607,000 last year. In January imports of $22,196,000 compared with

FARMERS PAID LESS FOR MILK SOLD DURING MAY; STRIKE A FACTOR

Milk producers in the 70 mile Chicago milk marketing zone will receive a "blended" price of $1.46 per hundred pounds of milk sold during May, A. W. Colebank, acting federal milk market administrator, announced yesterday. Producers received $1.60 a hundred pounds for April, $1.62 for March, and $1.70 for February deliveries.

The decline, Colebank said, was at least partially the result of smaller consumption of class A milk during the milk strikes. Other causes he listed were lower butter and cheese prices and increased production of milk resulting in a larger proportion being sold as class three milk for miscellaneous uses. The price is a "blend" of those paid for milk for different forms of consumption.

REPUBLIC STEEL HOLDINGS RAISED BY CLIFFS CORP.

Cleveland, O., June 12 (AP).—Cliffs corporation has increased its holdings of Republic Steel corporation stock by acquiring at public auction a block of 16,449 common shares for $261,127, or 15⅞ a share—the price at the close of the New York Stock exchange yesterday.

The purchaser had held the shares as collateral on a note made 10 years ago by Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier who later encountered financial reverses.

Cliffs corporation held 160,449 shares of Republic common last Dec. 31. Its subsidiary, Cleveland-Cliffs, held 340.867 shares. The combined holdings total more than 8 per cent of Republic's $5,833,065 outstanding common shares. Cliffs corporation and its subsidiary hold about 6 per cent of Youngstown Sheet and Tube common.

The World's Meat Market

CHICAGO is the greatest meat market in the world. Live stock from twenty-seven states is received here and after passing through the great packing plants is shipped as beef, mutton, ham and other meat products to all quarters of the globe. More often than not the "Roast Beef of Old England" comes from Chicago. From Shanghai to Rio Janiero, the civilized world dines on Chicago meat.

An average of two and a half million dollars worth of live stock is sold each day within the five hundred acres on the south side covered by the stock yards. The output of the Chicago yards alone could supply the entire population of the twenty-five largest cities in the United States. If the employees of this industry were grouped in one community they would form a city equal in size to Minneapolis, yet we rarely appreciate the proportions of this enterprise or its importance to this city and the meat consumers of the world.

Every Chicagoan can look to the Union Stock Yards as an institution which has contributed liberally to the city's greatness.

Chicago, the Wonder City—The commercial progress of Chicago is one of the marvels of the century. In common with other financial institutions, the growth of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank is largely dependent on the growth of Chicago. And the growth of Chicago rests on the faith and vision of its citizens. In a series of advertisements, of which this is the Fourth, we are trying to set forth a few of the achievements of this great city. Chicago will continue to contribute to the benefit of its citizens in proportion to their faith in its future.

The 20 years since this advertisement was first published have witnessed an increase in the scope of Chicago's live stock and meat packing industry. It is not only the greatest live stock and meat market in the world but it now contributes to the nation's medicine cabinet as well. More than 100 health-giving pharmaceuticals have been developed from the by-products of the industry.

M'CARTHY TERMS 'FLOOR' REMOVAL NORMAL ACTION

Says Reason for Adoption Has Now Passed.

John G. McCarthy, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, said yesterday that the removal of the "floors" under grain futures prices is not expected to cause any violent reaction on the exchange.

John G. McCarthy.

He and two other officials of the exchange had returned from a conference in Washington, D. C., with department of agriculture officials. Removal of the minimums was voted by the exchange's board of directors on Tuesday without consulting Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and is effective at the close of trading this afternoon.

Says Emergency Has Passed.

"The minimums were set at Mr. Wallace's request," McCarthy said, "to cope with an emergency situation. In our opinion that emergency has passed—so we removed the minimums.

"We did not confer with Mr. Wallace before deciding to remove them. When they were established he told us we could remove them when we saw fit.

"Trading limits on a daily basis will not be changed and the Board of Trade will operate exactly the same as it did before May 19."

Other Exchanges Follow.

The minimums were put into effect on the board of trade and the other exchanges on May 20 after prices had dropped sharply in the preceding week. The request for the action was made by Secretary Wallace.

Other exchanges, including Winnipeg, have voted removal of the established minimums following the Board of Trade's action.

McCarthy said that Secretary Wallace did not confer with Board of Trade officials on their last trip to Washington. He said the general commodity situation was discussed and that the price floor removal was "hardly mentioned."

WHEAT UNDER PRESSURE

Wheat futures yesterday opened about ½ a cent above Tuesday's close but heavy selling attributed to recent large purchasers drove prices steadily downward to close at the bottom, 1 to 1⅛ cents lower. Corn ranged within limits of a cent to close about ¼ cent lower.

The July and September deliveries of rye dropped about 1½ cents to close at the established minimums while oats closed unchanged to ⅛ a cent lower.

Early buying of wheat futures by traders was said to represent milling interests. It was believed the purchases represented further hedge lifting on flour sales to the government relief agencies. There were rumors of more government purchases to be made late this week.

Contributing to weakness in wheat were favorable weather and crop reports and news of allied military reverses.

More normal trading operations may be expected after the minimums on grain futures are discontinued, some traders said. They predicted this would be most noticeable in the soy bean pit since cash beans have been selling from 8 to 10 cents below the July futures minimum.

SLOAN DECLARES TIME IS BIGGEST DEFENSE FACTOR

Warns Armament Orders Can't Be Met Overnight.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr.

As America rushes to rearm for the national defense, it cannot expect overnight production of fleets of airplanes, masses of tanks, and the other instruments of mechanized warfare, Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board of the General Motors corporation, world's largest automobile manufacturer, indicated yesterday in a statement accompanying dividend checks to stockholders.

"It must be recognized that the time factor is important," he said. "In other words, there is a definite time distance between money, men, and materials—even with the fabricating plants available—and the final orders involving the determination of design.

Plane Order Backlog Large.

"Too often we fail to appreciate that fact. This is particularly true as regards the highly technical needs of any preparedness program.

"The time element is of particular importance in aircraft production because of the fact that war demands have already reached the point where production, based upon present capacity, is contracted for well into the future.

"Further, it will require the most intensive effort on the part of that industry to meet its delivery obligations."

Sloan said it is likely that the present bitter hostilities likely will stimulate the placing of orders for war supplies with a much wider range of industries than originally contemplated.

Warns of Adverse Effects.

Altho the immediate effect of war orders will be to speed up industrial production, with an accompanying lift in economic activity, the long range economic picture will be affected adversely, he continued.

"The greater the intensity with which instruments of war are produced," he continued, "and the greater the destruction that results from their use, the poorer the nations involved become and the greater the price that ultimately must be paid. These times are of great uncertainty and danger. They should be recognized as such."

Company's Business Gaining.

Commenting on the business of the General Motors corporation, Sloan said buying of its products continues to show sizable gains over last year and the company's competitive position continues to be strong. It is too early to tell what the results from the intensification of the war will be, he stated.

Sloan's statement accompanied checks for dividends paid at the rate of $1 a share. The total amount involved in the disbursement is $43,164,376.

JUNE 1 STORAGE SUPPLY OF LARD IS ALL-TIME HIGH

Cold storage holdings of lard in the United States on June 1 were the largest on record, the department of agriculture reported yesterday. The total, at 283,844,000 pounds, compared with 266,052,000 pounds May 1 and with the previous all-time record of 268,777,000 April 1.

With the exception of the month of April, there has been a steady and rapid increase in lard stocks since last November, when holdings totaled 68,738,000 pounds. A year ago the June 1 holdings were 139,336,000 pounds. The June 1 average for the last five years is 129,407,000.

Comparisons of storage meat and lard stocks with previous years follow. Figures in thousands of pounds, last three ciphers omitted]:

WORK STABILITY TO BE STUDIED AT RETAIL MEETING

Work stability will be one of the important subjects that will be discussed at the 1940 midyear convention of the National Retail Dry Goods association, which will open at the Palmer House Monday, it was announced yesterday. The meeting will extend thru Thursday.

Definite aid for stores seeking methods to join the work stabilization movement is to be offered at the Wednesday session. One suggested means to offset fluctuations in employment is to have more flexible operating staffs. P. F. Goody of the personnel department of Marshall Field & Co. will give a history of the methods used by his organization to achieve work stability.

Associated Gas Trustees Ordered to List Creditors

New York, June 12 [Special].—Trustees of the Associated Gas & Electric corporation were directed today by Federal Judge Vincent L. Leibell to file lists of the corporation's stockholders and creditors. Reorganization proceedings have been under way since Jan. 10. The court directed that lists of the holders of debentures and bonds be impounded with inspection of the lists to be permitted only by specific order of Judge Leibell.

Japan Buys Less

Abrogation of Treaty Blamed for Decline.

$11,285,000 in January, 1939, reflecting the rush to get under the deadline on expiration of the treaty. The January gain again surpassed the trade losses of succeeding months.

The drop in exports during April was chiefly in raw cotton, gasoline, scrap iron and steel, and metal working machinery. We imported far less raw silk in the first four months of 1940, but the value was higher because of an advance in prices. Imports of raw silk amounted to 8,555,000 pounds valued at $30,336,000, against 13,688,000 pounds valued at $25,397,000 a year ago.

Exports to China Rise.

Exports to China in the first four months of 1940 totaled $30,355,000, against $15,941,000 a year ago, raw cotton alone increasing from $2,589,000 to $10,059,000. Exports of petroleum products and aircraft and parts also rose. However, a large part of Chinese purchases were made with American money as China has received loans of 45 million dollars from the Export-Import bank.

Imports from China in the first four months totaled $26,757,000, an increase of slightly less than $10,000,000 over the corresponding 1939 period, with tung oil and raw silk accounting for most of the gain.

INSURANCE FIRM RENTS SPACE IN 1 LA SALLE BLDG.

One of the largest leases negotiated on La Salle street in recent years was closed yesterday. Fred S. James & Co., national insurance brokerage concern, rented the second or banking floor of the One La Salle Street building, which has been vacant since the structure was erected. This space originally was designed to accommodate a bank on the second floor and was constructed with a two story ceiling height.

It will be rebuilt into two floors. All of the second and part of the new third floor will be occupied by the insurance company.

According to K. M. Vitzthum & Co., architects, the new premises will be air conditioned and a modern lighting system installed. Milton S. Carstens is an associate architect. Work is to start at once with the expectation that the lessees will move from their present quarters in the Insurance Exchange building next September.

The time and terms of the lease were not disclosed.

PHONE COMPANY WILL ENLARGE THIRD EXCHANGE

Improvements in the Rogers Park telephone exchange to cost $3,900,000 were announced yesterday by the Illinois Bell Telephone company. Most of the amount will be spent on new equipment.

Included will be a two story addition to the west of the present building at 1622 Pratt boulevard. The one story section at the north end of the company's property will have second, third, and fourth floors added. The new construction will also provide for an ultimate six story height.

This expenditure will bring to a total of $13,400,000 the amount which Illinois Bell is spending on three major Chicago projects. An addition to its Oakland-Lafayette exchange is costing $6,500,000 and improvements at the South Chicago exchange will cost $3,000,000.

BOND LIST FINDS STRENGTH FOR 1 TO 6 POINT GAIN

New York, June 12 (AP).—The bond market freed itself from war pessimism today in a vigorous advance that carried many liens up 1 to around 6 points.

A few foreign issues were held back by lack of support. As a group, however, they held fairly well in view of war events.

United States government obligations scored their sharpest rise in many weeks. Treasury 2¾s of '60-'65 and '56-'59 each climbed about 1¼ points, and the 2⅞s of '55-'60 added 1 1-32. Other treasuries improved ⅛ to ⅞ of a point.

Shareholders Approve Congress Cigar Purchase

ILLINOIS GRAIN CROP PROSPECTS NEARLY NORMAL

Altho Illinois grain crops are somewhat backward, early prospects are at or above normal and similar conditions exist thru most of the grain belt, according to the Illinois and federal departments of agriculture yesterday.

A. J. Surratt reports Illinois crop prospects good.

Moderate to heavy rains fell in about half of the corn and wheat producing regions during the week ended June 11, the United States weather bureau reported. Temperatures varied from excesses in the southern part to below normal in the northern great plains.

Corn planting in Illinois was about 85 per cent completed on May 25, but the work has been delayed somewhat since then because of rains. Some replanting has been necessary, the reports said, because of damage by corn-seed maggots and beetles. Soy bean seeding is about 80 per cent completed.

Wheat Above Average.

A. J. Surratt, Illinois statistician for the agriculture department, said winter wheat development is a few days slower than usual, but prospects are for a better than average crop.

Soil moisture is sufficient to carry winter crops to maturity but timely rains will be necessary to maintain present prospects for other grains, he said.

Harvesting of winter wheat is under way in the southwest and heading has progressed practically to the Canadian border. Spring wheat is in excellent condition, the report stated.
